Emerging Strategies In Social Psychological Research:

Emerging Strategies in Social Psychological Research Gerald Phillip Ginsburg, 1979 Emerging Strategies in Social Psychological Research Gerald Phillip Ginsburg, 1979 Explanation and Experiment in Social Psychological Science John D. Greenwood, 2012-12-06 This book is about explanation and experiment in a science of human action. It aims to provide a philosophy of social psychological science that both embodies sound principles of scientific reasoning and is sensitive to the social psychological dimensions of human action. The guiding principle of this book is the belief that the logical forms of causal explanation and experimental evaluation can be effectively employed in the scientific analysis of meaningful human action. According to most accounts, social psychological science has been in a more or less constant state of crisis for the past decades, having been subject to a host of criticisms on moral, political, methodological, and philosophical grounds. Many of these critiques have been directed against the still dominant conception of social psychological enquiry as a causal and objective scientific discipline that is closely analogous to, if not to be identified as, a branch of the natural sciences. Thus, many of the most vigorous debates have concerned the nature of explanation and the utility of experimentation in a social psychological discipline.

Social Psychology: A Practical Manual Glynis M. Breakwell, 1982-07-01 Identity's Strategy Dana Anderson, 2007 This work is an investigation into the persuasive techniques inherent in presentations of identity. Anderson constructs a rhetorical theory for understanding persuasive strategies involved in the expression of personal identity. Drawing on Kenneth Burke's Dialectic of Constitutions, Anderson analyzes conversion narratives to illustrate how the authors of these autobiographical texts describe dramatic changes in their identities as a means of influencing the beliefs and action of their readers. The concept of Identity conveys the idea that people possess a certain capacity for self understanding and self definition. Communicating this self interpretation is inherently rhetorical. Expanding on Burkean concepts of human symbol use, Anderson works to parse and critique such inevitable persuasive ends of identity constitution. Anderson examines the strategic presentation of identity in four narratives of religious, sexual, political, and mystical conversions: Catholic social activist Dorothy Day's The Long Loneliness, political commentator David Brock's Blinded by the Right, Deirdre McCloskey's memoir of transgender transformation Crossing, and the well known Native American text Black Elk Speaks. Mapping the strategies in each, Anderson points toward a broader understanding of how identity is made and how it is made persuasive.

Science under Scrutiny R. W. Home, 2013-03-09 Only in fairly recent years has History and Philosophy of Science been recognized, though not always under that name, as a distinct field of scholarly endeavour. Previously, in the Australasian region as elsewhere, those few individuals working within this broad area of inquiry found their base both intellectually and socially where they could. In fact, the institutionalization of History and Philosophy of Science began comparatively early in Australia. An initial lecturing appointment was made at the University of Melbourne immediately after the Second World War in 1946, and other appointments followed as the subject underwent an expansion.

during the 1950s and 60s similar to that which took place in other parts of the world Today there are major Departments at the University of Melbourne the University of New South Wales and the University of Wollongong and smaller groups active in many other parts of Australia and in New Zealand Language and Action David D. Clarke, 2017-05-04 International Series in Experimental Social Psychology Volume 7 Language and Action A Structural Model of Behaviour presents studies that tackle human action relationship between key decisions and outcomes and the forces that give shape to events The book particularly focuses on the activity system of conversation The first chapter provides an introduction to and overview of the structural model of behavior Chapter 2 reviews several experiments concerning conversation structure Chapter 3 covers linguistic analogy while Chapter 4 provides an overview of the structure of discourse The fifth chapter discusses the theories and models of conversation structure Chapter 6 tackles the human aspects while Chapter 7 covers the applications The eighth chapter presents the conclusion which includes the evaluation of methods and theoretical issues The book will be of great interest psychologists psychiatrists and other scientists concerned with behavioral structure of conversation

The Politics Of Pain Ronald D Crelinsten, Alex Schmid, 2019-07-11 Although a wave of democratization appears to be sweeping the globe torture persists in more than seventy five nations Despite widespread condemnation of torture and the efforts of international and nongovernmental organizations to end it the politics of pain continues in a broad range of social and political systems This book is one of the first to systematically examine the psychological cultural and social origins of torture It provides profiles of torturers and of those who direct them in their brutal activities The contributors provide case studies from the past and present including Somoza's National Guard in Nicaragua and regimes in the Southern Cone of Latin America and in Greece

Peer Relationships and Social Skills in Childhood K.H. Rubin, H.S. Ross, 2012-12-06 Amy Rubin the seven year old daughter of one of this volume's editors was discussing with her close friend Kristin her teacher's practice of distributing stickers to her classmates for completing their seat work As the conversation continued Joshua Amy's two year old brother although Amy would argue that he more often resembles an albatross around her neck sauntered up to the older children He flashed a broad smile hugged his sister and then grabbed her book of stickers Corey Ross the nine year old son of the other editor was trying to plan a tobogganing party with his friend Claire The problem facing Corey and Claire was that there were too few toboggans to go around for their grade four classmates Jordan Corey's younger brother had agreed to lend his toboggan However Harriet Claire's younger sister and Jordan's close friend had resisted all persuasive attempts to borrow her toboggan The older children decided that the best strategy was to use Jordan's friendship with Harriet and his good example of sibling generosity in presenting their case to Harriet Both of these anecdotes exemplify what this volume on peer relationships and social skills is about Children have friends with whom they discuss issues of perceived social significance During the early elementary school years rather sophisticated conversations and debates concerning topics of reward distribution altruism person perception social status sibling relations and cooperation can be overheard especially by eavesdropping parents who have professional interests in such matters Making Sense of Television Sonia Livingstone, 2013-03-07 Taking the soap opera as a case study this book explores the parasocial interaction people engage in with television programmes It looks at the nature of the active viewer and the role of the text in social psychology It also investigates the existing theoretical models offered by social psychology and other discourses This second edition takes into account recent research work and theoretical developments in fields such as narrative psychology social representation theory and ethnographic work on audiences and look forward to the developing role of audience research It will be an essential study for students and lecturers in social psychology and media studies Toward Transformation in Social Knowledge K. J. Gergen, 2012-12-06 This century has been characterized by a strong and pervasive belief in certainty through science It is a belief that has been nurtured by philosophers scientists and governing bodies alike And where vocal reassurance has failed to convince modern technology has more than compensated It has in effect been a century in at last to be making significant headway toward objective which humankind seemed and enduring truth Yet as the century winds toward its conclusion this optimistic belief has begun to confront a challenging array of attacks Widespread signals of concern are increasingly evident and in the philosophy of science little but remnants remain of the bold rationale that once promised truth through method One now senses a profound alteration taking place in both the concept of knowledge and of science an alteration that may prove to be as significant as the Copernican revolution the emergence of Darwinism or the development of Freudian theory As a result of the latter transformations humans are no longer seen as the center of the universe as essentially different from animals or as fully conscious of the wellsprings of their activity In the present case however we confront the loss of the human capacity for objective knowledge Environmental Policy, Assessment and Communication David Canter, Martin Krampen, David Stea, 2024-11-07 Originally published in 1988 reissued now with a new series introduction Environmental Policy Assessment and Communication was the second in a trilogy of books to open the series Ethnoscapes Current Challenges in the Environmental Social Sciences These three titles brought together specially commissioned contributions that cover much of the range of topics that the series as a whole would cover Although the following volumes would not have the same format the opening trilogy gave an overview of what was to come while also providing a broad base for the future authors to build upon This volume has a practical orientation Its contributions deal directly with research on those environmental matters on which government agencies and other organisations formulate policies or develop design strategies This therefore covers the assessment and evaluation of designs and design proposals as well as background research to policy issues The Long Interview Grant McCracken, 1988-09-01 The Long Interview provides a systematic guide to the theory and methods of the long qualitative interview or intensive interviewing It gives a clear explanation of one of the most powerful tools of the qualitative researcher The volume begins with a general overview of the character and purpose of qualitative inquiry and a review of key issues The author outlines the four steps of the long qualitative interview and how to judge quality He then offers practical advice for those who commission and administer this research including sample questionnaires and budgets to help readers design their own The author introduces key theoretical and methodological issues various research strategies and a simple four stage model of inquiry from the design of an open ended questionnaire to the write up of results People and Societies Luk van Langenhove, 2010-04-05 Rom Harr has authored an impressive oeuvre that has inspired generations of scholars and practioners His work has challenged the orthodox philosophy of science and social psychology The book brings together a careful selection of his key writings that gives readers a systematic introduction in the conceptual universe of this towering figure Doing Social Psychology Glynis M. Breakwell, Hugh Foot, Robin Gilmour, 1988-04-29 A collection of classroom tested laboratory and field exercises exploring central problems and topics in social psychology Communication Yearbook 15 Stanley Deetz, 2012-05-23 First published in 2012 The Communication Yearbook 15 focuses on cultural studies and the social production of maning in relation to mass media messages Included are significant issues in persuasion language and dominance and interpersonal communication Communication Yearbooks Vols 6-33 Set Various, 2021-12-02 The Communication Yearbook annuals originally published between 1977 and 2009 publish diverse state of the discipline literature reviews that advance knowledge and understanding of communication systems processes and impacts across the discipline Topics dealt with include Communication as Process Research Methodology in Communication Communication Effects Taxonomy of Communication and European Communication Theory Information Systems Division Mass Communication Research Mapping the Domain of Intercultural Communication Public Relations Feminist Scholarship Communication Law and Policy Visual Communication Communication and Cross Sex Friendships Across the Life Cycle Television Programming and Sex Stereotyping InterCultural Communication Training Leadership and Relationships Media Performance Assessment Cognitive Approaches to Communication Routledge Library Editions: Business and Economics in Asia Various, 2021-07-14 This set examines a vast range of topics covering all experiences of business and economics from across Asia Dealing with early banking systems in China the industrialisation of Korea and Taiwan the evolution of Japanese business practices economic development protectionist policies industrial investment trade tourism and a host of other topics the books collected here form a vital reference resource across a wide subject area A Theory of Action Identification Robin R. Vallacher, Daniel M. Wegner, 2014-04-04 First published in 1985 A person may be caught in the midst of a patently ridiculous act interrupted in a moment of apparent confusion or even aroused from sleep and yet respond to a query of What are you doing with remarkable ease The answer that is given is an identification of action It is the central idea of this book that such action identifications perform pivotal functions in a broad range of psychological and social processes The ^APhilosophy of Quantitative Methods Brian D. Haig, 2018-01-04 The Philosophy of Quantitative Methods undertakes a philosophical examination of a number of important quantitative research methods within the behavioral sciences in order to overcome the non critical
