Floating Voice Duncan Campbell Scott And The Literature Of Treaty 9:

Floating Voice Stan Dragland, 1994 The writing of Duncan Campbell Scott has long represented a sympathetic understanding of Canada's Native peoples perhaps mistakenly so however as in his work as a bureaucrat Scott put in place white paternalistic policies that Native peoples resist to this day Floating Voice examines Scott's contradictions with renewed consideration of his best Indian fiction and poetry

Circles of Time David T. McNab, 1999 Documents the experiences of Aboriginal people their history and recent negotiations in Ontario providing insight into the historiography of the treaty making process in the last 25 years

Royally Wronged Constance Backhouse, Cynthia E. Milton, Margaret Kovach, Adele Perry, 2021-10-27 The Royal Society of Canada's mandate is to elect to its membership leading scholars in the arts humanities social sciences and sciences lending its seal of excellence to those who advance artistic and intellectual knowledge in Canada Duncan Campbell Scott one of the architects of the Indian residential school system in Canada served as the society's president and dominated its activities many other members historically overwhelmingly white men helped shape knowledge systems rooted in colonialism that have proven catastrophic for Indigenous communities Written primarily by current Royal Society of Canada members these essays explore the historical contribution of the RSC and of Canadian scholars to the production of ideas and policies that shored up white settler privilege underpinning the disastrous interaction between Indigenous peoples and white settlers Historical essays focus on the period from the RSC's founding in 1882 to the mid twentieth century later chapters bring the discussion to the present documenting the first steps taken to change damaging patterns and challenging the society and Canadian scholars to make substantial strides toward a better future The highly educated in Canadian society were not just bystanders they deployed their knowledge and skills to abet colonialism This volume dives deep into the RSC's history to learn why academia has more often been an aid to colonialism than a force against it Royally Wronged poses difficult questions about what is required for individual academics fields of study and the RSC to move meaningfully toward reconciliation

Essays in the History of Canadian Law George Blain Baker, Jim Phillips, 1999-12-15 This volume in the Osgoode Society's distinguished series on the history of Canadian law is a tribute to Professor R C B Risk one of the pioneers of Canadian legal history and for many years regarded as its foremost authority The fifteen original essays are by notable scholars some of whom were students of Professor Risk and represent some of the best and most original work in the area of Canadian legal history They cover a number of important topics that range from the form of the criminal trial in the eighteenth century to debates over the meaning of property in the nineteenth and to lawyer poet Tom MacInnes's views on the law of aboriginal title in the twentieth century

The Confederation Group of Canadian Poets, 1880-1897 D.M.R. Bentley, 2013-12-11 As one of the formative periods in Canadian history the late nineteenth century witnessed the birth of a nation a people and a literature In this study of Canada's first school of poets D M R Bentley combines archival work including extensive research in periodicals and newspapers with close readings of the work of Charles G D Roberts Archibald Lampman Bliss Carman William Wilfred Campbell Duncan Campbell Scott and Frederick George Scott Bentley chronicles the formation reception national and international successes and eventual disintegration after the 1895 War Among the Poets of the Confederation Group whose poetry forever changed the perception and direction of Canadian literature With the aid of biographical political and sociological analyses Bentley s literary history delineates the group s political aesthetic and thematic dispositions and characteristics and contextualizes them not only within Canadian history and politics but also within contemporary intellectual and literary currents including Romantic nationalism Canadianism and poetic formalism Bentley casts new light on the poets commonalities such as their debt to Young Ireland their commitment to careful workmanship and their participation in the American mind cure movement as well as on their most accomplished and anthologized poems from 1880 to 1897 In the process he presents a compelling case for the literary and historical importance of these six men and their poems in light of Canada s cultural and political past and defends their right to be known as Canada s first poetic fraternity at a time when Canada was striving to achieve literary and national distinction The Confederation Group of Canadian Poets 1880 1897 is an erudite and innovative work of literary history and critical interpretation that belongs on the bookshelf of every serious scholar of literary studies Travelling Knowledges Renate Eigenbrod, 2005-05-25 In the context of de colonization the boundary between an Aboriginal text and the analysis by a non Aboriginal outsider poses particular challenges often constructed as unbridgeable Eigenbrod argues that politically correct silence is not the answer but instead does a disservice to the literature that like all literature depends on being read taught and disseminated in various ways In Travelling Knowledges Eigenbrod suggests decolonizing strategies when approaching Aboriginal texts as an outsider and challenges conventional notions of expertise She concludes that literatures of colonized peoples have to be read ethically not only without colonial impositions of labels but also with the responsibility to read beyond the text or in Lee Maracle s words to become the architect of great social transformation Features the works of Jeannette Armstrong Okanagan Louise Halfe Cree Margo Kane Saulteaux Cree Maurice Kenny Mohawk Thomas King Cherokee living in Canada Emma LaRocque Cree Metis Lee Maracle Sto lo Metis Ruby Slipperjack Anishnaabe Lorne Simon Mi kmaq Richard Wagamese Anishnaabe and Emma Lee Warrior Peigan The Poetics of Otherness J. Hart, 2015-03-04 Using the concept of otherness as an entry point into a discussion of poetry Jonathan Hart s study explores the role of history and theory in relation to literature and culture Chapters range from trauma in Shakespeare to Bartolom de Las Casas representation of the Americas to the trench poets to voices from the Holocaust The Oxford Handbook of Canadian Literature Cynthia Conchita Sugars, 2016 The Oxford Handbook of Canadian Literature provides a broad ranging introduction to some of the key critical fields genres and periods in Canadian literary studies The essays in this volume written by prominent theorists in the field reflect the plurality of critical perspectives regional and historical specializations and theoretical positions that constitute the field of Canadian literary criticism across a range of genres and historical periods The volume provides a dynamic introduction to current areas of critical interest including 1 attention to the links between the literary and the public sphere encompassing such topics as neoliberalism trauma and memory citizenship material culture literary prizes disability studies literature and history digital cultures globalization studies and environmentalism or ecocriticism 2 interest in Indigenous literatures and settler Indigenous relations 3 attention to multiple diasporic and postcolonial contexts within Canada 4 interest in the institutionalization of Canadian literature as a discipline 5 a turn towards book history and literary history with a renewed interest in early Canadian literature 6 a growing interest in articulating the affective character of the literary including an interest in affect theory mourning melancholy haunting memory and autobiography The book represents a diverse array of interests from the revival of early Canadian writing to the continued interest in Indigenous regional and diasporic traditions to more recent discussions of globalization market forces and neoliberalism It includes a distinct section dedicated to Indigenous literatures and traditions as well as a section that reflects on the discipline of Canadian literature as a whole

Canadian Literatures in English, Volume One - Second Edition Cynthia Sugars, Laura Moss, 2025-07-28 The long awaited second edition of Canadian Literatures in English has been updated throughout to include recent scholarship and fresh literary works As with the previous edition the anthology reflects the editors commitment to historical contextualization cultural inclusion and a nuanced understanding of critical debates over the long literary history of what is now Canada New to the second edition are works by Catharine Parr Traill Edith Maude Eaton L M Montgomery Ethel Wilson and others

Who Controls the Hunt? David Calverley, 2018-03-01 As the nineteenth century ended Ontario wildlife became increasingly valuable Tourists and sport hunters spent growing amounts of money in search of game and the government began to extend its regulatory powers in this arena Restrictions were imposed on hunting and trapping completely ignoring Anishinaabeg hunting rights set out in the Robinson Treaties of 1850 Who Controls the Hunt examines how Ontario s emerging wildlife conservation laws failed to reconcile First Nations treaty rights and the power of the state David Calverley traces the political and legal arguments prompted by the interplay of treaty rights provincial and dominion government interests and the corporate concerns of the Hudson s Bay Company A nuanced examination of Indigenous resource issues the themes of this book remain germane to questions about who controls the hunt in Canada today

The People of the Plains Amelia M. Paget, University of Regina. Canadian Plains Research Center, 2004 In People of the Plains first published in 1909 Amelia McLean Paget records her observations of the customs beliefs and lifestyles of the Plains Cree and Saulteaux among whom she lived

Home and Native Land May Chazan, Lisa Helps, Anna Stanley, Sonali Thakkar, 2011-07 Home and Native Land takes its vastly important topic and places it under a new penetrating light shifting focus from the present grounds of debate onto a more critical terrain The book s articles by some of the foremost critical thinkers and activists on issues of difference diversity and Canadian policy challenge sedimented thinking on the subject of multiculturalism Not merely another book on race relations national identity or the post 9 11 security environment this collection forges new and innovative connections by examining how multiculturalism relates to issues of migration security labour environment nature and land These novel pairings illustrate the continued power limitations and at times destructiveness of multiculturalism both as policy and as discourse Publisher's note Comparative Print Culture Rasoul Aliakbari, 2020-04-07 Drawing on comparative literary studies postcolonial book history and multiple literary and alternative modernities this collection approaches the study of alternative literary modernities from the perspective of comparative print culture The term comparative print culture designates a wide range of scholarly practices that discover examine document and or historicize various printed materials and their reproduction circulation and uses across genres languages media and technologies all within a comparative orientation This book explores alternative literary modernities mostly by highlighting the distinct ways in which literary and cultural print modernities outside Europe evince the repurposing of European systems and cultures of print and further deconstruct their perceived universality Of Sunken Islands and Pestilence Edward Taylor Fletcher, 2022-08-16 Edward Taylor Fletcher was born in England in 1817 and arrived in Canada as a young boy An important figure in Canadian literature Fletcher's writing was almost entirely forgotten by history In this volume James Gifford has gathered and annotated Fletcher's essays and poems writings that describe a nineteenth century Canadian cultural life far more cosmopolitan than what we might have imagined Fletcher was a voracious reader of works in many languages and although he was oriented toward Britain his writing notably reflects a gaze fixed on a horizon much further away His work therefore stands in contrast to the tendency of later Canadian writers who focus inward on the nation and on issues of Canadian identity His work as a surveyor allowed him to travel across the country observing the Canadian landscape which appears interwoven with different literary traditions in his metrically complex poetry By recuperating Fletcher's works Gifford expands our view of nineteenth century Canadian literature and establishes Fletcher as a remarkable literary figure worthy of attention A Fatherly Eye Robin Brownlie, 2003-12-15 For more than a century government policy towards Aboriginal peoples in Canada was shaped by paternalistic attitudes and an ultimate goal of assimilation Indeed remnants of that thinking still linger today more than thirty years after protests against the White Paper of 1969 led to reconsideration Canada's Indian policy In A Fatherly Eye historian Robin Brownlie examines how paternalism and assimilation during the interwar period were made manifest in the field far from the bureaucrats in Ottawa but never free of their oppressive supervision At the same time she reveals how the Aboriginal subjects of official policy dealt with the control and coercion that lay at the heart of the Indian Act This groundbreaking study sheds new light on a time and a place we know little about Brownlie focuses on two Indian agencies in southern Ontario Parry Sound and Manitowaning on Manitoulin Island and the contrasting management styles of two agents John Daly and Robert Lewis especially during the Great Depression In administering the lives of the Anishinabek people the government paid inadequate attention to the protection of treaty rights and was excessively concerned with maintaining control in part through the paternalistic provision of assistance that helped to silence critics of the system and prevent political organizing As Brownlie concludes the Indian Affairs system still does not work well and has come to represent all that is most oppressive about the history of colonization in this country Previously published by Oxford University Press The National Gallery of Canada Douglas Ord,2003 The National Gallery of Canada Ideas Art and Architecture examines the National Gallery as an institution a collection and a series of sites for the display of the nation s art Douglas Ord explores how throughout the gallery s development art has consistently been linked to notions of religious truth national spirit and hallowed atmosphere culminating in Moshe Safdie s design for the institution s current building Integrating accounts of political intrigue and public controversy with philosophy art theory and architectural analysis Ord provides vivid accounts of successive directors struggles to obtain a permanent home for the nation s art and sheds light on the place and the role of art in Canada R sum de l diteur Listening to Old Woman Speak Laura Smyth Groening,2005-01-18 Groening argues that what Frantz Fanon terms the manichean allegory has shaped European understanding of the New World to such an extent that the image patterns fundamental to the allegory continue to dominate depictions of Native characters Although a world separated into two categories defined by light and dark reason and emotion mind and body technology and nature future and past is no longer also characterized as good and evil revaluing the tropes has not made them disappear And without their disappearance good intentions notwithstanding nonaboriginal Canadian writers will continue to portray Native characters as part of a dead and dying culture Groening demonstrates that the real issue cannot be about censorship as censorship involves the abrogation of freedom and the imagination is never truly free On the Threshold T. Anne Archer,1999-04-16 A wonderful weave of poetry and prose this anthology reflects on moments that have formed the crucible for life in the twenty first century Both Hands Sandra Campbell,2013-05-01 Editor and publisher workaholic and romantic idealist and pioneer Lorne Pierce once described his editorial desk as an altar at which I serve the entire cultural life of Canada Pierce laboured at his altar between 1920 and 1960 as the driving force behind Ryerson Press the leading publisher of Canadian works during the mid twentieth century In Both Hands Sandra Campbell captures the inimitable cultural role of a remarkable man whose work paved the way for the creation of a national identity Both Hands delves into the encounters trials and triumphs that inspired Pierce s vision of cultural nationalism from his rural upbringing in eastern Ontario to the philosophical ideals he acquired at Queen s University to his service as a teacher a Methodist preacher and a military man during the First World War All these experiences coalesced in his work at Ryerson Press then Canada s largest publishing house even as he battled lupus and deafness to make his mark on the country s literary scene Campbell situates this unflinching look into Pierce s personal and public life within the context of Canadian society detailing his relationships with major figures such as the Group of Seven Harold Innis Donald Creighton E J Pratt the modernist Montreal poets Northrop Frye and many others Set against the rich backdrop of Canada s early literary and artistic heritage Both Hands vividly presents the life and work of an impresario of literary historical and art publishing of indisputable influence throughout the country's cultural milieus Keepers of the Code Robert Lecker, 2013-01-01 Robert Lecker explores the ways in which these anthologies contributed to the formation of a Canadian literary canon the extent to which this canon was tied to an ideal of English Canadian nationalism and the material conditions accounting for the anthologies production
