Routledge International Handbook of Women's Sexual and Reproductive Health Jane M. Ussher, Joan C. Chrisler, Janette Perz, 2019-09-23 The Routledge International Handbook of Women's Sexual and Reproductive Health is the authoritative reference work on important leading edge developments in the domains of women's sexual and reproductive health. The handbook adopts a life cycle approach to examine key milestones and events in women's sexual and reproductive health. Contributors drawn from a range of disciplines including psychology, medicine, nursing and midwifery, sociology, public health, women's studies and indigenous studies explore issues through three main lenses: the biopsychosocial model, feminist perspectives, international multidisciplinary perspectives that acknowledge the intersection of identities in women's lives. The handbook presents an authoritative review of the field with a focus on state-of-the-art work encouraging future research and policy development in women's sexual and reproductive health. Finally, the handbook will inform health care providers about the latest research and clinical developments including women's experiences of both normal and abnormal sexual and reproductive functions. Drawing upon international expertise from leading academics and clinicians in the field, this is essential reading for scholars and students interested in women's reproductive health.

reaching aspect of diversity because frequently women have unique assessment and treatment needs For example frontal lobe functioning tends to be more contextual for women than for men These brain functions have behavioral counterparts that directly relate to how interventions may be tailor made to suit the female rather than male patient The goal in neuropsychology is always to improve diagnosis and treatment outcomes and a cohesive summary of the neuropsychology of the female brain would raise awareness and cultural competency of clinicians in neuropsychology Authors will focus on sex differences in the neuropsychological cognitive and development literature ethnic and socioeconomic variables affecting diagnosis and treatment of women and social emotional and behavioral manifestations of neuropsychological sex differences
