Economic Growth And Social Equity In Developing Countries:

Economic Growth and Social Equity in Developing Countries Irma Adelman, Cynthia Taft Morris, 1975

GROWTH Irma Adelman, Cynthia Taft Morris, Project IMPRESS., 1976 Economic Planning and Social Justice in Developing Countries Ozay Mehmet, 2014-05-12 First published in 1978 this book was written at a time when belief was high in Western guided economic development of the emerging countries The success of Marshall Plan in war torn Europe generated a US led optimism that with generous inflows of aid and technical assistance the Third World could be won over in the Cold War The author's direct experience as a young academic economist in Cyprus Malaysia Uganda and Liberia led him to question this general optimism the reality on the ground in the developing world did not seem to match Western optimism Theories and blueprints made in the West did not fit the requirements of developing countries Higher production and better income distribution were inseparable twin objectives of developing nations That meant production of a higher national output must at the same time promote social justice Investment must create adequate jobs so that new entrants into rapidly expanding labor force could be gainfully employed Yet the dominant Western theories of development at the time in particular the Trickle Down Theory of Growth prescribed Growth First Distribution Later strategy Similarly Import Substitution Industrialization theories were emphasized at the expense of export led growth Dualistic Growth theories preached urban biased anti rural development This book was written as a rebuttal of such faulty theorizing and misguided professional technical assistance and the book's message is no less valid today than in the 1970s Equity and Efficiency in Economic Development Donald J. Savoie, Irving Brecher, 1992-10-16 The ideological foundations of the contributors range from personalized neo Marxism through extreme centre neo Keynesianism to hard line neoclassical mathematical economics Despite this diversity there is a surprising degree of consensus No contributor advocates centralized planning and none expects a free market to cure all economic ills Opinions vary as to how well the market actually works but all agree that equity and efficiency are essential goals which most consider to be complementary rather than mutually exclusive In the concluding chapter it is suggested that current economic problems are caused not so much by government intervention as by the nature of that intervention The authors believe that the recent ideological convergence may lead to a new paradigm a theory of the optimal blend of market and management that will be flexible enough to deal with the varying conditions of diverse societies thus simplifying the task of creating a smooth running global economy The contributors are Irma Adelman Mark Blaug Kenneth Boulding Irving Brecher Albert Breton John S Chipman Andr Gunder Frank Martha Fuentes Frank Niles Hansen Murray C Kemp Robin Marris Richard Musgrave Walt Rostow Donald J Savoie Nicholas Spulber and Paul Streeten Higgins himself contributes a chapter on basic concepts and collaborates with Donald Savoie on the final chapter Gender Equality and Economic Development K.P. Yadav, 2006 Highlights the struggle for gender equality led mostly by women but by a growing number of men Considers issues of human progress in the areas of social economic and political life Appends a short version of the recommendations of the National Perspective Plan for Women and the 1974 report of the Committee on the Status of Women in India Climate Change and Developing Countries Nijavalli H. Ravindranath, Jayant A.

Sathaye, 2005-12-16 Among global environmental issues climate change has received the largest attention of national and global policy makers researchers industry multilateral banks and NGOs Climate change is one of the most important global environmental problems with unique characteristics It is global long term up to several centuries and involves complex interactions between climatic environmental economic political institutional and technological pressures It is of great significance to developing countries as all the available knowledge suggests that they and particularly their poorer inhabitants are highly vulnerable to climate impacts The projected warming of 1.4 to 5.8 °C by 2100 and the related changes in rainfall pattern rise in sea level and increased frequency of extreme events such as drought hurricanes and storms are likely to threaten food security increase fresh water scarcity lead to decline in biodiversity increase occurrence of vector borne diseases cause flooding of coastal settlements etc Recognizing the potential threat of severe disruptions the United Nations Conference on Environment and Development was organized in 1992 in Rio de Janeiro Brazil to begin to address ways to reduce these impacts which led to the formulation of the UN Framework Convention on Climate Change This Convention and the subsequent Kyoto Protocol recognize the common but differentiated responsibility of developing and industrialized countries in addressing climate change Developing countries thus have a unique role to play in formulating a sound reasoned and well informed response to the threat of climate change Economic Development in the Third
