Painting Nature for the Nation Rosina Buckland, 2012-12-10 In Painting Nature for the Nation Taki Katei and the Challenges to Sinophile Culture in Meiji Japan Rosina Buckland offers an account of the career of the painter Taki Katei 1830 1901 Drawing on a large body of previously unpublished paintings collaborative works and book illustrations by this highly successful yet neglected figure Buckland traces how Katei transformed his art and practice based in modes derived from China in order to fulfil the needs of the modern nation state at large scale exhibitions and at the imperial court She provides a rare examination of the vibrant world of Chinese inspired culture during the 1880s and the hostility which it faced in the following decade The Nation, 1893

Songs of the Rising Nation Ellen Forrester, Arthur M. Forrester, 1869 Study of Prehistoric Aesthetic Consciousness of the Chinese Nation Wangheng Chen, 2025-07-29 This book explores how prehistoric aesthetic consciousness of the Chinese nation evolved from animality and barbarism how it was epitomized in prehistoric artifacts and most importantly how this aesthetic consciousness has exerted an ever lasting influence upon the Chinese mind and culture by examining prehistoric archaeological discoveries particularly pottery objects jade ware and rock paintings from prehistoric cultures and by studying ancient Chinese historical and literary documents This is the first academic effort to trace the very beginning of the aesthetic consciousness of the Chinese nation back to prehistoric times Its strength lies in the comprehensive and detailed examination of all the major prehistoric cultures and artifacts as well as in its insights into the relationship between prehistoric consciousness and the Chinese mind and culture This book benefits graduate students and researchers who are interested in Chinese prehistoric culture and Chinese history of aesthetics

Moonshine Nation Mark Spivak, 2014-07-15 Moonshine is corn whiskey traditionally made in improvised stills throughout the Appalachian South While quality varied from one producer to another the whiskey had one thing in common It was illegal because the distiller refused to pay taxes to the US government Many moonshiners were descendants of Scots Irish immigrants who had fought in the original Whiskey Rebellion in the early 1790s They brought their knowledge of distilling with them to America along with a profound sense of independence and a refusal to submit to government authority Today many Southern states have relaxed their laws and now allow the legal production of moonshine provided that taxes are paid Yet many modern moonshiners retain deep links to their bootlegging heritage Moonshine Nation is the story of moonshine s history and origins alongside profiles of modern moonshiners and a collection of drink recipes from each

Visions of a Digital Nation Jacob Ward, 2024-02-06 Why the privatization of British Telecom signaled a pivotal moment in the rise of neoliberalism and how it was shaped by the longer development and digitalization of Britain s telecommunications infrastructure When Margaret Thatcher sold British Telecom for 3.6 billion in 1984 it became not only at the time the largest stock flotation in history but also a watershed moment in the rise of neoliberalism and deregulation. In Visions of a Digital Nation Jacob Ward offers an incisive interdisciplinary perspective on how technology prefigured this pivot. Giving due consideration to the politicians, engineers and managers who paved the way for this historic moment, Ward illustrates how the decision validated the privatization of public utilities and tied digital technology to free market rationales. In this examination of the national and at times global history of technology, Ward's approach is sweeping. Utilizing infrastructure studies, environmental history and urban and local history, Ward explores Britain's nationalist and welfarist plans for a digital information utility and shows how these projects contested and adapted to the market turn under Margaret Thatcher. Ultimately, Visions of a Digital Nation compellingly argues that politicians did not impose neoliberalism top down but that technology, engineers and managers shaped these politics from the bottom up.

Publishing Culture and the "reading Nation" Lynne Tatlock, 2010. In examining facets of the lives of select books from the 1780s to the 1930s that Germans actually read, these essays present a complex and nuanced picture of writing, publishing and reading in the shadow of nation building and class formation and suggest how the analysis of texts and the study of books can inform one another.

RHS: A Nation in Bloom Matthew Biggs, 2019-05-06. With a foreword by Alan Titchmarsh, this beautifully illustrated book tells the story of the Royal Horticultural Society, the perhaps the foremost gardening institution in the world. The RHS is the world's largest gardening charity but what it does and why is little understood and rarely celebrated. From defining new gardening trends at the Chelsea Flower Show to ranking the best dahlias to grow at the Wisley trial grounds to inspiring communities with Britain in Bloom, educating children to grow and eat their veg through the Campaign for School Gardening, the RHS works tirelessly to improve the gardener's lot. With the use of evocative archive images and contemporary photos by award-winning Jason Ingram, this beautiful book explores the past, present and future of this most influential organisation by listening to the voices of those working today. Gardening expert and regular Gardener's Question Time panellist Matthew Biggs tells this story in rich and intimate detail from the society's origins at the start of the 19th Century right through to the present day with fascinating insight into the evolution and operations of the RHS throughout the years. From the thousands of volunteers in the society's five unique gardens: Wisley in Surrey, Rosemoor in Devon, Hyde Hall in Essex, Harlow Carr in Yorkshire and new addition Bridgewater in Salford to the one million visitors to its inspirational flower shows including Chelsea, Hampton Court, Tatton Park, Cardiff, Wisley and Chatsworth, the society gives meaning to more than 475,000
