annotations on ERA 88 Britain and the Iranian Constitutional Revolution of 1906-1911 Mansour Bonakdarian, 2006-06-30
 In this thoroughly researched account Mansour Bonakdarian provides an in depth exploration of the substantial British support for the Iranian constitutional and national struggle of 1906 1911 illuminating the opposition in Britain to Anglo Russian imperialist intervention in Iran In painstaking and compelling detail Bonakdarian analyzes in particular the role of the Persia Committee a lobbying group founded in 1908 for the sole purpose of changing Britain s policy toward Iran This book s strength lies in its coverage of how Sir Edward Grey s policy toward Iran was shaped and the extent to which this policy was affected by sustained criticism from a number of disparate groups including dissenters radicals socialists liberal imperialists and conservatives The volume and breadth of primary archival materials used is extensive Not only have all the standard collections been examined such as the Foreign Office files and the Cabinet and Grey papers but also numerous private archives in international libraries have been consulted Bonakdarian s deep understanding of the Iranian issues yields a rich and balanced approach to the literature in the field With clear and systematic arguments he offers an account of diplomatic history that is accessible and persuasive His scholarship is certain to reinvigorate dialogue on the subject of Anglo Iranian relations Britain And China, 1941-47 Aron Shai, 2016-01-06 The Cambridge Historical Encyclopedia of Great Britain and Ireland Christopher Haigh, 1990-08-31 The history of Britain and Ireland is traditionally presented as a succession of dramatic changes but in this reference work the 60 contributors under the editorship of Christopher Haigh have emphasized patterns of continuity instead including cultural social political and economic themes 300 illustrations

Food for War Alan F. Wilt,2001-09-20 Food for War is a ground breaking study of Britain's food and agricultural preparations in the 1930s as the nation once again made ready for war Historians writing about 1930s Britain have usually focused on the Depression appeasement or political military and industrial concerns None have dealt adequately with another significant topic food and agriculture as the nation moved albeit reluctantly from peace to war In this new account Alan F Wilt makes right this omission by examining in depth the relationship between food agriculture and the nation's preparations for war He reveals how food and agriculture became closely linked to rearmament as early as 1936 that the government's preparations in this sector as contrasted with other areas of the economy were relatively well developed when war broke out in 1936 and that rural and farm interests well understood the effect that war would have on their way of life He argues that food and agriculture need to be integrated into the more general historical discourse for what happened in Britain in the 1930s not only set the stage for World War II but also contributed to a more robust agriculture in the decades that followed Lords of Parliament R. Davis,1995-03-01 This book provides a series of case studies illuminating the role and character of the House of Lords over two centuries from 1714 to 1914 The figures treated in the essays are Edmund Gibson Bishop of Lincoln and later London the first Earl Cowper the Sixth Earl of Denbigh Lord Thurlow the second Earl Grey the Duke of Wellington the Duke of Bedford and Earls Spencer and Fitzwilliam Lord Derby and Lord Selborne and Bonar Law These figures are all selected for the ways in which their careers shed light in one way or another on key moments and key issues in British political history with particular reference to the evolution of the House of Lords Overall the nine studies show that the role of the House of Lords was much more complicated and much less reactionary than conventional wisdom has allowed
