Flogging Of Phinehas McIntosh:

The Flogging of Phinehas McIntosh Michael Crowder, 1988 Imperialism, Race and Resistance Barbara Bush, 2002-01-04 Imperialism Race and Resistance marks an important new development in the study of British and imperial interwar history Focusing on Britain West Africa and South Africa Imperialism Race and Resistance charts the growth of anti colonial resistance and opposition to racism in the prelude to the post colonial era The complex nature of imperial power is explored as well as its impact on the lives and struggles of black men and women in Africa and the African diaspora Barbara Bush argues that tensions between white dreams of power and black dreams of freedom were seminal in transforming Britain's relationship with Africa in an era bounded by global war and shaped by ideological conflict Chiefs, Power, and Social Change Olufemi Vaughan, 2003 Identifying the institution of chiefship as the focal point of critical discourse on continuity and social change in colonial and postcolonial Botswana this book offers extensive analysis of the values and aspirations of a rapidly changing twentieth century country Underscoring the central role of chiefship structures in Botswana's historical state formation the book also analyses the transformation of the institution in three major areas of Botswana's history including imperialism decolonisation and the nation state project of the postcolonial period Discipline and the Other Body Steven Pierce, Anupama Rao, 2006-05-03 DIVA comparative historical and ethnographic perspective on corporeal violence the body's emergence as a political entity in colonial and postcolonial governance and the production of a discourse of human rights div Unreasonable Histories Christopher J. Lee, 2015-02-20 In Unreasonable Histories Christopher J Lee unsettles the parameters and content of African studies as currently understood At the book's core are the experiences of multiracial Africans in British Central Africa contemporary Malawi Zimbabwe and Zambia from the 1910s to the 1960s Drawing on a spectrum of evidence including organizational documents court records personal letters commission reports popular periodicals photographs and oral testimony Lee traces the emergence of Anglo African Euro African and Eurafrican subjectivities which constituted a grassroots Afro Britishness that defied colonial categories of native and non native Discriminated against and often impoverished these subaltern communities crafted a genealogical imagination that reconfigured kinship and racial descent to make political claims and generate affective meaning But these critical histories equally confront a postcolonial reason that has occluded these experiences highlighting uneven imperial legacies that still remain Based on research in five countries Unreasonable Histories ultimately revisits foundational questions in the field to argue for the continent's diverse heritage and to redefine the meanings of being African in the past and present and for the future Victoria Falls and Colonial Imagination in British Southern Africa Andrea L. Arrington-Sirois, 2017-03-22 This is the first full length historical analysis of Victoria Falls The text offers a critical examination of Victoria Falls providing new insight into the British Southern African project and reveals how Victoria Falls became one of the first modern African tourist destinations This book makes a case for a critical reading of Victoria Falls as much more than a localized natural wonder Europeans with multiple and often competing agendas as well as African leaders and laborers were brought into contact with one another at Victoria Falls Their visions of the past and hopes for the future shared Victoria Falls as a common point of inspiration The value these parties placed on the Falls extended far beyond its location on the Zambezi and had broad implications for the British Empire in Southern and Central Africa

Critical Approaches to African Cinema Discourse Nwachukwu Frank Ukadike, 2014-02-27 Critical Approaches to African Cinema Discourse utilizes an interdisciplinary approach to lay bare the diversity and essence of African cinema discourse It is an anthology of historical reflections critical essays and interviews by film critics historians theorists and filmmakers that signifies a dialogue and engagement apropos the ideology and cultural politics of film production in Africa The contributors are extremely concerned not only with the history of African cinema but with its future and its potential This book then is not limited to the expansion of the discourse on African cinema but tries to approach the definition of the critical canon within the exigencies and manifestations of art and African sociopolitical practices The authors view these practices as an investment in a cultural imperative stemming from the quest to delineate how critical methodologies are derived from and shape contemporary historical and cultural practices Hence the contributions are less about the usual constrictive method of analysis and more about illustrating manifestations of an interrogative critical methodology that is certainly an offspring of an indigenous African critical cum cinematic culture and paradigms
