Handbook of Research on Children's and Young Adult Literature Shelby Wolf,Karen Coats,Patricia Enciso,Christine Jenkins,2011-04-27 This multidisciplinary handbook pulls together in one volume the research on children s and young adult literature which is currently scattered across three intersecting disciplines education English and library and information science Changing Literacies for Changing Times James V. Hoffman,Yetta M. Goodman,2009-09-11 Offering the wisdom that only experience and expertise in the field can bring this book takes a critical look into the present and the future of literacy as envisioned by leading reading researchers The lead author of each chapter is a distinguished reading researcher elected by their peers into the Reading Hall of Fame A key message in this book is that literacy professionals must take an active role to shape change Reflections on Qualitative Research in Language and Literacy Education Seyyed-Abdolhamid Mirhosseini,2017-01-11 This book discusses aspects of the theory and practice of qualitative research in the specific context of language and literacy education It addresses epistemological perspectives methodological problems and practical considerations related to research involvements in areas of language education and literacy studies rather than generic issues of other fields of social sciences The volume starts with Theoretical Considerations in the first part and raises some epistemological and theoretical concerns that are rarely debated in the specific context of research on language and literacy teaching The second part Methodological Approaches explores issues of the design and implementation of language and literacy education research within the framework of some of the major established qualitative research traditions Finally the part on Research in Action discusses practical aspects of a few actual instances of qualitative research on language and literacy education in different contexts

Developing Literacy and the Arts in Schools Georgina Barton, 2019-07-31 The teaching of the arts and literacy in schools is often at odds with one another The desire for schools to improve results on high stakes testing can lead to a narrow view of literacy rather than one that acknowledges the unique and distinct literacies that exist in other curriculum areas including the arts With methods of communication becoming increasingly complex it will be more and more important for students to be able to utilise all semiotic modes Developing Literacy and the Arts in Schools investigates this key issue in education and offers a solution to the negative relationship between the arts and literacy Drawing on interview data and evidence from diverse classrooms it explores the pedagogies of effective arts practitioners and teachers and how they relate to theoretical frameworks to unpack the key elements of effective practice related to literacy and the arts A model of arts literacies is provided to assist arts and literacy educators in developing a common language that acknowledges and values these distinct arts literacies Themes of multimodality diversity aesthetics and reflection in relation to the arts and literacy are foregrounded throughout This book will be of great value to postgraduate students of Education specialising in arts and literacy education academics teacher educators and classroom and preservice teachers

Visual Literacy James Elkins, 2009-09-11 What does it mean to be visually literate Does it mean different things in the arts and the sciences In the developed West or in developing nations This groundbreaking collection explores what impact the new concept of visual literacy has on art history

Media Literacy Kathleen Tyner, 2009-12-04 Offering contributions from scholars at the forefront of media literacy scholarship this volume provides valuable insights into the issues of literacy and the new forms of digital communication now being utilized in schools It explores how educators can leverage student proficiency with new literacies for learning in formal and informal educational environments and investigates critical literacy practices that can best respond to the proliferation of new media in society

Handbook of Reading Research Michael L. Kamil, 2000 In Volume III as in Volumes I and II the classic topics of reading are included from vocabulary and comprehension to reading instruction in the classroom and in addition each contributor was asked to include a brief history that chronicles the legacies within each of the volume s many topics However on the whole Volume III is not about tradition Rather it explores the verges of reading research between the time Volume II was published in 1991 and the research conducted after this date The editors identified two broad themes as representing the myriad of verges that have emerged since Volumes I and II were published 1 broadening the definition of reading and 2 broadening the reading research program The particulars of these new themes and topics are addressed African American Males in School and Society Vernon C. Polite, James Earl Davis, 1999 In this groundbreaking and timely volume Vernon Polite and James Earl Davis have brought together the perspectives and research findings of eminent scholars who study the educational and social lives of African American males The result is a volume that brims with new outlooks and viewpoints a refreshing departure from pervasive and oftentimes stereotypical literature about the African American male experience and gives the reader access to prevalent issues affecting this population today Thoughtful attention is paid to broader outcomes such as educational attainment job procurement and quality of life These topics are discussed against the backdrop of student background and schooling with the overall aim of improving the academic and social outcomes of this population At last a comprehensive look at the most salient issues that affect the future of African American men This book provides much more than a ray of hope it is replete with recommendations and practices that if implemented will positively impact educational and social outcomes Every educator and parent who grapples with the dilemma of educating Black boys and young men should read this book Robert Peterkin Ph D Harvard University s Urban Superintendents Program School administrations serious about addressing the underachievement and underdevelopment of African American boys and youths will find in this book theoretical and methodological approaches e g practical just in time strategies for implementation This book will empower readers who are committed to equity and excellence for African American male students Gwendolyn J Cooke Ph D Director Urban Services National Association of Secondary School Principals
