Empty Hours A Study Week End Life Of Handicapped Children In Institutions:

The Empty Hours Maureen Oswin, 1971 Family Secrets Deborah Cohen, 2017 What did families hide in the past and why By delving into the familial dynamics of shame and guilt Family Secrets investigates the part that families so often regarded as the agents of repression have played in the transformation of social mores from the Victorian era to the present day Parents and Young Mentally Handicapped Children Helen McConachie, 2016-01-08 First published in 1986 this book reviews research on the role parents play in fostering the early development of children with mental handicaps Professionals and parents must work together to give such children the chance of living as ordinary lives as possible and here the author develops a broadly based conceptual framework for the involvement of parents as teachers of their young handicapped children McConachie identifies characteristics of parents which seem of particular relevance to the design and success of intervention programmes Although written in the 1980s this book discusses topics that are still important today Disability and Child Sexual Abuse Martina Higgins, John Swain, 2010 Disability and Child Sexual Abuse examines the ways in which society marginalises institutionalises and places disabled children in situations of unacceptable risk and how as evidenced in the survivors narratives patterns of service delivery can contribute to the problem Based on the accounts of seven disabled individuals who were sexually abused in childhood the book highlights a wide range of pertinent issues Through case vignettes and empirical research the authors ask practitioners to scrutinise their current professional practice exploring participants experiences of hospitalisation education systems and local authorities They consider the issue of who abuses and why and highlight issues relating to the complexities involved in revisiting past experiences and confronting unwarranted and unwanted feelings of responsibility The difficulty of recounting the abuse narrative is also examined within the research context This book will be relevant for professionals and students in the social health and education services such as social workers teachers and counsellors It will also offer insights for those seeking a less disablist society including disabled people themselves Disabled Children Anne Borsay, 2015-10-06 This volume of essays attempts to identify the shared experiences of disabled children and examine the key debates about their care and control The essays follow a chronological progression while focusing on the practices in a number of different countries Leaving Residential Care Jim Black, Paul Brearley, Penny Gutridge, Dr Gwyneth Roberts, 2013-07-04 Tavistock Press was established as a co operative venture between the Tavistock Institute and Routledge Kegan Paul RKP in the 1950s to produce a series of major contributions across the social sciences This volume is part of a 2001 reissue of a selection of those important works which have since gone out of print or are difficult to locate Published by Routledge 112 volumes in total are being brought together under the name The International Behavioural and Social Sciences Library Classics from the Tavistock Press Reproduced here in facsimile this volume was originally published in 1982 and is available individually The collection is also available in a number of themed mini sets of between 5 and 13 volumes or as a complete collection Researching Learning Difficulties

Jill Porter, Penny Lacey, 2005 The book will help readers to critically evaluate the implications of research reports for their own practice

The Politics of Childhoods Real and Imagined Priscilla Alderson, 2015-11-23 The second volume of Priscilla Alderson's popular and renowned book Childhoods Real and Imagined relates dialectical critical realism to childhood. By demonstrating their relevance and value to each other Alderson presents a practical introductory guide for applying critical realism to research about children and young people. Each chapter summarises key themes from several academic disciplines and policy areas ranging from climate change and social justice between generations to neoliberalism, social reform and imagining utopias. Children's and adults' views and experiences are reviewed and whereas the first volume deals with more personal and local aspects of childhood this volume widens the scope into debates about global politics which so seldom mention children. Each chapter demonstrates how children and young people are an integral part of the whole of society and are often especially affected by policies and events. This book is written for everyone who is researching, studying or teaching about childhood or who cares for and works with children and young people as well as those interested in critical realist approaches.

Disability and Social Policy in Britain since 1750 Anne Borsay, 2004-11-17 This approachable study explores experiences of physical and mental impairment in Britain since the Industrial Revolution. Using literary, visual and oral sources to complement documentary evidence Anne Borsay pays particular attention to the testimonies of disabled people. Disability and Social Policy in Britain since 1750 places disability policies within their historical context, examines citizenship and social exclusion from a historical perspective. Sketches the key characteristics of modern industrial societies. Focuses on the shifting mixed economy of welfare, the development of social rights and the construction of identity. Assesses institutional living in workhouses, hospitals, asylums and schools. Appraises community living with reference to employment, financial relief and community care. Reviews social policies post 1979. Borsay argues that disabled people were excluded from the full rights of citizenship because they were marginal to the labour market and suggests that history may play a role in raising personal and political consciousness. Containing illustrations and clearly structured this book is an ideal guide for all those with an interest in the history of disability and social policies.

The War on Disabled People Ellen Clifford, 2020-06-18 In 2016 a United Nations report found the UK government culpable for grave and systematic violations of disabled people's rights. Since then, driven by the Tory government's obsessive drive to slash public spending whilst scapegoating the most disadvantaged in society, the situation for disabled people in Britain has continued to deteriorate. Punitive welfare regimes, the removal of essential support and services and an ideological regime that seeks to deny disability has resulted in a situation described by the UN as a human catastrophe. In this searing account Ellen Clifford, an activist who has been at the heart of resistance against the war on disabled people, reveals precisely how and why this state of affairs has come about. From spineless political opposition to self-interested disability charities, rightwing ideological myopia to the media demonization of benefits claimants, a shocking picture emerges of how the government of the fifth richest country in the world has been able to marginalize disabled people with near impunity Even so and despite austerity biting ever deeper the fightback has begun with a vibrant movement of disabled activists and their supporters determined to hold the government to account the slogan Nothing About Us Without Us has never been so apt As this book so powerfully demonstrates if Britain is to stand any chance of being a just and equitable society their battle is one we should all be fighting
