Japanese War Crimes and Related Topics: A Guide to Records at the National Archives United States. National Archives and Records Administration,200? This finding aid will help researchers interested in Japanese war crimes war criminals and war crimes trials to navigate the vast holdings of the U S National Archives and Records Administration at College Park NARA It will also be useful to anyone interested in military intelligence political diplomatic economic financial social and cultural activities in the Far East during 1931 1951 as well as to those searching for information regarding Allied prisoners of war the organization functions and activities of American and Allied agencies and the Japanese occupation of countries and the American occupation of Japan While not aimed at researchers interested in the strategic and tactical military and naval history of the war in the Far East this finding aid may nevertheless be useful to those with such interests if only to identify record groups and series of records that may bear on those topics This finding aid covers records from over twenty record groups and includes materials declassified under the Japanese Imperial Government Disclosure Act of 2000 P L 106 567 as well as records that were never classified and those declassified before the passage of the Disclosure Act. Because the process of identifying, declassifying, accessioning and processing of records under the Act is taking place as this finding aid is being compiled, late arriving records may not be identified in this finding aid. Researchers should consult the IWG Web site <http://www.archives.gov/iwg> for a complete and up to date list of records declassified under the Japanese Imperial Government Disclosure Act. Federal agencies involved in the identification and declassification of relevant classified records ascertained that there were relatively few pertinent records that were still classified. Most relevant records were either never classified or were declassified decades before the Act and were already in NARA's custody. While this finding aid's coverage is broad, it is not comprehensive. Researchers may find other relevant series of records within the record groups mentioned or not mentioned. Researchers are encouraged to use other finding aids and consult with NARA staff to locate records of interest. In addition, the National Archives at College Park holds nontextual records such as still photographs and motion pictures that researchers may want to examine. Other NARA facilities hold many records and donated material related to World War II, including records related to the subjects covered in this finding aid. This is particularly true of the Franklin D. Roosevelt, the Harry S. Truman and the Dwight D. Eisenhower Archives, which are vast mountain ranges of records with the archivists guiding the expeditions. Explorations on familiar, well-trodden paths produce new perspectives when examined with fresh eyes and imagination.

Triumph in the Philippines Robert Ross Smith, 1963. The reconquest of the Philippine archipelago exclusive of Leyte with detailed accounts of Sixth Army and Eighth Army operations on Luzon as well as of the Eighth Army's reoccupation of the southern Philippines. Warfare in the Enemy's Rear Otto Heilbrunn, 2021-05-30. This book first published in 1963 is an analysis of modern warfare in the enemy's rear written by the leading authority on irregular warfare and stemming from a close examination of real life examples. Rear warfare on scale poses many problems such as the exact field of operations, supply line issues, combat or harassment and coordination with frontline troops. There is also the issue of protecting one's own rear troops.

American Amphibious Gunboats in World War II Robin L. Rielley, 2013-05-13. As the United States began its campaign against numerous Japanese-held islands in the Pacific, Japanese tactics required them to develop new weapons and strategies. One of the most crucial to the island assaults was a new group of amphibious gunboats that could deliver heavy fire close in to shore as American forces landed. These gunboats were also to prove important in the interdiction of inter-island barge traffic and late in the war the kamikaze threat. Several variations of these gunboats were developed based on the troop-carrying LCI(L). They included three conversions of the LCI(L) with various combinations of guns, rockets and mortars and a fourth gunboat the LCS(L) based on the same hull but designed as a weapons platform from the beginning. By the end of the war the amphibious gunboats had proven their worth.
