Twenty years after the release of the first edition of egg-tripping, Nikki Giovanni has added ten new poems and George Ford new illustrations to this provocative collection of poetry, which captures the essence of the African American experience in ways that have special relevance and appeal for young people.

"In Giovanni's egg-tripping, young people are taught how to fly, to know, and to remember who they are. There is deliverance for them in these poems of struggle and liberation. . . . Good that there is Giovanni here for them, best that she be among us all, writing the images and sounding the notes and verse of a better world."

—Virginia Hamilton, from the foreword

"These poems are sly and seductive, intoxicating and unknown, tough, rare and proud." —The New York Times Book Review

"Giovanni's poetry dances one's thoughts and senses."

—Lee Bennett Hopkins, Scholastic Magazine

Nikki Giovanni, a world renowned poet and professor of English at Virginia Polytechnic Institute, is the author of seventeen books of poetry and nonfiction, including Spine a Soft Black Song, Sacred Crown, . . . And Other Poems, and Various Jolt.

George Ford has illustrated more than forty books for children and young adults, including Jamaa's Busy Day and Bright Eyes, Brown Skin.

Children's book author Virginia Hamilton has received the Newbery Medal, the International Hans Christian Andersen Award, the Boston Globe/Horn Book Award, and the Oklahoma Award.

Gender and the Poetics of Excess Karen Jackson Ford, 2011-02-25 The argument posed in this analysis is that the poetic excesses of several major female poets' excesses that have been typically regarded as flaws in their work are strategies for escaping the inhibiting and sometimes inimical conventions too often imposed on women writers The forms of excess vary with each poet but by conceiving of poetic excess in relation to literary decorum this study establishes a shared motivation for such a strategy Literary decorum is one instrument a culture employs to constrain its writers Perhaps it is the most effective because it is the least definable The excesses discussed here like the criteria of decorum against which they are perceived cannot be itemized as an immutable set of traits Though decorum and excess shift over time and in different cultures their relationship to one another remains strikingly stable Thus nineteenth century standards for women's writing and late twentieth century standards bear almost no relation Emily Dickinson's do not anticipate Gertrude Stein's or Sylvia Plath's or Ntozake Shange's Yet the charges of indecorousness leveled at these women poets repeat a fixed set of abstract grievances Dickinson Stein Plath Jayne Cortez and Shange all engage in a poetics of excess as a means of rejecting the limitations and conventions of female writing that the larger culture imposes on them In resisting conventions for feminine writing these poets developed radical new poetics yet their work was typically criticized or dismissed as excessive Thus Dickinson's form is classified as hysterical and her figures tortured Stein's works are called repetitive and nonsensical Plath's tone is accused of being at once virulent and confessional Cortez's poems violent and vulgar Shange's work vengeful and self-righteous The publishing history of these poets demonstrates both the opposition to such an aesthetic and the necessity for it Connecting Cultures Rebecca L. Thomas,1996-01-30 A comprehensive guide to multicultural literature for children this valuable resource features more than 1 600 titles including fiction folktales poetry and song books that focus on diverse cultural groups The selected titles published between the 1970s and 1990s are suitable for use with preschoolers through sixth graders and are likely to be found on the shelves of school and public libraries Topics are timely with an emphasis on books that reflect the needs and interests of today s children Each detailed entry includes bibliographic information Use level is also included as are cultural designation subjects and a summary The invaluable Subject Access section incorporates use level culture information

Civil Rights Childhood Katharine Capshaw,2014-12-01 Childhood joy pleasure and creativity are not often associated with the civil rights movement Their ties to the movement may have faded from historical memory but these qualities received considerable photographic attention in that tumultuous era Katharine Capshaw s Civil Rights Childhood reveals how the black child has been and continues to be a social agent that demands change Because children carry a compelling aura of human value and potential images of African American children in the wake of Brown v Board of Education had a powerful effect on the fight for civil rights In the iconography of Emmett Till and the girls murdered in the 1963 Birmingham church bombings Capshaw explores the function of children s photographic books and the image of the black child in social justice campaigns for school integration and the civil rights movement Drawing on works ranging from documentary photography coffee table and art books and popular historical narratives and photographic picture books for the very young Civil Rights Childhood sheds new light on images of the child and family that portrayed liberatory models of blackness but it also considers the role photographs played in the desire for consensus and closure with the rise of multiculturalism Offering rich analysis Capshaw recovers many obscure texts and photographs while at the same time placing major names like Langston Hughes June Jordan and Toni Morrison in dialogue with lesser known writers An important addition to thinking about representation and politics Civil Rights Childhood ultimately shows how the photobook and the aspirations of childhood itself encourage cultural transformation Cultural Journeys Pamela S. Gates,Dianne L. Hall Mark,2010-08-16 As multicultural education is becoming integral to the core curriculum teachers often implement this aspect into their courses through literature However standards and criteria to teach and promote active discussion about this literature are sparse Cultural Journeys introduces pre service and experienced teachers to the use of literature to promote active discussions that lead students to think about racial diversity More than just an annotated list of books for children Pamela S Gates and Dianne L Hall Mark provide systematic guidelines that teachers can use throughout their careers to evaluate multicultural literature for students in grades K 8 At the same time the text leads the reader to a deeper understanding of how to use multicultural literature throughout the entire curriculum and not just during specially designated months or time periods With the example unit plans and extensive annotated bibliography this book is a valuable resource that pre service teachers will utilize when they begin teaching and in service teachers will reference repeatedly during their planning periods The Concise Oxford Companion to African American Literature William L.
