Empires Ruins And Networks:

Empires, Ruins Plus Networks Scott McQuire, Nikos Papastergiadis, 2005 Examines the place of art in a world that is deliberately polarised by the fear of terrorism This is a collection of essays compiled from The Empires Ruins Networks conference held in September 2004 which sets out to provoke a dialogue between art and politics The Key Issues Concerning Contemporary Art Gary Willis, 2010 This thesis argues that the contemporary artist's objective is the production of new social space and the institution of new cultural knowledge It does this by drawing an unexpected parallel between the social and political expectations facing the contemporary artist and the deepest philosophic conception of the artist's function It traces art's historical trajectory from 20th century modernism post modernism to post colonialism from a broad range of critical theoretical and curatorial perspectives Migration into art Anne Ring Petersen, 2017-12-13 This book addresses a topic of increasing importance to artists art historians and scholars of cultural studies migration studies and international relations migration as a profoundly transforming force that has remodelled artistic and art institutional practices across the world It explores contemporary art's critical engagement with migration and globalisation as a key source for improving our understanding of how these processes transform identities cultures institutions and geopolitics The author explores three interwoven issues of enduring interest identity and belonging institutional visibility and recognition of migrant artists and the interrelations between aesthetics and politics including the balancing of aesthetics politics and ethics in representations of forced migration Image Politics of Climate Change Birgit Schneider, Thomas Nocke, 2014-06-15 Scientific research on climate change has given rise to a variety of images picturing climate change These range from colorful expert graphics model visualizations photographs of extreme weather events like floods droughts or melting ice symbols like polar bears to animated and interactive visualizations Climate change graphics have not only increased knowledge about the subject they have begun to influence popular awareness of global weather events The status of climate pictures today is particularly crucial as global climate change as a long term process cannot be seen When images are widely distributed they are able to shape how the world is thought about and seen It is this implicit basic assumption of the power of images to influence reality that this book addresses today's images might become the blueprint for tomorrow's realities Image Politics of Climate Change combines a wide interdisciplinary range of perspectives and questions treated here in sixteen interdisciplinary case studies The author's specializations include both visual practice and theory in the fields of climate sciences computer graphics art curating art history and visual studies communication and cultural science environmental and science technology studies The close interlinking of these viewpoints promotes in depth insights into issues of production and analysis of climate visualization The Ghostly and the Ghosted in Literature and Film Lisa B. Kröger, Melanie Anderson, 2013-03-14 The Ghostly and the Ghosted in Literature and Film Spectral Identities is a collection of essays expanding the concepts of ghost and haunting beyond literary tools used to add supernatural flavor to include questions of identity visibility memory and trauma and history Using a wide scope of texts from varying time periods and cultures including fiction and film this collection explores the phenomenon of social ghosts What does it mean for example to be invisible to be a ghost particularly when that ghost is representative of a person or group living on the margins of society Why do specific types of ghosts tend to haunt certain cultures and or places What is it about a people s history that invites these types of hauntings The essays in this book like pieces of a puzzle approach the larger questions from diverse individual perspectives but taken together they offer a richly detailed composite discussion of what it means to be haunted The

Media City Scott McQuire,2008-02-21 If only more new media commentators had this level of historical critical reference engaging good stories and a degree of wonder at what media and windows bring to the city to life John Hutnyk Goldsmiths University of London Just when you thought the last word had been said about cities and media along comes Scott McQuire to breathe new life into the debate When revisiting existing pathways his always ingenious eyes produce startling and original insights When striking out into new territory he opens up before us inspiring new vistas I love this book James Donald University of New South Wales A book that crams into a single chapter more insights and illustrations than seems feasible yet which ties all threads together through a consistent theoretically rich analysis of the interplay of media and city Writing with effusiveness uncharacteristic of back cover blurbs on academic tomes James Donald says I love this book But I will end by echoing his praise and make a promise to readers you will love The Media City too European Journal of Communication Refreshingly clear getting to grips with some of the key concepts of urban sociology in a way that moves beyond the wistful evocation and splatter of undigested terms that characterises so much academic writing on culture and cities Media Culture Society Significant changes are occurring in the spaces and rhythms of contemporary cities and in the social functioning of media This forceful book argues that the redefinition of urban space by mobile instantaneous and pervasive media is producing a distinctive mode of social experience Media are no longer separate from the city Instead the proliferation of spatialized media platforms has produced a media architecture complex the media city Offering critical and historical analysis at the deepest levels The Media City links the formation of the modern city to the development of modern image technologies and outlines a new genealogy for assessing contemporary developments such as digital networks and digital architecture web cams and public screens surveillance society and reality television Wide ranging and thoughtfully illustrated it intersects disciplines and connects phenomena which are too often left isolated from each other to propose a new way of understanding public and private space and social life in contemporary cities It will find a broad readership in media and communications cultural studies social theory urban sociology architecture and art history Winner of the 2009 Jane Jacobs Urban Communication Award awarded by the Urban Communication Association Cultures and / of Globalization Barrie Axford,Richard Huggins,2011-07-12 This book explores the ways in which study of culture as the realm of meaning and identity can inform current debates about globalization and thus afford greater understanding of emergent globalities By drawing on a range of disciplinary and sub disciplinary expertise from across the social sciences and also promoting areas of cross disciplinary research the book contributes to the development of theory on globalization and also provides some significant illustrations of cultural globalization in practice through attention to novel empirical sites and issues These include eminently cultural realms such as music film and architecture and those that are invested with a strong cultural component such as migration and education Contributions emphasise the soft features of globalization and globality and most look to marry theoretical abstraction with everyday aspects of global processes focusing on those routine and sometimes conscious connections and accommodations that make up daily life in a globalized world In doing so the book itself can be seen as a contribution to critical and multidimensional studies of globalization and as engaging in a form of global practice

Dark Writing Paul Carter, 2008-10-31 We do not see empty figures and outlines we do not move in straight lines Everywhere we are surrounded by dapple the geometry of our embodied lives is curviform meandering bi pedal Our personal worlds are timed inter positional and contingent But nowhere in the language of cartography and design do these ordinary experiences appear This Dark Writing argues is a serious omission because they are designs on the world architects and colonizers use their lines to construct the places where we will live But the rectilinear streets squares and public spaces produced in this way leave out people and the entire environmental history of their coming together How this book asks can we explain the omission of bodies from maps and plans And how can we redraw the lines maps and plans use so that the qualitative world of shadows footprints comings and goings and occasions all essential qualities of places that incubate sociality can be registered In short Dark Writing asks why we represent the world as static when our experience of it is mobile It traces this bias in Enlightenment cartography in inductive logic and in contemporary place design This is the negative critique Its positive argument is that when we look closely at these designs on the world we find traces of a repressed movement form Even the ideal lines of geometrical figures turn out to contain traces of earlier passages and there are many forms of graphic design that do engage with the dark environment that surrounds the light of reason How can this dark writing so important to reconfiguring our world as a place of meeting of co existence and sustaining diversity be represented And how therefore can our representations of the world embody more sensuously the mobile histories that have produced it Dark Writing answers these questions using case studies the exemplary case of the beginnings of the now world famous Papunya Tula Painting Movement Central Australia and three high profile public place making initiatives in which the author was involved as artist and thinker These case studies are nested inside historical chapters and philosophical discussions of the line and linear thinking that make Dark Writing both a highly personal book and a narrative with wide general appeal

Festivals and the Cultural Public Sphere Gerard Delanty, Liana Giorgi, Monica Sassatelli, 2011-04-27 Festivals and the Cultural Public Sphere provides the first major social scientific study of these festivals in the wake of their explosion in popularity over the past decade It explores the cultural significance of contemporary arts festivals from their location within the cultural public sphere examining them as sites for contestation and democratic debate and also identifying them as examples of a particular aesthetic cosmopolitanism The book approaches contemporary festivals as relatively autonomous social texts that need interpretation and contextualisation This perspective combined with a diversified set of theoretical approaches and research methods and guided by a common thematic rationale places the volume squarely within some of the most debated topics in current social sciences Furthermore the multifaceted nature of festivals allows for unusual but useful connections to be made across several fields of social inquiry This timely edited collection brings together contributions from key figures across the social sciences and proves to be valuable reading for undergraduate students postgraduates and professionals working within the areas of contemporary social theory cultural theory and visual culture

Confronting the Machine Boris Magrini, 2017-03-20 Artists who work with new media generally adopt a critical media approach in contrast to artists who work with traditional art media Where does the difference lie between media artists and artists who produce modern art Which key art objects illustrate this trend The author investigates the relationship between art and technology on the basis of work produced by Edward Ihnatowicz and Harald Cohen and on the basis of the pioneering computer art exhibition at Dokumenta X in 1997 His line of argument counters the generally held view that computer art straddles the gap between art and technology Instead he is seeking a genuine interpretation of the origin of media art and to develop new perspectives for it

Creative Frictions

Cecelia Cmielewski, 2021-08-17 Creative Frictions explores the relationship between visionary aspects of practice and policy. Despite over 30 years of arts and cultural policy attention, there remains a widespread view among the general public and artists alike that creative production does not reflect Australia's culturally diverse population. Australia's increasingly complex society can no longer be confined to essentialised or traditional definitions of ethnic communities. While this diversity and its emerging complexity can be celebrated as a source of creativity and innovation, it can also give rise to social, political, and creative challenges. A key challenge that remains for the arts sector is its ability to support the creative expression of cultural difference. One measure of inclusive creative production is to look at the participation of artists of non-English speaking backgrounds (NESBs), a problematic term discussed in the book. There are half as many NESB artists compared to those of other professions participating in the workforce, and while underrepresentation is an issue for management in the arts sector, the question of representation also benefits from being understood more broadly beyond the narrow sense of multiculturalism as a tool to manage cultural difference. This book explores the crucial role of creative leaders and how they work with the mainstream while maintaining their creative integrity and independence to generate a virtuous circle of change. Creative Frictions argues that it is the NESB artists who lead change in the arts sector and that creative and organisational leadership working in partnership make creative use of friction and develop the necessary trust to generate the traction for a supportive multicultural arts milieu.

Placing the Border in Everyday Life Reece Jones, Corey Johnson, 2016-04-22. Bordering no longer happens only at the borderline separating two sovereign states but rather through a wide range of practices and decisions that occur in multiple locations within and beyond the state's territory. Nevertheless, it is too simplistic to suggest that borders are everywhere since this view fails to acknowledge that particular sites are significant nodes where border work is done. Similarly, border work is more likely to be done by particular people than others. This book investigates the diffusion of bordering narratives and practices by asking who borders and how. Placing the Border in Everyday Life complicates the connection between borders and sovereign states by identifying the individuals and organizations that engage in border work at a range of scales and places. This edited volume includes contributions from major international scholars in the field of border studies and allied disciplines who analyze where and why border work is done. By combining a new theorization of border work beyond the state with rich empirical case studies, this book makes a ground-breaking contribution to the study of borders and the state in the era of globalization.

globalization Unique analysis of the contemporary art market and its operation in a globalized economy The Routledge Companion to Art in the Public Realm Cameron Cartiere, Leon Tan, 2020-10-19 This multidisciplinary companion offers a comprehensive overview of the global arena of public art It is organised around four distinct topics activation social justice memory and identity and ecology with a final chapter mapping significant works of public and social practice art around the world between 2008 and 2018 The thematic approach brings into view similarities and differences in the recent globalisation of public art practices while the multidisciplinary emphasis allows for a consideration of the complex outcomes and consequences of such practices as they engage different disciplines and communities and affect a diversity of audiences beyond the existing art world The book will highlight an international selection of artist projects that illustrate the themes This book will be of interest to scholars in contemporary art art history urban studies and museum studies Selected Writings, Volume 2 Okwui Enwezor, 2025-08-05 Selected Writings is a landmark two volume set of writings by the transformational art curator Okwui Enwezor that demonstrates his tireless efforts to decolonize the global contemporary art world Critical Border Studies Noel Parker, Nick Vaughan-Williams, 2016-03-23 This edited collection formalises Critical Border Studies CBS as a distinctive approach within the interdisciplinary border studies literature Although CBS represents a heterogeneous assemblage of thought the hallmark of the approach is a basic dissatisfaction with the Line in the Sand metaphor as an unexamined starting point for the study of borders A headline feature of each contribution gathered here is a concerted effort to decentre the border By decentring we mean an effort to problematise the border not as taken for granted entity but precisely as a site of investigation On this view the border is not something that straightforwardly presents itself in an unmediated way It is never simply present nor fully established nor obviously accessible Rather it is manifold and in a constant state of becoming Empirically contributors examine the changing nature of the border in a range of cases including the Arctic Circle German Dutch borderlands the India Pakistan region and the Mediterranean Sea Theoretically chapters draw on a range of critical thinkers in support of a new paradigm for border research The volume will be of particular interest to border studies scholars in anthropology human geography international relations and political science Critical Border Studies was published as a special issue of Geopolitics The SAGE Handbook of Film Studies James Donald, Michael Renov, 2008-04-16 Written by a team of veteran scholars and exciting emerging talents The SAGE Handbook of Film Studies maps the field internationally drawing out regional differences in the way that systematic intellectual reflection on cinema and film has been translated into an academic discipline It examines the conversations between Film Studies and its contributory disciplines that not only defined a new field of discourse but also modified existing scholarly traditions It reflects on the field's dominant paradigms and debates and evaluates their continuing salience Finally it looks forward optimistically to the future of the medium of film the institution of cinema and the discipline of Film Studies at a time when the very existence of film and cinema are being called into question by new technological industrial and aesthetic
