History Writing, 1770-1820 April London, 2015-12-04 This investigation of literary history writing between 1770 and 1820 identifies the mode's distinction from canon formation as central to its cultural vitality. Using secret history, memoir, and the novel amongst other sources, it invites a rethinking of literary history's place in late eighteenth and early nineteenth century print culture.

Literary History of England George Sherburn, Donald F. Bond, 1967 English historians in the Middle Ages is an overview of the history of English historians and their works in the Middle Ages. English historians helped lay the groundwork for modern historical methodology, provided vital accounts of the early history of England, its culture, and revelations about the historians themselves. The most remarkable period of historical writing was during the High Middle Ages in the 12th and 13th centuries when English chronicles produced works with a variety of interest, wealth of information, and amplitude of range. However, one might choose to view the reliability.
