Emotions And Learning Reconsidered International Perspectives:

Emotions and Learning Reconsidered Kay Field, Edward Kaufman, Charles Saltzman (B.S.), 1993 Smart But Stuck Myrna Orenstein, 2012-12-06 Smart But Stuck Second Edition is an updated look at how smart people with learning gaps can not only overcome them but become successful in learning and life The new edition of this classic explores the emotional aspects of learning disabilities and imprisoned intelligence showing how and why smart people with learning disabilities are resilient in getting help in order to struggle survive and achieve The book also includes new material on the relationship between learning disabilities and neuroscience and a new foreword by Joseph Palombo Founding Dean of the Institute for Clinical Social Work in Chicago The Clinical Practice of Educational Therapy Maxine Ficksman, Jane Utley Adelizzi, 2013-05-13 The Clinical Practice of Educational Therapy is the first book to provide a comprehensive review of the interdisciplinary profession and practice of educational therapy as it exists today It describes the scope and practice of educational therapy from its European roots to its growing presence in the United States and provides case studies to illustrate the work of educational therapists Key Features Interdisciplinary Perspective Other books focus on either educational or therapeutic interventions but rarely discuss the blend and synergy of disciplines that are the hallmark of the profession Illustrative Cases The text draws heavily on case studies as a means of understanding the practice of educational therapy especially the relationship between therapist and client Expertise Chapter authors are either experienced educational therapists or allied professionals who have made scholarly contributions to the profession such as Dorothy Ungerleider Patricia Waters Roslyn Arnold and George McCloskey In addition to educational therapy students and practitioners this book is appropriate for those working in related fields including special education school psychology school counseling and social work in educational settings When Love Is Not Enough Donna Piazza, PHD, 2014-05-22 When Love Is Not Enough relates how a multitude of factors the competence of staff the safety nurturing and protective elements of the emotional physical and political setting and all overt and covert organizational dynamics determine whether or not a treatment setting accomplishes its therapeutic aims Authors in When Love Is Not Enough continue the emphasis on the group as a whole Group Relation model of organizational and group processes begun with Wilfred Bion's work at the Tavistock Clinic in London in the 1940s This model helps those providing services to children and adolescents evaluate their treatment programs and make the necessary changes toward improvement Chapters in When Love Is Not Enough are dedicated to improving the psychological treatment of children and adolescents in postmodern society a society in which life in interdependent communities is becoming increasingly important for the health and survival of all persons Topics covered include the Tavistock approach to understanding group and organizational behavior the emphasis on group as a whole in problem solving and treatment design narrowing the gap between plan and outcome the dynamics involved in the psychiatric treatment of children issues of staff selection training and development in programs designed to treat children

countertransference responses in the treatment of children and adolescents revitalizing organizations the subjective experience of school life When Love Is Not Enough helps organizations realize the ways in which they may inadvertently undermine the emotional and cognitive functioning of the staff or the identified patients and set serious limits on the growth of members of the organization staff and patients alike It urges organizations to conduct an ongoing self scrutiny concerning their rational and irrational processes as this self examination is crucial to the health and vitality of the treatment offered to others The book also promotes thinking of the conscious and unconscious dynamics of the group as a whole to more completely inform organizational decisions concerning changes that may enhance the treatment of children and adolescents When Love Is Not Enough serves as an invaluable guide for mental health professionals who treat children and adolescents group therapists hospital and clinic administrators psychoanalysts nurses social workers psychologists and psychiatrists

Hong Kong participate in or stand apart from the ongoing ethics of protest in historical China The clear structure and accessible writing offer a rigorous assessment of the ways in which morality can be interpreted shedding light on differences between China and Western cultures The book also provides a timely window into Chinese forms of morality and the pivotal role these play in social organization family relationships systems of government emotion and cognition Representing fields of study ranging from philosophy linguistics archaeology history and religion to social psychology neuroscience clinical psychology developmental psychology and behavioral ecology this is an essential text for students academics and others with wide interest in Chinese culture Big Theories Revisited 2 Gregory Arief D. Liem, Dennis M. McInerney, 2018-04-01

Students school motivation and engagement are key contributors to the quality of their academic learning and performance as well as growth in other important areas of life social emotional and physical health Fostering motivation and engagement is thus a meaningful educational purpose both in and of itself and as a pathway to holistic student development However motivation and engagement do not develop in a vacuum and effort seeking to facilitate them cannot be effectively pursued without understanding their underpinning sociocultural influences In the first edition of this volume Big Theories Revisited McInerney Van Etten 2004 authors of major models of school motivation and engagement were challenged to look into their theoretical work through a sociocultural lens The volume has been well received as objectively reflected in the number of citations of its chapters Significant progress has since been made in the theorizing and research of big theories of school motivation and engagement In this volume we invited a group of internationally renowned scholars to re examine their theoretical and conceptual work by highlighting the what factors and how processes of sociocultural influences in association with the key motivation and or engagement constructs of their expertise We made it clear to our contributors that we solicited new chapters rather than chapters with merely rehashed materials As a result this volume Big Theories Revisited 2 Liem McInerney 2018 contains chapters that critically discuss sociocultural influences on school motivation and engagement constructs as viewed from focal theories including self determination theory achievement goal theory personal investment theory expectancy value theory self efficacy theory self and co regulated learning models and many others Whereas some of the chapter topics covered in the initial edition are also part of this edition some are new and provide fresh sociocultural angles on achievement relevant processes and outcomes Likewise whereas some of the authors contributed to the earlier edition of the Volume many of them are different What appears to be the same across the two editions is the scholarly distinction of the authors and the substantive rigor of the chapters in advancing our current understanding of this field of enquiry Readers will learn much from and be inspired by stimulating ideas presented in this volume Musical Creativity Revisited Oscar Odena, 2018-03-20 How is creativity understood and facilitated across music education settings What is the power of creativity in enhancing individual and group learning How is musical creativity used as a tool for cross community integration How can we research the interactions of those engaged in musical activities aimed at creative development These are just some of the questions addressed in this fascinating new monograph Musical Creativity Revisited is an authoritative volume of insights from theory practice based research and methodological analyses Its chapters celebrate the diversity of the many different ways in which young and adult learners develop musical creativity Following on from Musical Creativity Insights from Music Education Research Ashgate 2012 Odena offers novel examples from practice and precise suggestions on how to research it This book will be an essential point of reference for students researchers practitioners and practitioner researchers interested in music education and creativity across the arts and social sciences The chapters have been organized into three sections Foundations Practices and Research including examples from in depth studies focussed on a secondary school in England higher music education in Spain and out of school settings in Northern Ireland This is a book that will fascinate readers inspiring them to think deeply about the many different ways in which musical creativity can be developed its purposes and how to research it

Reconsidering Resilience in Education Adeela ahmed Shafi,Tristan Middleton,Richard Millican,Sian Templeton,2020-09-03 This book explores the concept of resilience and its significance in responding to a rapid and ever changing globalised world whilst critiquing its buzzword status in contemporary times Drawing on research from a range of educational settings the book demonstrates that the resilience of individuals and their surrounding systems should not be viewed in isolation and that the interplay between individual resilience community resilience and resilient societies is complex and symbiotic On this basis it illustrates that efforts to promote resilience would benefit from a systems approach capable of coping with this complexity Using the ideas of agency and the power of self determinism a development of Bronfenbrenner s bio ecological model is presented to illustrate the complexity of their interplay Existing models of resilience are developed with the book offering the Dynamic Interactive Model of Resilience DIMoR as a way to analyse and support resilience which moves beyond a reductionist descriptive and fashionable presentation of resilience

Global Perspectives on Education Research, Vol. II Liesel Ebersöhn,Ingrid Gogolin,2023-05-31 Presenting a wide range of new research from World Education Research Association WERA affiliated scholars pertaining to democracy and education this volume including topics such as school readiness in Mongolia high stakes teacher evaluation policy in Japan and family and community involvement in global educational advocacy This collection arrives at a time of extreme global challenges leaving researchers teachers students families and policymakers without a baseline of how to act react and be proactive to stem the chronic flow of disruption to global education systems These challenges require researchers worldwide to consider how evidence can support individuals and systems to buffer against extreme global health distress and conflict whilst simultaneously supporting the continued functioning of education systems and processes Such processes must allow students teachers leaders administrators and members of the educational communities to retain positive self esteem and maintain supportive relationships and systems that provide the appropriate conditions for such processes Global Perspectives on Education Research pulls together contributions from different contexts and cultures to distil vistas and research results that can enlighten a worldwide community of researchers education professionals and practitioners as well as policymakers and local national or supra national decision makers This text is also the ideal companion for educators and leaders alike as they navigate the uncertainty within global health and social justice
