unequal education of women and domestic subjugation Mary counters the contemporary trend of weak emotional heroines with the story of an intelligent and creative young woman who educates herself through her close friendships with men and women Darker and more overtly feminist The Wrongs of Woman is set in an insane asylum where a young woman has been wrongly imprisoned by her husband By presenting the novellas in light of such texts as Wollstonecraft's letters her polemical and educational prose similar works by other feminists and political reformists the literature of sentiment and contemporary medical texts this edition encourages an appreciation of the complexity and sophistication of Wollstonecraft's writing goals as a radical feminist in the 1790s

The Seduction Narrative in Britain, 1747-1800 Katherine Binhammer, 2009-09-24

Eighteenth century literature displays a fascination with the seduction of a virtuous young heroine most famously illustrated by Samuel Richardson's Clarissa and repeated in 1790s radical women's novels in the many memoirs by fictional or real penitent prostitutes and in street print Across fiction ballads essays and miscellanies stories were told of women's mistaken belief in their lovers' vows In this book Katherine Binhammer surveys seduction narratives from the late eighteenth century within the context of the new ideal of marriage for love and shows how these tales tell varying stories of women's emotional and sexual lives Drawing on new historicism feminism and narrative theory Binhammer argues that the seduction narrative allowed writers to explore different fates for the heroine than the domesticity that became the dominant form in later literature This study will appeal to scholars of eighteenth century literature social and cultural history and women's and gender studies
