Modern Literature in the Near and Middle East, 1850-1970 Robin Ostle,2016-09-19 Enormous political and social changes brought about by modernization have naturally found expression in the literatures of the Near and Middle East The contributors to this book first published in 1991 trace the development of modern literary sensibility in Turkish Arabic Persian and modern Hebrew It is argued that the period can be divided into three broad phases the age of translation after 1850 when formerly self sufficient elites throughout the region began to reach out to the West for new ideas and stylistic models the surge of romantic nationalism after the First World War and the decline of imperialism and the modern period after 1950 a time of growing self awareness and self definition among writers against an often violent background of inter and intra state conflict The product of different nations races and traditions there are nevertheless constant themes in the literatures of this period the colonial heritage nationalism justice poverty and wealth migration from country to city confrontation between self and other and between East and West collapse and rebirth Modern Hebrew Literature Robert Alter,1975 Mendele Mocher Sforim Shem and Japheth on the train Peretz Y L Scenes from Limbo Feilerberg M Z In the evening Ahad Ha Am Imitation and assimilation Bialik H N The short Friday Revealment and concealment in language Brenner Y H The way out Barash A At heaven s gate Agnon S Y Agunot The lady and the peddler At the outset of the day Forevermore Hazaz H Rahamim The sermon Yizhar S The prisoner Amichai Y The times my father died Oz A Before his time Yehoshua A B Facing the forests Catalog of Copyright Entries. interpretive formula about the disposition of boundaries Newton explores narratives of place flight border and beyond The writers of The Elsewhere are a disparate company of twentieth century memoirists and fabulists from the Levant Palestine Israel Egypt and East Central Europe Together their texts cunningly paired so as to speak to one another in mutually revelatory ways narrate the paradox of the near distance

The Shriek of Silence David Patterson, 2021-12-14 In the Holocaust novel silence is always a character and the word is always its subject matter So writes David Patterson in this profound and original study of more than thirty important writers Contrary to existing views he argues the Holocaust novel is not an attempt to depict an unimaginable reality or an ineffable horror It is rather an endeavor to fetch the word from silence and restore it to meaning to resurrect the human soul to regenerate the relation between the self and God the self and other the self and itself This book is less a critical study in the usual sense than an impassioned meditation on the deeper sources of the Holocaust novel Among the authors examined are Elie Wiesel Arnost Lustig Aharon Appelfeld Katzetnik 135633 Primo Levi Yehuda Amichai Piotr Rawicz A Anatoli Saul Bellow I B Singer Anna Langfus Rachmil Bryks and Ilse Aichinger The Shriek of Silence is a first in several respects the first to examine the Holocaust novels in their original languages the first to articulate a theoretical basis for its approach and the first phenomenological investigation one that attempts to penetrate the process of creation for these novelists Organized along conceptual lines the book examines the word in exile the themes of death of the father and the child transformations of the self and the implications of the reader Its philosophical foundations are Rosenzweig Buber Neher and Levinas Its critical approach is shaped by Bakhtin The novelists of the Holocaust in witnessing through their words regain their voices and in so doing are reborn By probing the depths of their struggle Patterson s study draws us too toward a higher understanding perhaps even our own rebirth

The Jewish Spectator ,1975 Aharon Appelfeld Yig'al Shyarts, 2001 A compelling study of the entire oeuvre of a widely published Israeli writer now available in English Creating a Judaism Without Religion Daniel S. Breslauer, 2001-09 This book examines how some modern and contemporary Jewish thinkers and writers have imagined a Judaism without the boundaries and restrictions that go by the name of religion The book offers scholarly insights into some Jewish thinkers notably Martin Buber and Eugene Borowitz some Jewish writers in particular the poet Hayyim Nahman Bialik and the Yiddish author I L Peretz The study also introduces more contemporary thinkers and writers such as the postmodernist Jacques Derrida the contemporary Israeli novelist David Grossman and the young Israeli poet Ilan Sheinfeld While of scholarly interest the ten chapter work has more general appeal as a way of conceiving Jewish living outside the restrictions of religion One third of the book suggests a way of looking at God and theology as part of the process of living rather than as fixed realities Another third explores how Jewish culture can be liberated from the restrictions of nationalism and parochialism The final third focuses on a postmodern ethics of the self that emerges from face to face meetings with others The author contends that the future Judaism has created will be pluralistic diverse and oriented toward the future

Textual Silence Jessica Lang, 2017-08-24 There are thousands of books that represent the Holocaust but can and should the act of reading these works convey the events of genocide to those who did not experience it In Textual Silence literary scholar Jessica Lang asserts that language itself is a barrier between the author and the reader in Holocaust texts and that this barrier is not a lack of substance but a defining characteristic of the genre Holocaust texts which encompass works as diverse as memoirs novels poems and diaries are traditionally characterized by silences the authors place throughout the text both deliberately and unconsciously While a reader may have the desire and will to comprehend the Holocaust the presence of textual silence is a force that removes the experience of genocide from the reader's analysis and imaginative recourse Lang defines silences as omissions that take many forms including the use of italics and quotation marks ellipses and blank pages in poetry and the presence of unreliable narrators in fiction While this limits the reader's ability to read in any conventional sense these silences are not flaws They are instead a critical presence that forces readers to acknowledge how words and meaning can diverge in the face of events as unimaginable as those of the Holocaust

Routledge Library Editions: Language and Literature of the Middle East

Various, 2021-06-23 This nine volume set provides an overview of many aspects of Middle Eastern language and literature These books range from discussions of the Arabic language and its publications to translations of some of the region's most important early works to a survey of folk tales and modern literature World Literature Today, 1998 Chinese

Perceptions of the Jews' and Judaism Zhou Xun, Xun Zhou, 2013-12-16 While prejudice against Jews is a real and ongoing category in Western culture little attention has been paid to the myths of the Jews and their impact in countries outside the West This work draws on a wide variety of source materials from the past two centuries to examine the images of the Jews as constructed in China However the interest here does not lie in the determination of the boundary between the real and fictional aspects of these images Rather it lies in the implications associated with the Jew as an other which remains a distant mirror in the construction of the self amongst various social groups in modern China Although it has been noted by a few scholars that the use of the Jews as a category was important to many thinkers of modern China in the construction of their nationalistic and socio political ideologies this is the first systematic study in the field to be published This book is also more than a historical book on China in that it opens a new arena for modern Jewish studies from a unique angle

To Build and Be Built Eric Zakim, 2006-02-09 Eric Zakim follows the literary and intellectual career of the powerful Zionist slogan to build and be built from its conceptual origin in reaction to the Kishinev pogroms of 1903 when it first served as an expression of settlement aspiration until the end of pre state national expansion in Palestine in 1938 Draining the swamps and making the desert bloom the Jewish settlers imagined themselves as performing miracles on the land By these acts they were also meant to reinvent the very notion of what it was to be a Jew in the modern world As Jewish settlers reshaped nature in the Holy Land by turning it from one thing into another they too were newly constructed Zakim argues that in the period leading up to the establishment of the state of Israel the action of working the land and building its cities in order to transform both into something essentially Jewish increasingly came to mark a turn inward toward the reclamation of a Jewish subject tied to the very soil of Palestine To Build and Be Built radically recontextualizes modernist Hebrew literature to demonstrate how literary aesthetics of nature formed the very political discourse they nominally reflected Zakim's work sees no division between politics and representation Instead the depiction of nature in literature art and architecture became constitutive of a political and social understanding of the Jew's place in the Middle East By refusing to acknowledge the disciplinary boundaries of standard works on literature history and political thought To Build and Be Built challenges the methodological certainties that have guided popular and academic understandings of the development of Zionist involvement in the land of Israel For this reason To Build and Be Built will be of interest to people beyond literature in particular those working in history and those outside of Israel studies who have an interest in modernism and the representation of nature in the history of culture
