Edward Steichen The Early Years:

Edward Steichen, the Early Years, 1900-1927 Edward Steichen, 1981 Edward Steichen Edward Steichen, 2008-04-29 Part of the acclaimed Photofile series this title brings together the work of Edward Steichen one of the world's greatest photographers. It contains reproductions of his work together with a critical introduction and a full bibliography.

Edward Steichen, Edward Steichen Beaumont Newhall, Mary Steichen, 1981 Encyclopedia of Twentieth-Century Photography, 3-Volume Set Lynne Warren, 2005-11-15 The Encyclopedia of Twentieth Century Photography explores the vast international scope of twentieth century photography and explains that history with a wide ranging interdisciplinary manner. This unique approach covers the aesthetic history of photography as an evolving art and documentary form while also recognizing it as a developing technology and cultural force. This Encyclopedia presents the important developments, movements, photographers, photographic institutions and theoretical aspects of the field along with information about equipment, techniques and practical applications of photography. To bring this history alive for the reader the set is illustrated in black and white throughout and each volume contains a color plate section. A useful glossary of terms is also included.

Ecstatic Worlds Janine Marchessault, 2023-10-31 When media translate the world to the world, twentieth century utopian projects including Edward Steichen's Family of Man, Jacques Cousteau's underwater films and Buckminster Fuller's geoscope. Postwar artists and architects have used photography, film and other media to imagine and record the world as a wonder of collaborative entanglement to translate the world for the world. In this book Janine Marchessault examines a series of utopian media events that opened up and expanded the cosmos, creating ecstatic collective experiences for spectators and participants. Marchessault shows that Edward Steichen's 1955 Family of Man photography exhibition, for example, and Jacques Cousteau's 1956 underwater film Le monde du silence (The Silent World) both gave viewers a sense of the earth as a shared ecology. The Festival of Britain 1951, in particular, its Telekinema (a combination of 3D film and television) and its Live Architecture exhibition, along with Expo 67's cinema experiments and media city, created an awareness of multiple worlds. Toronto's alternative microcinema CineCycle, Agnès Varda's 2000 film Les glaneurs et la glaneuse and Buckminster Fuller's World Game geoscope, representing ecologies of images and resources, encouraged planetary thinking. The transspecies communication platform the Dolphin Embassy, devised by the Ant Farm architecture collaborative, extends this planetary perspective toward other species. Finnish artist Erkki Kurenniemi's Death of the Planet projects a postanthropocentric future. Drawing on sources that range from the Scottish town planner Patrick Geddes to the French phenomenologist Maurice Merleau-Ponty, Marchessault argues that each of these media experiments represents an engagement with connectivity and collectivity through media that will help us imagine a new form of global humanism.

from November 10 2010 to April 10 2011 The Family of Man Revisited Gerd Hurm, Anke Reitz, Shamoon Zamir, 2020-08-09 The Family of Man is the most widely seen exhibition in the history of photography The book of the exhibition still in print is also the most commercially successful photobook ever published First shown at the Museum of Modern Art in New York in 1955 the exhibition travelled throughout the United States and to forty six countries and was seen by over nine million people Edward Steichen conceived curated and designed the exhibition He explained its subject as the everydayness of life and the essential oneness of mankind throughout the world The exhibition was a statement against war and the conflicts and divisions that threatened a common future for humanity after 1945 The popular international response was overwhelmingly enthusiastic Many critics however have dismissed the exhibition as a form of sentimental humanism unable to address the challenges of history politics and cultural difference This book revises the critical debate about The Family of Man challenging in particular the legacy of Roland Barthes s influential account of the exhibition The expert contributors explore new contexts for understanding Steichen s work and they undertake radically new analyses of the formal dynamics of the exhibition Also presented are documents about the exhibition never before available in English Commentaries by critical theorist Max Horkheimer and novelist Wolfgang Koeppen letters from photographer August Sander and a poetic sequence on the images by Polish poet Witold Wirpsza enable and encourage new critical reflections A detailed survey of audience responses in Munich from 1955 allows a rare glimpse of what visitors thought about the exhibition Today when armed conflict environmental catastrophe and economic inequality continue to threaten our future it seems timely to revisit The Family of Man The ^AOxford Companion to United States History Paul S. The Concise Focal Encyclopedia of Photography Michael Peres, 2014-06-20 Defining photography is impossible Revealing it is another matter and that's what The Concise Focal Encyclopedia of Photography does with each turn of the page History The technical origins and evolution of photography are half of the story The other half consists of the ways that cultural forces have transformed photography into a constellation of practices more diverse than any other mode of representation Photographers can tell a more in depth story through a photo like Dorothea Lange's Migrant Mother than a journalist ever could with the written word alone Major themes and practitioners Over 25 entries many with supporting illustrations examine the figures trends and ideas that have contributed most heavily to the history and current state of photography Contemporary issues The issues influencing photography today are more complex than at any other time in its history Questions of ethics desire perception digitization and commercialization all vie for attention Hear what the experts have to say about crucial issues such as whether or not the images we take today will last the test of time and if so how When material is covered this skillfully concise is no compromise The Concise Focal Encyclopedia of Photography is packed with useful information compelling ideas and best of all pure pleasure

Beyond the Architect's Eye Mary N. Woods, 2013-12-11 Typical architectural photography freezes buildings in an ideal moment and rarely captures what photographer Berenice Abbott called the medium's power to depict how the past jostled the present In Beyond the Architect's Eye Mary N Woods expands on this range of images through a rich analysis that commingles art amateur and documentary photography genres usually not considered architectural but that often take the built environment as their subject Woods explores how photographers used their built environment to capture the disparate American landscapes prior to World War II when urban and rural areas grew further apart in the face of skyscrapers massive industrialization and profound cultural shifts Central to this study is the work of Alfred Stieglitz Frances Benjamin Johnston and Marion Post Wolcott but Woods weaves a wider narrative that also includes Alice Austen Gertrude K sebiar Berenice Abbott Margaret Bourke White Helen Levitt Lisette Model Louise Dahl Wolfe Morgan and Marvin Smith Eudora Welty Samuel Gottscho Walker Evans Max Waldman and others In such disparate places as New York City the rural South and the burgeoning metropolis of Miami these unconventional architectural photographers observed buildings as deeply connected to their context Whereas Stieglitz captured New York as the quintessential modern urban landscape in the period the South was its opposite a land supposedly frozen in the past Yet just as this myth of the Old South crystallized in photographs like Johnston s a New South shaped by popular culture and modern industry arose Miami embodied both of these visions In Wolcott s work agricultural fields where stoop labor persisted were juxtaposed with Art Deco hotels a popular modernism of the machine age that remade Miami Beach into a miniaturized Manhattan on the beach Beyond the Architect s Eye is a groundbreaking study that melds histories of American art cities and architecture with visual studies of landscape photography and cultural geography An Uncommon Cape Eleanor Phillips Brackbill,2012-09-07 When Eleanor Phillips Brackbill bought her suburban Westchester house in 2000 three mysteries came with it First from the former owner came the information that the 1930s house was a Sears house or something like that Thrilled to think it might be a Sears Roebuck Co mail order house Brackbill was determined to find evidence to prove it She found instead a house pedigree of a different sort Second and even more provocative was the discovery of several iron stakes protruding from the property s enormous granite outcropping bigger in square footage than the house itself When queried about them the former owner told her Someone a long time ago kept monkeys there chained to the stakes Monkeys Was this some kind of suburban legend A third mystery came to light at closing when a building inspector s letter contained a reference to the house having had at one time a different address Why would the house have had another address Her curiosity aroused and intent upon finding the facts Brackbill gradually peeled back layers of history allowing the house and the land to tell their stories and uncovering a past inextricably woven into four centuries of American history At the same time she found thirty two owners across 350 years who had just one thing in common ownership of a particular parcel of land An Uncommon Cape not only tells the story of an eight year odyssey of fact finding and speculation but also answers the broader question What came before and through material presented in twenty two sidebars offers readers insights and guidelines on how to find the stories behind their own homes After-Images of the City Joan Ramon Resina,Dieter Ingenschay,2018-08-06 Criticism on the textual and iconographic construction of the city is extensive yet the problem of historical change in representations of the urban has received little attention Believing traditional accounts are limited by their reflection of a specific historical moment Joan Ramon Resina and Dieter Ingenschay focus by contrast on transition In essays written for this volume scholars of literary and visual studies the history of architecture cultural theory and urban geography explore the ways perceptual or conceptual paradigms of the city supersede or replace others while at the same time retaining the after image of what went before The writers touch on a wide variety of issues related to contemporary urban cultures as they journey through cities including New York Barcelona Madrid Paris Tijuana Berlin and London Drawing on the work of Roland Barthes Walter Benjamin Camilo Jos Cela Honor de Balzac and Alfred Stieglitz their approach is broadly cultural rather than technical After Images of the City takes into account the intrinsic instability of the image and reveals that representations of the modern metropolis cannot be fixed in time and history

Alfred Stieglitz Phyllis Rose,2019-04-16 A fascinating biography of a revolutionary American artist ripe for rediscovery as a photographer and champion of other artists Alfred Stieglitz 1864 1946 was an enormously influential artist and nurturer of artists even though his accomplishments are often overshadowed by his role as Georgia O Keeffe s husband This new book from celebrated biographer Phyllis Rose reconsiders Stieglitz as a revolutionary force in the history of American art Born in New Jersey Stieglitz at age eighteen went to study in Germany where his father a wool merchant and painter insisted he would get a proper education After returning to America he became one of the first American photographers to achieve international fame By the time he was sixty he gave up photography and devoted himself to selling and promoting art His first gallery 291 was the first American gallery to show works by Picasso Rodin Matisse and other great European modernists His galleries were not dealerships so much as open universities where he introduced European modern art to Americans and nurtured an appreciation of American art among American artists
