Best, Jim Meikle, 2019-03-27 Accounting for Construction follows on from Measuring Construction edited by the same team. It extends the coverage of some of the material in the first volume and expands the range of related topics to include inter alia shadow economies, accounting for informal construction and the treatment of the built environment sector in national accounts. Taken together, the two volumes collate a range of topics that are only addressed if at all in occasional academic papers and the publications of bodies such as national statistical offices and the World Bank. Accounting for Construction presents international examples from the UK, Australia and New Zealand and from both academic and professional contributors. This book is essential reading for all researchers and professionals interested in construction economics, construction management and anyone interested in how the construction industry affects the global economy in ways previously under-represented in the literature. Construction Management and Organisational Behaviour Maureen Rhoden, 2017-05-02 This book offers a comprehensive and up-to-date account of management ideas and practices focusing on the human relations side of construction management. Easily accessible and suitable for use within the classroom or in distance learning situations, it discusses a range of themes and trends covering evidence-based management practices in the construction industry. A variety of learning elements will be included, such as case studies, projects and review questions, fully supported by interactive web-based material including multiple choice questions, exercises, annotated links to other relevant web sites and an online glossary to explain key terms. Each chapter will also contain annotated further reading, chapter summaries and outline summaries of relevant legislation within the construction industry. Proceedings of the First Southern African Geotechnical Conference S.W.
