Republic of Dreams Ross Wetzstein, 2007-11-01 If the twentieth century was the American century it can be argued that it was more specifically the New York century and Greenwich Village was the incubator of every important writer artist and political movement of the period From the century's first decade through the era of beatniks and modern art in the 1950s and 60s Greenwich Village was the destination for rebellious men and women who flocked there from all over the country to fulfill their artistic political and personal dreams It has been called the most significant square mile in American cultural history for it holds the story of the rise and fall of American socialism women's suffrage and the commercialization of the avant garde One Villager went so far as to say that everything started in the Village except Prohibition and in the 1940s the young actress Lucille Ball said The Village is the greatest place in the world What other community could claim a spectrum ranging from Henry James to Marlon

The Brazen Age David Reid, 2016-03-22 A brilliant sweeping and unparalleled look at the extraordinarily rich culture and turbulent politics of New York City between the years 1945 and 1950 The Brazen Age opens with Franklin Delano Roosevelt's campaign tour through the city's boroughs in 1944 He would see little of what made New York the capital of modernity though the aristocratic FDR was its paradoxical avatar a city boasting an unprecedented and unique synthesis of genius ambition and the avant garde While concentrating on those five years David Reid also reaches back to the turn of the twentieth century to explore the city's progressive politics radical artistic experimentation and burgeoning bohemia From 1900 to 1929 New York City was a dynamic metropolis on the rise and it quickly became a cultural nexus of new architecture the home of a thriving movie business the glittering center of theater and radio and a hub of book magazine and newspaper publishing In the 1930s the rise of Hitler and World War II would send some of Europe's most talented men and women to America's shores vastly enriching the fields of science architecture film and arts and letters the list includes Albert Einstein Erwin Panofsky Walter Gropius George Grosz Andr Kert sz Robert Capa Thomas Mann Hannah Arendt Vladimir Nabokov and John Lukacs Reid draws a portrait of the frenzied creative energy of a bohemian Greenwich Village from the taverns to the salons Revolutionaries socialists and intelligentsia in the 1910s were drawn to the highly provocative monthly magazine The Masses which attracted the era's greatest talent from John Reed to Sherwood Anderson Djuna Barnes John Sloan and Stuart Davis And summoned up is a chorus of witnesses to the ever changing landscape of bohemia from Malcolm Cowley to Ana's Nin Also present are the pioneering photographers who captured the city in black and white Berenice Abbott's dizzying aerial views Samuel Gottscho's photographs of the waterfront and the city's architectural splendor and Weegee's masterful noir lowlife But the political tone would be set by the next president and Reid looks closely at Thomas Dewey Henry Wallace and Harry Truman James Forrestal secretary of the navy under Roosevelt would be influential in establishing a new position in the cabinet before ascending to it himself as secretary of defense under Truman but not before helping to usher in the Cold War With The Brazen Age David Reid has magnificently captured a complex and powerful moment in the history of New York City in the mid twentieth century a period of time that would ensure its place on the world stage for many generations

Star Authors Joe Moran, 2000-02-20 In America authors are as likely to be seen on television talk shows or magazine covers as in the more traditional settings of literary festivals or book signings Is this literary celebrity just another result of dumbing down Yet another example of the mass media turning everything into entertainment Or is it a much more unstable complex phenomenon And what does the American experience tell us about the future of British literary celebrity In Star Authors Joe Moran shows how publishers the media and authors themselves create and disseminate literary celebrity He looks at such famous contemporary authors as Toni Morrison J D Salinger Thomas Pynchon Don DeLillo John Updike Philip Roth Kathy Acker Nicholson Baker Paul Auster and Jay McInerney Through an examination of their own work biographical information media representations and promotional material Moran illustrates the nature of modern literary celebrity He argues that authors actively negotiate their own celebrity rather than simply having it imposed upon them from reclusive authors such as Salinger and Pynchon famed for their very lack of public engagement to media friendly authors such as Updike and McInerney Star Authors analyses literary celebrity in the context of the historical links between literature advertising and publicity in America the economics of literary production and the cultural capital involved in the marketing and consumption of books and authors

Kenneth Burke's Weed Garden Kyle Jensen, 2022-06-29 Since its publication in 1950 Kenneth Burke's A Rhetoric of Motives has been one of the most influential texts of theory and criticism Critics have discovered in its pages concepts that reveal new dimensions of human motivation And yet despite its obvious genius critics have interpreted A Rhetoric of Motives as a collection of provocations rather than a systematic treatment of rhetoric In this book Kyle Jensen argues that the coherence in Burke's thought has yet to be fully appreciated Drawing on unpublished drafts and voluminous correspondence he reconstructs Burke's drafting and revision process for A Rhetoric of Motives as well as its recently discovered second volume The War of Words Jensen's extensive archival analysis reveals that Burke relied on the concept of myth to draw together the loose ends in his argument For Burke all general theories of rhetoric are formed and structured using mythic images and terms By exploring what Burke added and omitted and by putting his writing process into the context of daily life after the Second World War including Burke's attempts to clear the weeds from his Andover farm Jensen sheds new light on the key problems that Burke encountered and the methods he used to overcome them Kenneth Burke's Weed Garden is essential for those who study Burke and the tradition of modern rhetoric that he helped found      American Women Fiction Writers, 1900-1960 Harold Bloom, 1997
