Flight To The Sun The Story Of The Holiday Revolution:

Flight to the Sun Roger Bray, Vladimir Raitz, 2001 Tells the story of the rebirth of British entrepreneurship Giants of Tourism Richard W. Butler, Roslyn Russell, 2010 This book presents individuals who have made an important contribution to tourism Most are entrepreneurs in the classic sense but others are individuals who have had unintentional subsequent effects on tourism through their actions The book is arranged in four parts i giants of hospitality chapters 1 5 ii giants of travel chapters 6 10 iii giants of activities chapters 11 14 and iv giants of development chapters 15 19 The Mirror of Antiquity David Wills, 2009-03-26 During the last century writers as diverse as William Golding Henry Miller Lawrence Durrell Evelyn Waugh Virginia Woolf and Laurie Lee were captivated by Greece They were joined in their production of travel accounts by hundreds of lesser known authors This book exposes how the responses of travellers were conditioned by much more than their own opinions and personalities The British education system classical scholarship and the heroism demonstrated by the Greeks during the Nazi invasion of their country all contributed to shaping travel narratives The author analyses the way in which all of the major archaeological sites were described including the Athenian Acropolis Delphi Olympia Heinrich Schliemann's Mycenae and Sir Arthur Evans Knossos in Crete The representation of the modern Greek people particularly in the period after the Second World War is also explored at length Viewed as relics of the past the Greeks in literature were given the qualities and appearance of their ancestors David Wills shows how in the hands of twentieth century travel writers Greece became less a modern country and more a mirror of antiquity This book is essential reading for all who are interested in the history of travel and tourism reception of the classical past and recent Greek history The Complete Guide to Letting Property Liz Hodgkinson, 2008-06-03 Despite the current financial climate this book demonstrates how buying property to let can still be a sensible and profitable investment option The Complete Guide to Letting Property includes comprehensive information on rental legislation including the Tenancy Deposit Scheme HIPs safety and energy requirements for rental properties and Landlord Accreditation Schemes It provides reliable advice on all aspects of becoming a landlord from choosing the right type of property and calculating finances to selling a rental investment that has sitting tenants In depth discussion of the advantages and disadvantages of buying offplan both in the UK and abroad as well as the important elements involved in guaranteed rental schemes ensure that this guide is a must read if you are considering letting a property A History of Modern Tourism Eric Zuelow, 2015-10-26 Tourism is one of the largest industries in the world yet leisure travel is more than just economically important It plays a vital role in defining who we are by helping to place us in space and time In so doing it has aesthetic medical political cultural and social implications However it hasn't always been so Tourism as we know it is a surprisingly modern thing both a product of modernity and a force helping to shape it A History of Modern Tourism is the first book to track the origins and evolution of this pursuit from earliest times to the present From a new understanding of aesthetics to scientific change from the invention of steam power to the creation of aircraft from an elite form of education to family car trips to see national shrines this book offers a sweeping and engaging overview of a fascinating story not yet widely known

Ego and Soul John Carroll, 2010-03-02 The crisis of meaning is the issue of our time The old beliefs that guided the West have faded without credible replacement Who lives well What characterizes the good life More particularly what may we in the modern West claim about ourselves And ultimately does how we live and what we do make any sense Concerned for today's society and its problems as they relate to meaning faith belief morale moral attachment and social direction John Carroll surveys these questions in Ego and Soul He examines how people in their ordinary and everyday lives grope unconsciously for direction casting lines into the transcendent in the hope of a catch He focuses on the main areas of modern life work sport popular culture family friendship intimacy shopping tourism computers cars do it yourself renovation our democratic temper and the retreat into nature He also examines high culture the upper middle class elites and the universities tracing why they have lost their way and failed to provide a language that might help modern people understand their condition Ego and Soul offers a surprising and compelling new look at the way we live today and the way we try to make sense of our lives

Tourism and Innovation Williams Allan, 2008-02-19 Tourism is often described as an industry with high growth rates and it is subject to radical change in how it is produced and consumed However there is still a relatively poor understanding of how such changes are brought about that is through innovation This book is the first to provide a comprehensive review of innovation in tourism while also considering how tourism itself contributes to innovative local regional and national development strategies This timely book places tourism innovation in the context of current academic and policy concerns relating to knowledge competition and the management of change A substantial introductory chapter provides an overview of what makes innovation in tourism both distinctive from and similar to innovation in other economic sectors This is followed by three general scene setting chapters which explore how competition and the search for competitiveness drive tourism innovation how knowledge transfers and knowledge creation lead the process and how institutions shape innovation These provide a coherent theoretical framework for understanding the roles of different agencies in innovation ranging from the state to the firm to the consumer The next four chapters analyze innovation at different scales Two chapters review the territorial dimensions of innovation through the fresh perspectives of the national and regional innovation systems followed by reviews of the determinants of innovation in the firm and the contested and complex role of entrepreneurship The final chapter summarises the importance of understanding tourism innovation This is a groundbreaking volume which provides an accessible introduction to a key but neglected topic It provides a readable account of the multidisciplinary research on innovation and relates the emerging theoretical framework to tourism A clear conceptual framework is complemented by fifty boxes which provide a range of illustrative international case studies This book will be a useful guide for researchers and students of tourism studies management and business and geography

Climate Change and the Crisis of Capitalism Mark Pelling, David Manuel-Navarrete, Michael Redclift, 2012-08-21 Are established economic social and political practices capable of dealing with the combined crises of climate change and the global economic system Will falling back on the wisdoms that contributed to the crisis help us to find ways forward or simply reconfigure risk in another guise This volume argues that the combination of global environmental change and global economic restructuring require a re thinking of the priorities processes and underlying values that shape contemporary development aspirations and policy This volume brings together leading scholars to address these questions from several disciplinary perspectives environmental sociology human geography international development systems thinking political sciences philosophy economics and policy management science The book is divided into four sections that examine contemporary development discourses and practices It bridges geographical and disciplinary divides and includes chapters on innovative governance that confront unsustainable economic and environmental relations in both developing and developed contexts It emphasises the ways in which dominant development paths have necessarily forced a separation of individuals from nature but also from society and even from self These three levels of alienation each form a thread that runs through the book There are different levels and opportunities for a transition towards resilience raising questions surrounding identity governance and ecological management This places resilience at the heart of the contemporary crisis of capitalism and speaks to the relationship between the increasingly global forms of economic development and the difficulties in framing solutions to the environmental problems that carbon based development brings in its wake Existing social science can help in not only identifying the challenges but also potential pathways for making change locally and in wider political economic and cultural systems but it must do so by identifying transitions out of carbon dependency and the kind of political challenges they imply for reflexive individuals and alternative community approaches to human security and wellbeing Climate Change and the Crisis of Capitalism contains contributions from leading scholars to produce a rich and cohesive set of arguments from a range of theoretical and empirical viewpoints It analyses the problem of resilience under existing circumstances but also goes beyond this to seek ways in which resilience can provide a better pathway and template for a more sustainable future This volume will be of interest to both undergraduate and postgraduate students studying Human Geography Environmental Policy and Politics

Classed Intersections Yvette Taylor, 2016-05-23 Classed Intersections examines the salience transformation and tension of class analysis at a crucial juncture in its return to and reinvention of sociological agendas The contributors including both established and emerging academics examine class as produced through combined social cultural and economic practices but are clear not to reify class over and above other paradigms instead a number of key intersections are foregrounded including gender ethnicity and sexuality The collection draws on a variety of methodological positions including in depth interviews ethnographies and auto biographical approaches It scrutinizes classed intersections across a wide range of social spheres and practices including education the workplace everyday life citizenship struggles consumption the family and sexuality Taken together this volume will enhance efforts to establish new working class studies both in the UK and around the world Tourism Development Julio

Aramberri, Richard Butler, 2005-01-01 This book takes a multidisciplinary look at various hot issues in present day tourism development including studying how global the industry has become new forms of travel like space tourism new trends in marketing and promotion Pleasure Boating on the Thames Simon Wenham, 2014-05-05 The River Thames above London underwent a dramatic transformation during the Victorian period from a great commercial highway into a vast conduit of pleasure Pleasure Boating on the Thames traces these changes through the history of the firm that did more than any other on the waterway to popularise recreational boating Salter Bros began as a small boat building enterprise in Oxford and went on to gain worldwide fame not only as the leading racing boat constructor but also as one of the largest rental craft and passenger boat operators in the country Simon Wenham's illustrated history sheds light on over 150 years of social change how leisure developed on the waterway including the rise of camping as well as how a family firm coped with the changes brought about by industrialisation a business that today still carries thousands of passengers a year
