Emerging Concepts in Urban Space Design Professor Geoffrey Broadbent, Geoffrey Broadbent, 2003-09-06 This important work now available in paperback from Professor Geoffrey Broadbent provides a clear analysis of the nature of many of today's design problems identifying their causes in history and suggesting a basis for coordinated solutions The author discusses picturesque and formal tendencies in modern architecture relating them to parallels between philosophic thought and design theory through the ages Using a wealth of international examples from around the world including America UK Italy Germany and France and with over 250 photographs and illustrations Emerging Concepts in Space Design offers a fascinating insight into the history and likely future directions of urban design

Violent Acts and Urban Space in Contemporary Tel Aviv Tali Hatuka, 2010-05-01 Violent acts over the past fifteen years have profoundly altered civil rituals cultural identity and the meaning of place in Tel Aviv Three events in particular have shed light on the global rule of urban space in the struggle for territory resources and power the assassination of Prime Minister Rabin in 1995 in the city council square the suicidal bombing at the Dolphinarium Discotheque along the shoreline in 2001 and bombings in the Neve Shaanan neighborhood in 2003 Tali Hatuka uses an interdisciplinary framework of urban theory and sociopolitical theory to shed light on the discourse regarding violent events to include an analysis of the physical space where these events take place She exposes the complex relationships among local groups the state and the city challenging the national discourse by offering a fresh interpretation of contesting forces and their effect on the urban environment Perhaps the most valuable contribution of this book is its critical assessment of the current Israeli reality which is affected by violent events that continually alter the everyday life of its citizens Although these events have been widely publicized by the media there is scant literature focusing on their impact on the urban spaces where people live and meet In addition Hatuka shows how sociopolitical events become crucial defining moments in contemporary lived experience allowing us to examine universal questions about the way democracy ideology and memory are manifested in the city

Cities for the New Millennium Marcial Echenique, Andrew Saint, 2014-04-04 Cities for the New Millennium is the outcome of a joint conference held in Salford in July 2000 by the Royal Institute of British Architects and the University of Cambridge's Department of Architecture It tackles these questions in the light of the Urban Task Force's report about the future of Britain's cities and communities but sets them in an international and historical context Professionals architects engineers and developers as well as academics from different countries and disciplines here lavish their expertise on issues of transportation density land use risk and energy saving others present urban scale buildings or landscapes that have been judged inspirational or inventive This book therefore is not just about theories of urbanism It reveals how co operation and debate between different parties and professions can illuminate the creative kind of urban development we should be aiming for

The Urban Design Reader Michael Larice, Elizabeth Macdonald, 2013-05-07 The second edition of The Urban Design Reader draws together the very best of classic and contemporary writings to illuminate and expand the theory and practice of urban design Nearly 50 generous selections include seminal contributions from Howard Le Corbusier Lynch and Jacobs to more recent writings by Waldheim Koolhaas and Sorkin Following the widespread success of the first edition of The Urban Design Reader this updated edition continues to provide the most important historical material of the urban design field but also introduces new topics and selections that address the myriad challenges facing designers today The six part structure of the second edition guides the reader through the history theory and practice of urban design The reader is initially introduced to those classic writings that provide the historical precedents for city making into the twentieth century Part Two introduces the voices and ideas that were instrumental in establishing the foundations of the urban design field from the late 1950s up to the mid 1990s These authors present a critical reading of the design professions and offer an alternative urban design agenda focused on vital and lively places The authors in Part Three provide a range of urban design rationales and strategies for reinforcing local physical identity and the creation of memorable places These selections are largely describing the outcomes of mid century urban design and voicing concerns over the placeless quality of contemporary urbanism The fourth part of the Reader explores key issues in urban design and development Ideas about sprawl density community health public space and everyday life are the primary focus here Several new selections in this part of the book also highlight important international development trends in the Middle East and China Part Five presents environmental challenges faced by the built environment professions today including recent material on landscape urbanism sustainability and urban resiliency The final part examines professional practice and current debates in the field where urban designers work what they do their roles their fields of knowledge and their educational development The section concludes with several position pieces and debates on the future of urban design practice This book provides an essential resource for students and practitioners of urban design drawing together important but widely dispersed writings Part and section introductions are provided to assist readers in understanding the context of the material summary messages impacts of the writing and how they fit into the larger picture of the urban design field

Experience and Conflict: The Production of Urban Space Panu Lehtovuori, 2016-12-05 When designing, planning and building urban spaces, many contradictory and conflicting actors, practices and agendas coexist. This book propounds that at present, this process is conducted in an artificial reality. Concept City, characterized by a simplified and outdated conception of space, provides a constructive critique of the concepts underlying the practices of planning and architecture and, in order to facilitate more dynamic, inclusive and subtle practices, it formulates a new theory about space in general and public urban space in particular The central notions in this theory are temporality experiment and conflict which are grounded on empirical observations in Helsinki Manchester and Berlin While the book contextualizes Lefebvre s ideas on urban planning and architecture it is in no way limited to Lefebvorean discourse but allows insights to new theoretical work including that of Finnish and Swedish authors In doing so it suggests and develops exciting new approaches and tools leading to experiential urbanism
