Emerging Southeast Asia A Study In Growth And Stagnation:

Emerging Southeast Asia Donald W. Fryer, 1970 Study of economic growth and obstacles to economic development in South East Asia covers agriculture land tenure land ownership urbanization industrialization agrarian reform agricultural production cultivation techniques with particular reference to rice and rubber plantations transport trade the mining industry the manufacturing industry animal production etc Bibliography pp 451 to 473 map and statistical tables The Southeast Asia Handbook Patrick Heenan, Monique Lamontagne, 2013-04-03 The Regional Handbooks of Economic Development series provides accessible overviews of countries within their larger domestic and international contexts focusing on the relations among regions as they meet the challenges of the twenty first century The series allows the non specialist student to explore a wide range of complex factors social and political as well as economic that affect the growth of developing regions in Asia Europe and South America Each Handbook provides an overview chapter discussing the region s economic conditions within an historical and political context as well as 20 or more chapter length essays written by recognized experts which analyze the key issues affecting a region s economy its population natural resources foreign trade labor problems and economic inequalities and other vital factors In addition the volumes offer useful support materials including a series of appendices that include a detailed chronology of events in the region a glossary of terms biographical entries on key personalities an annotated bibliography of further reading and a comprehensive analytical index The Geography of Southeast Asia Thomas A. Rumney, 2010-04-07 In The Geography of Southeast Asia Rumney discusses an area that has long been of interest to geographers and other academics As interest in Southeast Asia has grown particularly over the past forty years the volume and variety of scholarly publications on the varied geographical aspects of the region have also increased This collection is an attempt to identify organize and present as many of these works as possible The region as a whole and each individual country of the area are covered in individual chapters Each chapter is further systematically organized by topic including general works cultural social geography economic geography historical geography physical geography political geography and urban geography This book presents a myriad of sources such as atlases books chapters articles dissertations and theses are included as well as works written in English French German and other languages providing the reader with a thorough view of Southeast Asian geography The City in Southeast Asia Peter James Rimmer, Howard W. Dick, 2009 The extended metropolitan regions of Southeast Asia are the dynamic cores of their national economies and societies and the frontiers of accelerating globalization This title explores ways of moving beyond outmoded paradigms of the Third World City or a Southeast Asian city type Peninsular Southeast Asia Army Library (U.S.), 1972 Southeast Asia: A Ten Nation Region Ashok K. Dutt, 2012-12-06 This book introduces the ten nation region of Southeast Asia The main themes of the book are diversity differential development and changing socio economic and political setting affecting these characteristics in the 1990s The nations of Southeast Asia have different languages three dominant religions Buddhism Islam and Christianity varied levels of economic development that range from bare agricultural subsistence to highly urbanized and highly developed The historically based core areas of these countries have evolved on their own Moreover the effects of Indian Chinese Islamic and Western cultures have been experienced differently in different nations at different times in their histories This book is intended to be understood by all those who want an initial introduction to Southeast Asia As many aspects of the book are the result of an in depth research carried out by the contributing authors it is also a valuable reference The contributing authors have portrayed the basic spatial aspects of the region as well as their relevance in the 1990s based in novel ways and through original interpretations All first and some second authors of chapters are professors All but one have Ph Os Most contributing authors are geographers but with different sub specialties P P

Southeast Asia Christoph Antweiler, 2004 Myanmar (Burma) since 1962: the Failure of Development Peter John Perry, 2021-02-27 Why has Myanmar Burma a country rich in resources rice timber minerals descended to least developed country status Is the explanation to be found inside Burma or beyond Is the failure of development due to political authoritarianism and conflict Or perhaps the drugs trade is partly to blame This book contends that all these factors have contributed But it also maintains that the mismanagement of the country's resources is of equal or even greater importance A clear answer to the question of Burma's developmental failure is sought by focussing upon the misuse of resources in concert with those factors that are more usually emphasized Area Handbook for Burma John William Henderson, American University (Washington, D.C.). Foreign Area Studies, 1971 The Independence of East Timor Clinton Fernandes, 2021-05-11 This book is a history of the struggle for independence after East Timor was invaded by Indonesia in 1975 The occupation which lasted 24 years was immediately resisted through guerrilla warfare and clandestine resistance A continuum of effort between the armed freedom fighters in the mountains the resilience of urban supporters and international activism and support eventually brought about liberation in September 1999 Given that the Timor rebels did not have a land border with a friendly state had no external supplier of weapons and no liberated area in which to recover between guerrilla operations their successful resistance is unique in the history of guerrilla warfare and independence struggles Equally uncommon was an unexpected weapon in the struggle a remarkable display of strategic non violent action This is the first study to integrate all the major factors in East Timor's independence struggle The multi dimensional perspectives addressed in this volume include Indonesian US and Australian diplomacy Indonesian military operations and activities against the populace East Timorese resistance at all social levels human rights abuses the issue of oil and international diplomacy resulting from global solidarity activism The Social Evolution of Indonesia F. Tichelman, 2012-12-06 At a fairly early stage of socialism's penetration into the Afro Asian world a handful of European social democrats established an Indian Social Democratic Association ISDV They did so in a country Indonesia that was economically little developed and far away from any of the centres of European socialism and Asiatic radical nationalism The ISDV was soon able to bring its influence to bear on sections of the urban proletariat and to build up an Indonesian revolutionary movement. This occurred in sharp competition with a nascent nationalist leadership and then without the usual intermediary role played by radicalizing groups of native intelligentsia. In this way Dutch social democrats laid the foundations for one of the first communist parties in Asia and Africa, a party which was destined to become one of the few communist mass parties of the Third World. However, in contrast to the major communist movements of China and Vietnam, this Indonesian party was to demonstrate a basic weakness: successive and catastrophic defeats. If we leave out Japan, the only non-Western country where a capitalist industrial revolution occurred, we see that foreign and particularly Western minorities frequently did play a dominant role in the initial and formative phases of the socialist and workers' movements of the Afro-Asiatic world.

Japan's Growing Predominance Over East Asia and the World Economy William R. Nester, 1989-10-19. In 40 years Japan has developed from a war-devastated and poverty-stricken country into the second largest economy in the world. This book analyzes how Japan attained its current financial and technological status and argues that Japan's supremacy over world economies will expand further.

Area Handbook for the Khmer Republic (Cambodia) Donald P. Whitaker, 1973. General study of Cambodia covers historical and geographical aspects, demographic aspects and social structures, living conditions, education, religion, political aspects, the system of government, foreign policy, mass media, the economic structure, agriculture, industry, labour relations, economic policy, the national budget, financing, trade, defence policy, the armed forces, etc. and includes a glossary, Bibliography, maps and statistical tables.

The Geography of Underdevelopment Dean Forbes, 2010-11-26. First published in 1984, this title discusses the emergence of both the orthodox and political economy based approaches to underdevelopment in geography, critically assessing their strengths and weaknesses and showing the relationship between intellectual developments and changing material conditions. The work is primarily concerned with theories, though it does contain much empirical material drawn from throughout the Third World. The book examines the emergence of theories of development historically and considers the various contemporary theoretical schools, both Marxist and non-Marxist. It goes on to consider four aspects of development which are of particular interest to geographers, namely: the world economy, regional imbalances, the human nature theme, and the analysis of urban space, and concludes by suggesting some directions for future research.

Assessment of land use changes in Mukdahan and Nakhon Phanom provinces (NE Thailand) by means of Remote Sensing Nils Renneberg, 2002-11-26. Inhaltsangabe Abstract: Tropical land use changes predominantly the clearing of tropical rain and monsoon forests have long been recognized as a trend with dramatic consequences. FAO estimated the global loss of rain forest area at 0.6 to 0.9 % per annum in 1993. Most of it can be attributed to the conversion of forest lands to agricultural areas. In Southeast Asia, two countries have suffered from this phenomenon more than any other nations: the Philippines and Thailand. Between 1961 and 1975 the forest reserves of Thailand have been reduced from 57 % to 37 % of the total area, while at the same time the area put to agricultural use has almost doubled. Only a small part of that process was due to organized resettlement programmes to an overwhelming extent the deforestation has been performed illegally by spontaneous activities of the rural population The share of forests further declined to 28.9 % in 1998 at a current rate of 0.7 % per year meaning that Thailand's forest cover has roughly halved since 1960 The author of this thesis stayed as a visiting researcher at the Asian Institute of Technology AIT immediately north of Bangkok for 6 months from November 2000 until April 2001 The AIT is a small international university for graduate studies with students and teachers from more than 40 countries The core institution for this scientific cooperation was the Asian Center for Research on Remote Sensing ACRoRS of the AIT's School of Advanced Technologies SAT Field work in Northeast Thailand was carried out in two legs in February and April 2001 As an underlying principle of this study it was attempted to incorporate problems from the realms of social as well as physical geography i.e. to maintain a balance between questions of applied geography regional studies and remote sensing This also means that no special focus was put on advanced RS methodology such as the development of new image processing techniques the study is rather based on a somewhat holistic approach joining aspects from many different fields of science as diverse as geology geomorphology climatology agriculture and agricultural economics sociology ethnology politics and spatial planning Accordingly the basic objectives were to give a geographical description/characterization of the Northeastern Region of Thailand in terms of its physical properties as well as its social and economical peculiarities to try a quantification of forest

Post-Conflict Heritage, Postcolonial Tourism Tim Winter, 2007-11-08 Weaving together a political analysis of heritage policies with an understanding of tourism as a series of intersecting cultural economies this book explores a decade of world heritage and tourism in Angkor

Geography and Development James Samuel Fisher, 1995 Developed around the theme of economic development this edition has been completely revised The text comprehensively covers the basic concepts of regional geography exploring topics such as population resources cultural elements and our relationship with the environment

A Select Bibliography On Economic Development John P. Powelson, 2019-05-20 This bibliography of more than 2 000 titles contains both books and journal articles primarily those published since 1970 Most of the entries are annotated The material is classified according to forty eight categories and there is also a list of relevant titles for each major country in Africa Asia and Latin America

Environment and Empire William Beinart, Lotte Hughes, 2007-10-11 European imperialism was extraordinarily far reaching a key global historical process of the last 500 years It locked disparate human societies together over a wider area than any previous imperial expansion it underpinned the repopulation of the Americas and Australasia it was the precursor of globalization as we now understand it Imperialism was inseparable from the history of global environmental change Metropolitan countries sought raw materials of all kinds from timber and furs to rubber and oil They established sugar plantations that transformed island ecologies Settlers introduced new methods of farming and displaced indigenous peoples Colonial cities many of which became great conurbations fundamentally changed relationships between people and nature Consumer cultures the internal combustion engine and pollution are now ubiquitous Environmental history deals with the reciprocal interaction between people and other elements in the natural world and this book illustrates the diverse environmental themes in the history of empire Initially concentrating on the material factors that shaped empire and environmental change Environment and Empire discusses the way in which British consumers and manufacturers sucked in resources that were gathered hunted fished mined and farmed Yet it is also clear that British settler and colonial states sought to regulate the use of natural resources as well as commodify them Conservation aimed to preserve resources by exclusion as in wildlife parks and forests and to guarantee efficient use of soil and water Exploring these linked themes of exploitation and conservation this study concludes with a focus on political reassertions by colonised peoples over natural resources In a post imperial age they have found a new voice reformulating ideas about nature landscape and heritage and challenging at a local and global level views of who has the right to regulate nature
