Essais Critiques:

Essai d'une introduction critique au Nouveau Testament, ou, Analyse raisonnée de l'ouvrage intitulé Jacob Élisée Cellerier, 1823 Roland Barthes Philip Thody, 1977-06-17 Essai de Semantique (Science de Significations) Michel Bréal, 1908 La critique littéraire - 3e éd. Jérôme Roger, 2016-09-14

Discipline aux contours mouvants la critique littéraire est peu représentée aujourd'hui dans l'enseignement des lettres qui en connaît parfois l'enjeu ou la tient pour un simple réservoir de méthodes. C'est oublier que la critique invite d'abord au décentrement du lecteur. Historique de la poétique de la philologie de l'herméneutique elle s'est enrichie au cours du XIXe et du XXe siècles de l'apport des sciences humaines et sociales. Elle ne se limite cependant pas au domaine français. Entretient son dialogue de toujours avec la littérature européenne et mondiale plus récemment avec les littératures francophones. André Gide préconisait toutefois qu'il n'y a pas de critique intéressante en tant que genre mais qu'il y a des critiques intéressants. Si cet ouvrage parvenait à persuader ses lecteurs il aurait rempli sa fonction.

Essais critiques Roland Barthes, 1964 How it was Done in Paris Leonid Livak, 2003

Here reintroduced into literary circulation is an ignored yet rich and original page in Russian literary history: the unnoticed generation of Russian writers who took up residence in France after the Bolshevik coup of 1917. Leonid Livak analyzes the position of these writers in the context of French modernist literature, examining the ways in which French literary life influenced migratory artistic identities and oeuvre. The book challenges commonly accepted notions of migratory isolation from French literature and culture and is instrumental in reaching a fuller understanding of the cultural mechanisms involved in the effort by an expatriate community to carry on a creative existence.

Theories on the Move Şebnem Susam-Sarajeva, 2006-01-01

Within translation studies books on translating conceptually dense texts such as philosophical or theoretical writings are remarkably few. Although the translation of literature has been a favourite topic for many decades the translation of theories on literature has been neglected. The phrase theories of translation is everywhere but translation of theories is a rare sight. On the other hand the term translation has become a commonplace in literary and cultural studies yet usually as a rhetorical figure describing the fate of those who struggle between two worlds and two languages such as migrants or women. Not much attention has been paid to the role of translation proper in contemporary circulation of ideas. The book addresses these gaps in translation studies and in literary studies for the first time by examining two specific cases where translation strategies and patterns crucially influenced the reception of imported schools of thought. By examining the importation of structuralism and semiotics into Turkish and of French feminism into English it invites the readers to think about the impact of translation on the transmission of ideas across linguistic cultural borders and power differentials. It is therefore of particular interest to the scholars working in translation studies in literary and cultural theory and in gender studies.

The Three Paradoxes of Roland

Barthes Patrizia Lombardo,2013-07-01 Revolution must of necessity borrow from what it wants to destroy the very image of what it wants to possess Roland Barthes In the field of contemporary literary studies Roland Barthes remains an inestimably influential figure perhaps more influential in America than in his native France The Three Paradoxes of Roland Barthes proposes a new method of viewing Barthes s critical enterprise Patrizia Lombardo who studied with Barthes rejects an absolutist or developmental assessment of his career Insisting that his world can best be understood in terms of the paradoxes he perceived in the very activity of writing Lombardo similarly sees in Barthes the crucial ambiguity that determines the modern writer an irresistible attraction for something new different breaking with the past yet also an unavoidable scorn for the contemporary world Lombardo demonstrates that her mentor s critical endeavor was not a linear progression of thought but was as Barthes described his work a romance a dance with a pen

Alchemy and Amalgam

Emily Salines,2004 Alchemy and Amalgam explores a relatively un researched area of the Baudelairean corpus his translations from English and relates them to the rest of his works It seeks to establish a link between translational and creative writing arguing for a reassessment of the place of translation in Baudelaire s writing method Rather than a sideline in Baudelaire s creative activities translation is thus shown to be a central form of dual writing at the core of his works Baudelaire s translations from English his constant rewriting of pre existing material including his own the doublets the transpositions d art and the art criticism are all based on an approach to writing which is essentially derivative but also transformative Thus the Baudelairean experiment illustrates the limits of romantic notions of originality creativity and genius reminding us that all writing is intrinsically intertextual It also shows the complexity of translation as a form of creation at the core of modern writing The book is one of the first of its kind to link the study the translational activity of a major writer to his creative writings It is also one of the first to provide an integrated presentation of French 19th century translation approaches and to link them to questions of copyright and authorship in the context of the rise of capitalism and romantic views of creation and genius It offers therefore a new perspective both on translation history and on literary history Alchemy and Amalgam will be of interest to students of translation comparative literature and French studies

Mourning Jacques Derrida,2003-09-15 Jacques Derrida is in the words of the New York Times perhaps the world s most famous philosopher if not the only famous philosopher He often provokes controversy as soon as his name is mentioned But he also inspires the respect that comes from an illustrious career and among many who were his colleagues and peers he inspired friendship The Work of Mourning is a collection that honors those friendships in the wake of passing Gathered here

Alain Robbe-Grillet John Phillips, 2019-02-08 Placing Robbe Grillet's filmic oeuvre in the related contexts of both his novelistic work and the different historical and cultural periods in which his films were made from the early 1960s to the present the book traces lines of influence and continuity throughout his work which is shown to exhibit a consistent preoccupation with an identifiable body of themes motifs and structures Close readings of all the films are skilfully combined with a thematic approach ranging across the entire filmic corpus The book also contains chapters on cinematography and technique Ultimately this lucid comprehensive and fascinating study shows Robbe Grillet's contribution to the evolution of the cinematic art both in France and internationally to have been considerably more important than previously acknowledged

A Critical Bibliography of French Literature V4 18th C , Mallarmé's Ideas in Language Heather Williams, 2004 In this book the author discusses the sheer improbability of Mallarmé's joint concern with concepts or ideas on the one hand and with language as it behaves within the constraints of poetic convention on the other Repair the World Alexandre Gefen, 2024-08-19 Talk of repair has become ubiquitous in recent years In the age of trauma culture art and literature have a new purpose to do justice to console comfort and heal Drawing on works of twenty first century French language literature this monograph shows how literature can not only serve as a means of personal development but expand our capacity for empathy help repair the brokenness implied in victimhood and redress individual and collective traumas Centered on a critical reflection on discourses of repair and reparations it questions the canonical theories on the functions of literature and proposes a new way of writing and reading literary history Praise Repair the World is an invigorating and essential call to arms The modern category of the literary it declares is being outpaced by the contemporary uses of literature as a medium of exorcism empathy reparation testimony commemoration existential renewal and ethical or political connectivity Neither celebrating nor condemning such uses Gefen models a much needed style of criticism interdisciplinary pragmatic relational that comes to grips with their importance Rita Felski the John Stewart Bryan Professor and Professor of English at the University of Virginia USA In an era where self help memoir and autobiography command more than their fair share of publisher's lists in France it's tempting some fifty years after post structuralism's heyday to ascribe an impending death of literature to a taste for narcissistic exhibitionism in French literary culture But why bemoan the waning relevance of the question what is literature asks Alexandre Gefen when evidence abounds in the new century that literary writing increasingly posits itself as a restorative reparative act In the best instances authors who give form to embodied experience imaginatively forge with their readers empathetic bonds of the sort that secular and religious institutions long sustained Repair the World is not only a capacious study of writers who hail from surprisingly broad sectors of French society from health and social workers to skilled laborers journalists and educators it's a situated call for a pragmatics of reading that makes of each book an intervention into the fabric of the real Harnessing sources in affect theory trauma studies ethics and cognitive science

Alexandre Gefen performs a critically reparative act all his own reminding us that the notion of literature as autonomous object was itself a historical construct in short an ideology Reading and writing have always conjoined care for the self and care for others and it is upon that reciprocity that the communities of sense of tomorrow can flourish in a spirit of reparative humanism Derek Schilling Professor of French Director of the Centre Louis Marin Department of Modern Languages and Literatures Johns Hopkins University USA Alexandre Gefen's wide ranging thought provoking study takes stock of a paradigm shift in contemporary French literature away from a model of autonomy and intransitivity to ways of writing and reading that seek to repair restore reassure and rebuild From the varied forms of expressivity found in self narratives to the empathetic projections of fiction Repair the World maps out an expanding literary territory that seeks not critical negativity but rather the power to intervene for good in individual and collective life While reserving judgment on the actual extent of literature's effects Gefen demonstrates that contemporary projects and discourses undeniably center the therapeutic and remediative uses of literature With its nuanced readings and keen insights Repair the World has been rightly influential in France its powerful diagnosis of contemporary sensibilities resonates far beyond revealing both the promises and predicaments of literature in the twenty first century Alison James Professor of French and Chair of the Department of Romance Languages and Literatures at the University of Chicago USA What would it mean to ask Sartre's post war question What is literature in the 21st century In this wonderful essay Alexandre Gefen argues convincingly that the main purpose of literature today is to repair a broken world and memorialise forgotten lives Taking examples from predominantly contemporary French literature he proposes that literature as therapy has replaced religions of salvation a politics of emancipation and formal experimentation Today literature's mission is to heal traumatised individuals and communities resurrect the lives of the vulnerable and commemorate their deeds in the face of the forces of oblivion For Gefen Patrick Modiano's Dora Bruder 1997 is the contemporary literary archetype of these lost identities to be rehabilitated and reinhabited Gefen describes this new role for literature without taking sides the writing is lucid compelling and non partisan In an age of victimhood testimony empathy self expression and identity Gefen's reparative paradigm is as persuasive as Sartre's political version in the age of ideology Max Silverman Professor of Modern French Studies University of Leeds UK

Bulletin [1908-23] Boston Public Library, 1914 Just Words Robert W. Greene, 2010-11 Are the words that a novelist uses adequate to his or her elusive subject the human condition Are they pertinent accurate invariably fair unflinchingly honest Or do the novelist's words execute essentially formal maneuvers engaging our interest through their patterns rather than their reach And what about a possible third synthesizing option Robert W Greene discovers that the two apparently divergent intentions in question metalinguistic vs moralistic often paradoxically coexist in French fiction Also no doubt because it is more consistently self conscious than that of any previous era the fiction of twentieth century France seems to illustrate this convergence with special brilliance From L Immoralist 1902 to L Usage de la parole 1980 Greene explores combinations and permutations of moralistic analysis and metalinguistic commentary in a particular sequence of prose narrative Along the way he observes Gide Proust Malraux Camus Duras and Sarraute each in his or her own fashion moving ceaselessly back and forth between soundings of the heart and diagnoses of the tongue Bulletin of the Public Library of the City of Boston Boston Public Library, 1914
