Handcraft Revival In Southern Appalachia 1930 199:

The Handcraft Revival in Southern Appalachia, 1930-1990 Garry Barker, 1991 Presents the essentials of the subject in a concise and practical manner concepts and procedures are illustrated with clear line drawings and photos For rehabilitation technicians An active participant in craft guilds of the southern Appalachians presents a chronological record of how vanishing crafts were rescued and the politics and economics of their continuing revival Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Great Smoky Mountains Folklife Michael Ann Williams, 1995-01-01 Handcraft Revival Southern Appalachia Garry G. Barker, 2012-03 Appalachians have always honored craft Showoff quilts complicated whittlings face jugs intricate woven coverlets and the work of famous basketmakers constituted the art of early Appalachia the life and color of its remote mountain households By the 1920s however the craft tradition was quickly vanishing This lively highly personal book recounts the missionary effort that preserved the traditional Appalachian craft culture and traces the organization politics and economics of later handcraft revival organizations in Southern Appalachia Deeply involved in many of the events he describes Garry Barker has worked in the Appalachian crafts world since the early 1960s He draws on memories of the leading craftspeople of a bygone era LBJ s War on Poverty mushrooming markets for craft products and the rise of academic crafts training The Handcraft Revival in Southern Appalachia represents the thoughtful winnowing of Barker s decades of serendipitous experience and disciplined observation casual conversation and formal interviews research and collecting teaching and writing The book is the only history of the Appalachian craft movement between 1930 and 1990 As such it will become an essential resource for craftspeople scholars and all interested in the Southern Appalachian region In addition it constitutes a crucial chapter in the newly emerging history of American craft Selling Tradition Jane S. Becker, 2000-11-09 The first half of the twentieth century witnessed a growing interest in America s folk heritage as Americans began to enthusiastically collect present market and consume the nation s folk traditions Examining one of this century s most prominent folk revivals the reemergence of Southern Appalachian handicraft traditions in the 1930s Jane Becker unravels the cultural politics that bound together a complex network of producers reformers government officials industries museums urban markets and consumers all of whom helped to redefine Appalachian craft production in the context of a national cultural identity Becker uses this craft revival as a way of exploring the construction of the cultural categories folk and tradition She also addresses the consequences such labels have had on the people to whom they have been assigned Though the revival of domestic arts in the Southern Appalachians reflected an attempt to aid the people of an impoverished region she says as well as a desire to recapture an important part of the nation s folk heritage in reality the new craft production owed less to tradition than to middle class tastes and consumer culture forces that obscured the techniques used by mountain laborers and the conditions in which they worked Encouraging American Craftsmen Charles Counts, 1972 Painters, Patrons, and Identity J.
