Ecology Uncertainty And Policy Managing Ecosystems For Sustainability:

Ecology, Uncertainty and Policy John Handmer, 2017-09-29 A broad and comprehensive exploration of the role of the ecological sciences in sustainability for undergraduates The urgent quest for more sustainable patterns of development has placed new and difficult demands on both scientists and policy makers as they seek to establish more informed and effective policy processes and management regimes in the face of pervasive uncertainty Written by an international group of authors from a range of disciplines ecology geography law policy analysis and others the chapters explore issues of scientific legitimacy public participation non governmental organisations inter sectoral communication and pragmatic public policy across a wide range of ecosystem management contexts New Environmental Policy Instruments in the European Union

Ian Bailey, 2017-07-05 The use of legislation by EU governments to define environmental standards for industry has been criticised for its poor track record in arresting the decline in the quality of Europe's environment Environmental economists in particular have proposed that legislation should be supplemented or replaced by New Environmental Policy Instruments NEPIs such as eco taxes environmental charges tradable permits and voluntary agreements This book focuses on practical experiences with NEPIs in the EU and tests their application using the case study of the Packaging and Packaging Waste Directive It traces the ways in which member states have adapted NEPIs to suit their preferred styles of environmental policy then assesses their performance and how NEPIs have both assisted and hindered the EU environmental programme It suggests options for ensuring that the environmental programme does not become fragmented by the use of NEPIs and discusses the implications of EU enlargement Environmental Law and Governance in the Pacific Margaretha

Wewerinke-Singh, Evan Hamman, 2020-08-26 This volume examines environmental law and governance in the Pacific focusing on the emerging challenges this region faces The Pacific is home to some of the world's most astonishing biological and cultural diversity At the same time Pacific Island nations are economically and technically under resourced in the face of tremendous environmental challenges Destructive weather events ocean acidification mining logging overfishing and pollution increasingly degrade ecosystems and affect fishing farming and other cultural practices of Pacific Islanders Accordingly there is an urgent need to understand and analyse the role of law and governance in responding to these pressures in the Pacific Drawing on academic and practitioner expertise from the Pacific region as well as Europe and the United States this unique collection navigates the major environmental law and governance challenges of the present and future of the Pacific Environmental Law and Governance in the Pacific discusses 21 Pacific Island countries and territories including Cook Islands Fiji Papua New Guinea Solomon Islands Vanuatu and Samoa and a broad range of themes such as deep sea mining wetlands and mangroves heritage endangered species human rights and access to justice are addressed thus providing a comprehensive and state of the art overview of environmental law and governance within specific jurisdictions as well as across the Pacific region as a whole This volume will be essential reading for students and scholars interested in environmental law and governance in the Pacific region as well as policy makers practitioners and NGOs involved in the development and implementation of environmental law and policy

Concepts and Instruments for a Rational Bioenergy Policy Alexandra Purkus,2016-06-21 This book provides an in depth economic analysis of the challenges associated with bioenergy use and production Drawing on New Institutional Economics and the theory of economic policy it develops theory based recommendations for a bioenergy policy that strives for efficiency and sustainability Further it shows how to deal with diverse uncertainties and constraints such as institutional path dependencies transaction costs multiple and conflicting policy aims and interacting market failures while also applying the resulting theoretical insights to a case study analysis of Germany s bioenergy policy As such the book aims to bridge the gap between practical bioenergy policymaking on the one hand and neoclassical theory based concepts that strictly focus on a minimization of greenhouse gas mitigation costs on the other

A Companion to Environmental Geography Noel Castree,David Demeritt,Diana Liverman,Bruce Rhoads,2009-02-11 A Companion to Environmental Geography is the first book to comprehensively and systematically map the research frontier of human environment geography in an accessible and comprehensive way Cross cuts several areas of a discipline which has traditionally been seen as divided presenting work by human and physical geographers in the same volume Presents both the current state of the art research and charts future possibilities for the discipline Extends the term environmental geography beyond its traditional meanings to include new work on nature and environment by human and physical geographers not just hazards resources and conservation geographers Contains essays from an outstanding group of international contributors from among established scholars and rising stars in geography

The Policy Process in International Environmental Governance S. Aggarwal-Khan,2011-11-30 This book questions the practices in the policy processes of international institutions It looks at the formal and informal practices that are routinely undertaken as part of the structure of international policy processes and analyses how people behave and with what outcome for international environmental governance

Under Corporate Skies Martin Brueckner,Dyann Ross,2010-07-01 Relating the story of a tiny town pitted against a strong corporation this account strives to voice the concerns of local communities when they come into conflict with corporate profits With the help of Erin Brockovich the small town of Yarloop in Western Australia is fighting its powerful neighbor Alcoa World Alumina Their struggle is over social health and environmental concerns surrounding Alcoa s Wagerup alumina refinery The stories told here are shared by communities around the world amidst ongoing industrialization and resultant collisions between social and economic interests Depicting life under corporate influence this study explicitly illustrates that profits matter but not more than people and place

Under Corporate Skies MARTIN BRUECKNER AND. DYANN ROSS,Martin Brueckner,2010-10-19 Under Corporate Skies is about what happens to communities when they stand in the way of corporate profits It is the story of a tiny town pitted against a strong corporate neighbour With the help of international campaigner Erin Brockovich the small town of Yarloop in Western Australia is preparing a civil class action against Alcoa World Al Nature Conservation in Islamic Tradition Mohd Zuhdi Marsuki,2024-11-04 This book will discuss the practice of Islamic nature conservation by focusing on Harim and Hima The practice of Harim and Hima is a good model practised by Muslims tradition combining the theory and practice of environmental ethics Such practice should be a new focus in the study of Islamic environmental ethics beyond the theoretical discourse Confronting the Nation's Water Problems National Research Council,Division on Earth and Life Studies,Water Science and Technology Board,Committee on Assessment of Water Resources Research,2004-10-14 In order to confront the increasingly severe water problems faced by all parts of the country the United States needs to make a new commitment to research on water resources A new mechanism is needed to coordinate water research currently fragmented among nearly 20 federal agencies Given the competition for water among farmers communities aquatic ecosystems and other users as well as emerging challenges such as climate change and the threat of waterborne diseases Confronting the Nation s Water Problems concludes that an additional 70 million in federal funding should go annually to water research Funding should go specifically to the areas of water demand and use water supply augmentation and other institutional research topics The book notes that overall federal funding for water research has been stagnant in real terms for the past 30 years and that the portion dedicated to research on water use and social science topics has declined considerably Carbon Accounting and Savanna Fire Management Jeremy Russell-Smith,Brett Murphy,Andrew Edwards,CP (Mick) Meyer,2015-06-15 In the context of Australia s developing carbon economy fire management helps to abate emissions of greenhouse gases and is an important means of generating carbon credits The vast high rainfall savannas of northern Australia are one of the world's most flammable landscapes Management of fires in this region has the potential to assist with meeting emissions reduction targets as well as conserving biodiversity and providing employment for Indigenous people in remote parts of Australia's north This comprehensive volume brings together recent research from northern Australian savannas to provide an internationally relevant case study for applying greenhouse gas accounting methodologies to the practice of fire management It provides scientific arguments for enlarging the area of fire prone land managed for emissions abatement The book also charts the progress towards development of a savanna fire bio sequestration methodology The future of integrated approaches to emissions abatement and bio sequestration is also discussed Sustainable Land Sector Development in Northern Australia Jeremy Russell-Smith, Glenn James, Howard Pedersen, Kamaljit K. Sangha, 2018-09-03

Key Features Provides clear and authoritative recommendations for managing fire in ecological and social contexts Authors are all international leaders in their fields and include not only academics but also leaders of Indigenous communities Explains Indigenous cultural and knowledge systems to a degree that has rarely been accessible to lay and academic readers outside specialized disciplines like Anthropology Responds to growing need for new approaches to managing human ecological systems that are in greater sympathy with Australia's natural environments climate and value the knowledge of Indigenous people Timely for scholarly and interest groups intervention as the Australian government is again looking to develop the north Sustainable Land Sector Development in Northern Australia sets out a vision for developing North Australia based on a culturally appropriate and ecologically sustainable land sector economy This vision supports both Indigenous cultural responsibilities and aspirations as well as enhancing enterprise opportunities for society as a whole In the past well meaning if often misguided policy agendas have failed and continue to fail North Australians This book helps breach that gap by acknowledging and harnessing Indigenous cultural strengths and knowledge systems for looking after the country and its people as part of a smart novel and diversified ecosystem services economy At Risk Piers Blaikie, Terry Cannon, Ian Davis, Ben Wisner, 2014-01-21

The term natural disaster is often used to refer to natural events such as earthquakes hurricanes or floods However the phrase natural disaster suggests an uncritical acceptance of a deeply engrained ideological and cultural myth At Risk questions this myth and argues that extreme natural events are not disasters until a vulnerable group of people is exposed The updated new edition confronts a further ten years of ever more expensive and deadly disasters and discusses disaster not as an aberration but as a signal failure of mainstream development Two analytical models are provided as tools for understanding vulnerability One links remote and distant root causes to unsafe conditions in a progression of vulnerability The other uses the concepts of access and livelihood to understand why some households are more vulnerable than others Examining key natural events and incorporating strategies to create a safer world this revised edition is an important resource for those involved in the fields of environment and development studies Planning in an

Uncanny World Nicholas A. Phelps, Judy Bush, Anna Hurlimann, 2022-12-23 This book places Australian conditions and urban planning centrally within comparative analysis of planning systems and cultures around the world to address issues including urban governance climate change transportation planning regional development and migration planning Australian urban conditions and their associated planning responses can and often have been seen as unique or exceptional They are seldom discussed in the same breath as conditions and associated planning systems internationally Yet as well as being somewhat different from those elsewhere in the world Australian urban conditions and planning responses are also somewhat similar They are uncanny strangely familiar yet unfamiliar In this book Australian urban conditions and their planning policies and practices are informally compared and contrasted with those existing internationally If Australian urban planning policy and practice have had limited influence internationally the partial familiarity of challenges posed by its urban conditions ensure that Australia is a more important global reference point for scholarship and practice than commonly is appreciated In this book the authors assert the potential and actual originality of urban planning scholarship arising from the Australian context It will be useful for students and faculty planners working in Australia as well as anyone interested in international planning debates

Wild Rangelands Johan T. du Toit, Richard Kock, James Deutsch, 2012-11-06 Rangeland ecosystems which include unimproved grasslands shrublands savannas and semi deserts support half of the world's livestock while also providing habitats for some of the most charismatic of wildlife species This book examines the pressures on rangeland ecosystems worldwide from human land use over hunting and subsistence and commercial farming of livestock and crops Leading experts have pooled their experiences from all continents to cover the ecological sociological political veterinary and economic aspects of rangeland management today This book provides practitioners and students of rangeland management and wildland conservation with a diversity of perspectives on a central question can rangelands be wildlands The first book to examine rangelands from a conservation perspective Emphasizes the balance between the needs of people and livestock and wildlife Written by an international team of experts covering all geographical regions Examines ecological sociological political veterinary and economic aspects of rangeland management and wildland conservation providing a diversity of perspectives not seen before in a single volume

Forests People and Power Oliver Springate-Baginski, Piers Blaikie, 2013-06-17 With tens of millions of hectares and hundreds of millions of lives in the balance the debate over who should control South Asia's forests is of tremendous political significance This book provides an insightful and thorough assessment of important forest management transitions currently underway MARK POFFENBERGER EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR OF COMMUNITY FORESTRY INTERNATIONAL The contributions in this volume not only breathe life into the field of writing and analysis related to forests they do so on the strength of extraordinarily insightful research Kudos to Springate Baginski and Blaikie for providing us with a set of thoroughly researched provocative studies that should be required reading not only for those interested in community forestry in south Asia but in resource governance anywhere

ARUN AGRAWAL ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR OF NATURAL RESOURCES it challenges our assumptions of the benefits of participatory forest management and the role of forestry in poverty reduction It should be of interest to policy makers and to all those who have been involved with the struggle of transforming forestry over the decades DR MARY HOBLEY HOBLEY SHIELDS ASSOCIATES NATURAL RESOURCE MANAGEMENT AND PLANNING CONSULTANCY A rare combination of extensive field study social science insights and policy studies will be of immense value DR N C SAXENA MEMBER OF NATIONAL ADVISORY COUNCIL GOVERNMENT OF INDIA In recent decades participatory approaches to forest management have been introduced around the world This book assesses their implementation in the highly politicized environments of India and Nepal The authors critically examine the policy implementation processes and causal factors affecting livelihood impacts Considering narratives and field practice with data from over 60 study villages and over 1000 household interviews the book demonstrates why particular field outcomes have occurred and why policy reform often proves so difficult Research findings on which the book is based are already influencing policy in India and Nepal and the research and analysis have great relevance to forestry management in a wide range of countries Published with DFID

Protecting the Oceans Beyond National Jurisdiction Robin Warner, 2009 Knowledge of the marine environment beyond national jurisdiction and its unique biodiversity is still developing Simultaneously traditional uses of these areas including fishing and shipping are intensifying and new uses are emerging such as bio prospecting for marine genetic resources and climate change mitigation activities This volume examines the threats to the marine environment beyond national jurisdiction from existing and emerging human uses and the adequacy of current international law provisions to protect this major part of the global environment An analysis of key provisions in the 1982 United Nations Law of the Sea Convention and complementary principles of international environmental law reveals significant tensions between the concept of high seas freedoms and the international law obligation to protect and preserve the marine environment beyond national jurisdiction The book compares the lack of comprehensive environmental regulation for marine resource exploitation and shipping activities beyond national jurisdiction with the best practice standards for environmental protection being developed by the International Seabed Authority for deep seabed mining exploration Recent initiatives by the international community to study issues relating to conservation of high seas biodiversity are discussed and a range of soft and hard law options to strengthen the international law framework for protection of the marine environment beyond national jurisdiction are considered and aquatic ecosystems coasts fisheries agriculture mining grazing tourism climate change earth systems water biodiversity policy and institutional reforms the private sector human population health fire emergency management Indigenous land management and energy With over 40 experts weighing in on Australia's most pressing issues this is a must read for anyone interested in the environment

Environmental Law and the Ecosystem Approach Froukje Maria Platjouw, 2016-05-05

The ecosystem approach embodies a concept of the environment which emphasizes the integrated components of nature as complex adaptive systems This book examines the relationship between the architecture and design of environmental law and the implementation of the ecosystem approach as a means to maintain ecological integrity The main issue addressed is in which manner and to what extent does fragmentation and administrative discretion in environmental law impede the implementation of an ecosystem approach This is explored through analysis of several questions what is an ecosystem approach and how could it be implemented how can economic evaluation of ecosystem services contribute to the debate to what extent is environmental law fragmented and how does this affect the implementation of the ecosystem approach to what extent does environmental law contain administrative discretion and how does this affect the implementation of the ecosystem approach is there a need for greater consistency coherence and a stronger rule of law in environmental law in light of the ecosystem approach The main focus is on Europe with additional international comparisons where appropriate The book concludes by providing a normative portrayal of future environmental law as protective systemic and predictable

Ecology Uncertainty And Policy Managing Ecosystems For Sustainability: Bestsellers in 2023 The year 2023 has witnessed a remarkable surge in literary brilliance, with numerous captivating novels enthralling the hearts of readers worldwide. Let's delve into the realm of popular books, exploring the fascinating narratives that have charmed audiences this year.

The Must-Read : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This heartfelt tale of love, loss, and resilience has captivated readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover expertly weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can prevail.

Ecology Uncertainty And Policy Managing Ecosystems For Sustainability : Taylor Jenkins Reid's "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This intriguing historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reid's compelling storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery.

Discover the Magic : Delia Owens' "Where the Crawdads Sing" This captivating coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens weaves a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting.

These popular novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of engaging stories waiting to be discovered.

The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts.

The Secret History is a exceptional and gripping novel that will keep you guessing until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
