Mixed Race Students in College Kristen A. Renn, 2012-02-01 It's kind of an odd thing really because it's not like I'm one or the other or like I fit here or there but I kind of also fit everywhere And nowhere All at once You know Florence My racial identity I would have to say is multiracial I am of the future I believe there is going to come a day when a very very large majority of everybody in the world is going to be mixed with more than one race It s going to be multiracial for everybody Everybody and their mother Jack Kristen A Renn offers a new perspective on racial identity in the United States that of mixed race college students making sense of the paradox of deconstructing racial categories while living on campuses sharply divided by race and ethnicity Focusing on how peer culture shapes identity in public and private spaces the book presents the findings of a qualitative research study involving fifty six undergraduates from a variety of institutions Renn uses an innovative ecology model to examine campus peer cultures and documents five patterns of multiracial identity that illustrate possibilities for integrating notions of identity construction and deconstruction with the highly salient nature of race in higher education One of the most ambitious scholarly attempts to date to portray the diverse experiences and identities of mixed race college students the book also discusses implications for higher education practice policy theory and research Resources in Education ,1996
