Michael Palin brings the fascinating story of the Erebus and its occupants to life from its construction as a bomb vessel in 1826 through the flagship years of James Clark Ross's Antarctic expedition and finally to Sir John Franklin's quest for the holy grail of navigation a route through the Northwest Passage where the ship disappeared into the depths of the sea for more than 150 years. It was rediscovered under the arctic waters in 2014. Palin travels across the world from Tasmania to the Falkland Islands and the Canadian Arctic to offer a firsthand account of the terrain and conditions that would have confronted the Erebus and her doomed final crew. Delving into the research he describes the intertwined careers of the two men who shared the ship's journeys. Ross the organizational genius who mapped much of the Antarctic coastline and oversaw some of the earliest scientific experiments to be conducted there and Franklin who at the age of sixty and after a checkered career commanded the ship on its last disastrous venture. Expertly researched and illustrated with maps photographs paintings and engravings Erebus is an evocative account of two journeys one successful and forgotten the other tragic yet unforgettable.
