Handbook of Pediatric Psychology in School Settings Ronald T. Brown, 2003-09-12

In recent years the escalating costs of health care have caused managed care programs to shift the delivery of pediatric psychological services away from specialized medical centers and into primary care and school settings. One result has been a radical expansion of school psychology into issues of clinical intervention, health promotion and the assessment of psychotropic medications. School psychologists are now expected to either deliver or more likely to provide consultation regarding a wide variety of pediatric psychological services. Because this is a recent phenomenon, very few school based psychologists or allied health practitioners, school counselors and social workers have received training in pediatric psychology. The mission of this book is to provide them with a comprehensive and authoritative guide to their newly acquired responsibilities in such areas as psychotherapy, psychopharmacology, health promotion and prevention of disease. This book is appropriate for anyone concerned with issues of pediatric psychology in school settings: school psychologists, pediatric psychologists, clinical child psychologists as well as pediatricians and child psychiatrists.

Handbook of Pediatric Psychology Michael C. Roberts, Ric G. Steele, 2010-11-15

Sponsored by the Society of Pediatric Psychology, this handbook is recognized as the definitive reference in the field. In concise, peer reviewed chapters, leading authorities comprehensively examine links between psychological and medical issues from infancy through adolescence. Psychosocial aspects of specific medical problems and developmental emotional and behavioral disorders are reviewed. The volume showcases evidence based approaches to intervention and prevention. It describes innovative ways that professionals can promote positive health behaviors, help children and families cope with medical conditions and their treatment, and collaborate across disciplines to deliver effective clinical services in primary care, mental health and school settings.
