Economists in the Cold War Alan Bollard,2023-05-31 Economists in the Cold War is an account of the economic drivers and outcomes of the Cold War told through the stories of seven international economists who were all closely involved in theory and policy in the period 1945-73. For them the Cold War was a battle of economic ideas, a fight between central planning and market allocation, exploring economic thinking derived from the battle between Marxist and Capitalist ideologies, a fundamental difference but with many intricacies. The book recounts how economic theory advanced, how new economic tools were developed and how policies were tested. Each chapter is based on the involvement of one of the selected economists. It was a challenging but dangerous time in economics, a time of economic recovery post-war with industrial rebuilding, economic growth and rising incomes. But it was also a time of ideological warfare, nuclear rivalry, military expansion and personal conflict. The narrative is approximately chronological, ranging from the Potsdam Conference in Germany to the Pinochet Coup in Chile. The selected economists include an American, a Pole, a Hungarian, a German, a British, a Japanese and an Argentinian, all very different economists but with interconnections among them. Each chapter also features a dissenting economist who held a contrasting view and recounts the subsequent economic arguments that played out.

Business & Economics Abraham Kuyper, 2021-02-24. Kuyper on the Positive Potential of Business. In his vast treasury of writings, Abraham Kuyper addressed nearly every sphere of society including politics, science and the arts. But his views on business and economics are often overlooked because he rarely engaged with that sphere directly. Still, his doctrine of common grace has great significance for showing how Christ is at work in the workplace. In this anthology of essays, speeches and reflections, we see Kuyper's attempts to think positively and creatively about the calling and potential of business. Included are his ideas about economic freedom, the eternal value of earthly work, stewardship and philanthropy, economic globalization, the workings of God's grace in business and the social function of money.

Greenhouse Gas Emission (GHG) Reduction and Economic Structural Transformation Rui Xue, Xiaojun Deng, Zhangqi Zhong, An Pan, Bao Zongke, 2025-09-22. With the continuous increase in fossil fuel consumption by industrial sectors, the world is confronted with climate change issues such as environmental pollution and ecological imbalance. Consequently, global environmental governance has become a crucial challenge that relevant stakeholders must address. From the perspective of global governance, it is essential to adhere to the commitments made in the Paris Agreement on Climate Change and implement the global greenhouse gas (GHG) reduction targets. This necessitates the collective responsibility of all regions to reduce their GHG emissions, prompting the need to accelerate the adjustment of the economic structure. However, it is important to acknowledge that participating in GHG reduction efforts can lead to economic emission reduction costs and increased uncertainties for the economic development of various countries. These factors might hinder the sustainable growth of regional economies and potentially diminish the enthusiasm of each region to engage in GHG reduction initiatives. Therefore, alongside actively responding to climate change, promoting the optimization and adjustment of regional economies has become a consensus among all countries.

Annavaiah J. C. Bose,2022-05-10 Economics is the strangest and most dubious as also frustrating animal of social sciences and humanities The debate on what it is and what its strengths and weaknesses are in understanding and changing the economy and society for the better is never ending This book cuts through this noise for econ undergrads with social concerns It is crafted to be stuffed with peripatetic hops skips and intellectual and emotional jumps about the nature and character of the brain circuits of economics in terms of its methodological political sociological anthropological historical feminist ethical ecological spiritual literary technical corporate and other underpinnings Diverse stories are told as alerts or nudges for the undergrads who as aspirant youth have in general hyperbolic discounting attitude towards social change The mind and heart of the undergrad reading this book will hopefully be ignited so as to endeavour to find out the purpose of economic education and how economics should be learnt in order to rectify the failures of our current socio economic system The seriously academic undergrad may also be inspired to pursue the long range objective of doing integrated studies and research for maximised understanding and holistic policy making which is of course easier to say than do The Economics
