a sub field of emotions sociology in relation to cognate disciplines and sub disciplines Far from reducing politics to affectivity the political sociology of emotions is coterminous with political sociology itself plus the emotive angle added in the investigation of its traditional and more recent areas of research The worldwide predominance of affective anti politics e g the securitization of immigration policies reactionism terrorism competitive authoritarianism nationalism and populism etc makes the political sociology of emotions increasingly necessary in making the prospects of democracy and republicanism in the twenty first century more intelligible Through a weak constructionist theoretical perspective the book shows the utility of this new sub field by addressing two central themes trauma and resentment Trauma is considered as a key cultural political phenomenon of our times evoking both negative and positive emotions resentment is a pertaining individual and collective political emotion allied to insecurities and moral injuries In tandem they constitute fundamental experiences of late modern times The value of the political sociology of emotions is revealed in the analysis of civil wars cultural traumas the politics of pity the suffering of distant others in the media populism and national identities on both sides of the Atlantic On
