Behind the hills the splendid tapestry glowed and flamed, sending far messages of light to the grey East where lay these, a crooning itself to sleep. Bare boughs dripped rain upon the sodden earth where the dead leaves had so long been hidden by the snow. The thousand sounds and scents of Spring at last had waked the world. The man who stood near the edge of the cliff quite alone and carefully feeling the ground before him with his cane had chosen to face the valley and dream of the glory that perchance trailed down in living light from some vast loom of God's. His massive head was thrown back as though he listened with a secret sense for music denied to those who see. Joyful Memories. He took off his hat and stray gleams came through the deepening shadows to rest like an aureole upon his silvered hair. Remembered sunsets from beyond the darkness of more than twenty years came back to him with divine beauty and diviner joy Mnemosyne that guardian angel of the soul brought from her treasure house gifts of laughter and tears the laughter sweet with singing and the bitterness of the tears eternally lost in the Water of Forgetfulness Slowly the light died Dusk came upon the valley and crept softly to the hills Mist drifted in from the sleeping sea and the hush of night brooded over the river as it murmured through the plain A single star uplifted its exquisite lamp against the afterglow near the veiled ivory of the crescent moon Sighing the man turned away Perhaps he thought whimsically as he went cautiously down the path searching out every step of the way there was no sunset at all The road was clear until he came to a fallen tree over which he stepped easily The new softness of the soil had for him its own deep meaning of resurrection He felt it in the swelling buds of the branches that sometimes swayed before him and found it in the scent of the cedar as he crushed a bit of it in his hand Easily yet carefully he went around the base of the hill to the street where his house was the first upon the right hand side The gate creaked on its hinges and he went quickly up the walk passing the grey tangle of last Summer's garden where the marigolds had died and the larkspur fallen asleep
