Rus,M. Pilar Socorro,Jorge Valido,Javier Campos,2023-08-01 This book is a guide to the economic evaluation of transport policies and investment projects through cost benefit analysis CBA It covers the CBA of transportation projects and policies and introduces the fundamental concepts of CBA before considering their application in real world settings A distinct focus of the book is on the practical applications of CBA It includes real world examples of CBA such as high speed rail investment and the subsidization of air transport which illustrate the importance of using a rigorous analytical framework to evaluate transport projects and policies The primary objective of this book is to present a basic model for the evaluation of transport projects and policies with explicit assumptions and practical evaluation rules derived from it The rules and measurement criteria derived from this model are applied to the examples mentioned above Overall this book is an excellent resource for students practitioners and policymakers involved in transport economics and evaluation as it provides a comprehensive understanding of the principles and applications of CBA in the transport sector General Guidelines to the Analysis of Agricultural Production Projects Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,1991-01-01 Sustainable Rural Transformation Through Agro-Industries U.K. Srivastava,Pramila Srivastava,2018-01-01 Indian economy is undergoing structural changes The share of agriculture and allied activities in GDP has declined over the years On farm Jobs are diminishing or stagnant There is a need to generate off farm jobs through secondary and tertiary processing of agriculture crop horticulture animal husbandry fisheries forest produce raw material and these are not increasing to keep pace with the needs despite potential In India more than 75% of agro processing is done by informal and small enterprises But most informal and small unit suffer from market and technology constraints Therefore they cannot go for higher value addition from the main products and from the by products These informal and small enterprises are not in a position to create an integrated value chain which can have links with the farmers As technology is outmoded these units are not in a position to give quality assurance and meet food safety standards Their products are marketed only in less demanding nearby local markets World over there is transition from informal and small agro industrial enterprises to large units which are competitive in terms of price and quality equitable not exploiting any member of value chain and inclusive treating farmers as strategic business partners rather than adversaries They use latest and innovative technology and have national and international markets for selling their products They enjoy scale economies are able to comply with national and international standards of quality assurance and go for higher level of value addition They can forge linkages with the farmers through contract farming and direct procurement and assure their raw material supply by treating the farmers as strategic business partners But these enterprises require the enabling conditions which make it possible to run the enterprises profitably along with transformation of rural areas Over the years the Government of India and nearly all the State Governments have now created most attractive enabling environment Therefore in our assessment India is poised for a great leap in investments in food processing and marketing The book contains 18 chapters dealing with the entire project cycle of agro industries for sustainable rural transformation The most insightful part is the 12 real life case studies The book would be useful to agro entrepreneurs agro processing industries policy makers bankers management consultants students of agriculture universities cooperative management training institutions and MBA students Cost-Benefit Analysis P. Richard G. Layard,Richard Layard,Stephen Glaister,1994-06-30 Covering all the main problems that arise in a typical cost benefit exercise this second edition reflects the most recent research in the area It considers the main theoretical issues the problem of ascribing a monetary value to things and includes six separate case studies
