The Development of the Economies of Continental Europe 1850-1914 (Routledge Revivals) Alan Milward, S. Saul, 2012-08-06 This work first published in 1977 is a reissue of a trailblazing work the first textbook of economic history to deal comprehensively with the economic development of the whole continent in this period and to do so from a continental rather than a British perspective But it is more than merely a textbook it is an interpretative synthesis of the wide range of research on this subject in many countries As such it will be an indispensable guide for teachers and will extend and improve the scope of teaching by making available for the first time in English the results of continental research In addition it is a work of fundamental interest to economists in which theories and hypotheses of economic development are now examined in a much wider historical context In this way the book is an exploration of the objective validity of earlier theories and the starting point for further research into economic development and European history The work covers the continental development of the German and French economies after 1870 and then in that context analyses the development of the smaller western economies It then considers the relatively underdeveloped economies of eastern and southern Europe and includes the first attempt at a synthesis of economic development before 1914 in the Balkans It concludes with an analysis of the international economy and its relationship to the economic development of the continent

Case Studies in the Origins of Capitalism Xavier Lafrance, Charles Post, 2018-09-19 This edited volume builds and expands on the groundbreaking work of Robert Brenner and Ellen Meiksins Wood on the origins of capitalism Whereas Brenner and Wood focused mostly on the emergence of capitalism in the English countryside agrarian capitalism this book utilizes their approach to offer original theoretically sophisticated and empirically informed accounts of transitions to capitalism both agrarian and industrial in a wide range of countries in order to provide within a single volume a diverse collection of relatively brief yet detailed case studies of the historical transition to capitalism distributed across three continents Offering a new and highly original analysis of the global spread of capitalism this book will be a unique contribution to the longstanding debate on the transition to capitalism

The French Revolutionary Tradition in Russian and Soviet Politics, Political Thought, and Culture Jay Bergman, 2019 The Bolsheviks sought legitimacy and inspiration in historic revolutionary traditions and Jay Bergman argues that they saw the revolutions in France in 1789 1830 1848 and 1871 as supplying practically everything Marxism lacked including guidance in constructing socialism and communism and useful fodder for political and personal polemics

Class, Politics, and Early Industrial Capitalism Ronald Aminzade, 1981-06-30 Ronald Aminzade provides an original analysis of how the development of early industrial capitalism transformed the political landscape in mid nineteenth century France and gave rise to the revolutionary political upheavals of 1848 and 1871 In a detailed local case study of the city of Toulouse the author carefully documents how the developing solidarities and antagonisms of social class were reflected in the changing character of working class associations cultural institutions collective actions and political ideologies Aminzade employs a coherent and sophisticated Marxist class analysis to systematically explore a wide variety of important issues ranging from the changing organization of the industrial workplace to the decline of patronage politics and the central role of artisans in revolutionary working class politics His study of the role of the Republican party in forging the changing political class alliances of the period and his analysis of the contradictory character of working class political incorporation and repression are provocative and incisive The book concludes with a theoretical interpretation of the concept of hegemony exploring the role of ideologies political parties and the state in the development of hegemonic forms of class domination

Engineering Labour Peter Meiksins, Chris Smith, Boel Berner, 1996-08-17 Engineers often perceived as central agents of industrial capitalism are thought to be the same in all capitalist societies occupying roughly the same social status and performing similar functions in the capitalist enterprise What the essays in this volume reveal however is that engineers are trained and organized quite distinctly in different national contexts The book includes case studies of engineers in six major industrial economies Japan France Germany Sweden Britain and the United States Through a comparison of these six cases the authors develop an approach to national differences which both retains the place of historical diversity in the experience of capitalism and accommodates the forces of convergence from increasing globalisation and economic integration Contributions from Boel Berner Stephen Crawford Kees Gispén Kevin McCormick and Peter Whalley

Twilight of the Money Gods John Rapley, 2017-07-13 Imagine one day you went to a cash machine and found your money was gone You rushed to your branch where a teller said that overnight people had stopped believing in money and it all vanished Seem incredible It happened and it could happen again Twilight of the Money Gods is the story of economics told not as the science it strove to be but as the religion it became Over two centuries it searched for the hidden codes which would reveal the path to a promised land of material abundance While its prophets from Adam Smith to John Maynard Keynes and Milton Friedman concerned themselves with the human condition its priesthood gradually grew remote from its followers until it lost sight of their tribulations Today amid a crisis of faith in their expertise we must re imagine an economics for a new era one filled with both danger and opportunity

The Decline of the Third Republic, 1914-1938 Philippe Bernard, Henri Dubief, 1988-02-26 This book provides a detailed account of the Third Republic in France between the outbreak and conduct of the First World War and the fall of Leon Blum s Front Populaire soon after Hitler s invasion and annexation of Austria in 1938 Following the trauma of war France slipped into the era of illusions which despite the comparative prosperity of the 1920s led to the slump and the severe social and economic unrest of the 1930s The short lived experiment of Blum s Front Populaire gave way to more conservatively based ministries but by 1938 a new common enemy began to draw together the political opinion of the country

Cubism in the Shadow of War David Cottington, 1998-01-01 This groundbreaking book provides a major reassessment of the history and significance of cubism David Cottington examines the cubist movement and sets it within the complex political economic and cultural forces of pre World War I France Cubism as a part of the Parisian artistic avant garde played an integral role in the turbulent Belle Epoque The author focuses on cubisms relation to the particular discourses of nationalism aestheticism gender the social purpose of art that gave meaning to the experience of modernity in Paris in the decade before the war In Part I of the book the author discusses the cubist conjuncture the years that followed the collapse of the Bloc des Gauches The Bloc more than a parliamentary alliance represented an effort of collaboration between the liberal middle class and sectors of the working class led by Parisian intellectuals and artists future cubists among them In the wake of the Blocs failure workers withdrew into trade unionism and artists into aesthetic avant gardism Cottington analyzes this consolidation of the artistic avant garde its relation to the expanding dealer centered art market and the dominant and counter discourses of the day In Part II he considers specific aspects of cubist art and the cubist movement from the conservative modernism of the paintings of Le Fauconnier and Gleizes to the aestheticism of Picassos papiers coll s to the collective architectural and interior design project of the cubist house These examples and others Cottington concludes reveal cubism as a contradictory and unstable constellation of interests and practices sometimes complicit with dominant social and political forces sometimes opposed to them but in every case shaped by them

States and Social Revolutions Theda Skocpol, 2015-09-29 State structures international forces and class relations Theda Skocpol shows how all three combine to explain the origins and accomplishments of social revolutionary transformations Social revolutions have been rare but undeniably of enormous importance in modern world history States and Social Revolutions provides a new frame of reference for analyzing the causes the conflicts and the outcomes of such revolutions It develops a rigorous comparative historical analysis of three major cases the French Revolution of 1787 through the early 1800s the Russian Revolution of 1917 through the 1930s and the Chinese Revolution of 1911 through the 1960s Believing that existing theories of revolution both Marxist and non Marxist are inadequate to explain the actual historical patterns of revolutions Skocpol urges us to adopt fresh perspectives Above all she maintains that states conceived as administrative and coercive organizations potentially autonomous from class controls and interests must be made central to explanations of revolutions

The History of French Literature on Film Kate Griffiths, Andrew Watts, 2020-12-24 French novels plays poems and short stories however temporally or culturally distant from us continue to be incarnated and reincarnated on cinema screens across the world From the silent films of Georges Méliès to the Hollywood production of Gustave Flaubert's Madame Bovary directed by Sophie Barthes The History of French Literature on Film explores the key films directors and movements that have shaped the adaptation of works by French authors since the end of the 19th century Across six chapters Griffiths and Watts examine the factors that have driven this vibrant adaptive industry as filmmakers have turned to literature in search of commercial profits cultural legitimacy and stories rich in dramatic potential The volume also explains how the work of theorists from a variety of disciplines literary theory translation theory adaptation theory can help to deepen both our understanding and our appreciation of literary adaptation as a creative practice Finally this volume seeks to make clear that adaptation is never a simple transcription of an earlier literary work It is always simultaneously an adaptation of the society and era for which it is created Adaptations of French literature are thus not only valuable artistic artefacts in their own right so too are they important historical documents which testify to the values and tastes of their own time
