The Big Time Michael MacCambridge,2023-10-10 Indispensable history Sally Jenkins bestselling author of The Right Call A captivating chronicle of the pivotal decade in American sports when the games invaded prime time and sports moved from the margins to the mainstream of American culture Every decade brings change but as Michael MacCambridge chronicles in THE BIG TIME no decade in American sports history featured such convulsive cultural shifts as the 1970s So many things happened during the decade the move of sports into prime time television the beginning of athletes gaining a sense of autonomy for their own careers integration becoming at least within sports more of the rule than the exception and the social revolution that brought females more decisively into sports as athletes coaches executives and spectators More than politicians musicians or actors the decade in America was defined by its most exemplary athletes The sweeping changes in the decade could be seen in the collective experience of Billie Jean King and Muhammad Ali Henry Aaron and Julius Erving Kareem Abdul Jabbar and Joe Greene Jack Nicklaus and Chris Evert among others who redefined the role of athletes and athletics in American culture The Seventies witnessed the emergence of spectator sports as an ever expanding mainstream phenomenon as well as dramatic changes in the way athletes were paid portrayed and packaged In tracing the epic narrative of how American sports was transformed in the Seventies a larger story emerges of how America itself changed and how spectator sports moved decisively on a trajectory toward what it has become today the last truly big tent in American culture The Rhetoric of the New Political Documentary Thomas W Benson, Brian J Snee, 2008-05-23 The Rhetoric of the New Political Documentary explores the most visible and volatile element in the 2004 presidential campaign the partisan documentary film This collection of original critical essays by leading scholars and critics including Shawn J and Trevor Parry Giles Jennifer L Borda and Martin J Medhurst analyzes a selection of political documentaries that appeared during the 2004 election season The editors examine the new political documentary with the tools of rhetorical criticism combining close textual analysis with a consideration of the historical context and the production and reception of the films The essays address the distinctive rhetoric of the new political documentary with the films typically having been shot with relatively low budgets in video and using interviews and stock footage rather than observation of uncontrolled behavior The quality was often good enough and interest was sufficiently intense that the films were shown in theaters and on television which provided legitimacy and visibility before they were released soon afterwards on DVD and VHS and marketed on the Internet The volume reviews such films as Michael Moore s Fahrenheit 9 11 two refutations of Moore s film Fahrenheit 9 11 and Celsius 41 11 Unprecedented The 2000 Presidential Election and George W Bush Faith in the White House films that experimented with a variety of angles and rhetorics from a mix of comic disparagement and earnest confrontation to various emulations of traditional news and documentary voices The Rhetoric of the New Political Documentary represents the continued transformation of American political discourse in a partisan and contentious time and showcases the independent voices and the political power brokers that struggled to find new ways to debate the status quo and employ surrogate independents to create a counter rhetoric
