

How to Write an Autobiography

Tips to write an autobiography:

Like the examples of autobiographies discussed above, any autobiography needs to deal with a few aspects:

Introduction: One needs to give an introduction about themselves in the autobiography. This introduction needs to contain basic aspects like name, where you live, when and where were you born, what conditions were you born in, etc.

You in totality: This part of the autobiography deals with a general point of view, that you hold about yourself. It also needs to let the reader be able to visualize you in the current day. You need to include your current situations, habits, lifestyle etc.

Life, in general: This part of the autobiography deals with your view about life, on a general note. You need to include your understanding of life and its implications. This part is your route to propound your belief. So, make it descriptive.

View and aims: Here, you talk about where do you see yourself in the future or what you expect to happen in the future. This part, mostly, should be in compatibility with the previous aspect, else your reader could get confused and lose interest in the book.

Conclusion: Like all stories, an autobiography also needs to have an apt conclusion. You can leave a lasting impression on the reader with the help of your conclusion. Remember, you do not need to have a "moral of the story". You can simply end it with hope, if you like.

Always remember, it is your autobiography, not an example of an autobiography, you can write it the way you like. So, experiment and enjoy. As they say, "if you find it interesting while writing it, the reader will find it interesting while reading it". This is where I sign off. Hope to find your autobiography on the stands soon!!

How to begin writing an autobiography

When writing an autobiography, focus on FOUR major things: (1) who you are in life (how would you describe your personality), (2) what life means to you, (3) what major life events or critical issues have had an impact on your life, and (4) what your outlook on the future is.

The first thing you do when writing an autobiography is start off with a lot of facts about

Wagner-Egelhaaf, 2019-01-29 Autobiographical writings have been a major cultural genre from antiquity to the present time General questions of the literary as e.g. the relation between literature and reality truth and fiction the dependency of author narrator and figure or issues of individual and cultural styles etc. can be studied preeminently in the autobiographical genre Yet the tradition of life writing has in the course of literary history developed manifold types and forms Especially in the globalized age where the media and other technological cultural factors contribute to a rapid transformation of lifestyles autobiographical writing has maintained even enhanced its popularity and importance By conceiving autobiography in a wide sense that includes memoirs diaries self portraits and autofiction as well as media transformations of the genre this three volume handbook offers a comprehensive survey of theoretical approaches systematic aspects and historical developments in an international and interdisciplinary perspective While autobiography is usually considered to be a European tradition special emphasis is placed on the modes of self representation in non Western cultures and on inter and transcultural perspectives of the genre The individual contributions are closely interconnected by a system of cross references The handbook addresses scholars of cultural and literary studies students as well as non academic readers      New Essays on Life Writing and the Body Christopher Stuart, Stephanie Todd, 2009-03-26 In light of materialist revisions of the Cartesian dual self and the increased recognition of memoir and autobiography as a crucial cultural index the physical body has emerged in the last twenty five years as an increasingly inescapable object of inquiry speculation and theory that intersects all of the various subgenres of life writing New Essays on Life Writing and the Body thus offers a timely original focused and yet appropriately interdisciplinary study of life writing This collection brings together new work by established authorities in autobiography such as Timothy Dow Adams G Thomas Couser Cynthia Huff and others along with essays by emerging scholars in the field Subjects range from new interpretations of well known autobiographies by Edith Wharton Gertrude Stein and Lucy Grealy as well as scholarly surveys of more recently defined subgenres such as the numerous New Woman autobiographies of the late 19th century adoption narratives and sibling memoirs of the mentally impaired Due to their wide interdisciplinary focus these essays will prove valuable not only to more traditional literary scholars interested in the classic literary autobiography but also to those in Women's Studies Ethnic and African American Studies as well as in emerging fields such as Disability Studies and Cognitive Studies

Poetry and Autobiography Jo Gill, Melanie Waters, 2013-12-16

This collection makes a critical and creative intervention into ongoing debates about the relationship between poetry and autobiography Drawing on recent theories of life writing the essays in the first part of this volume provide new analyses of works by a range of poets dating from the early modern period to the present day Exploring the autobiographical resonances of poems by Martha Moulsworth Mina Loy Anne Sexton Joe Brainard Edward Kamau Braithwaite and Gwyneth Lewis the authors here examine the extent to which discourses of truth and authenticity have been implicated in traditional interpretations of lyric poetry In doing so they endeavour to illuminate the complex intersections and divergences of poetry and autobiography asking what these forms might learn from each other about issues of shared concern from questions of identity and textuality to those of reference and audience The creative reflections which form the second part of the collection develop and respond to these questions in various suggestive and original ways here poetry and prose are used in order to test the relationship between poetry and life writing and to explore issues of memory time place subjectivity and voice This book was published as a special issue of Life Writing

American Autobiography Paul John Eakin, 1991 The first four essays review the major historical periods of American autobiography placing the classic texts of American autobiographical literature from Captain John Smith to Malcolm X in the illuminating context of lesser known contemporary narratives Daniel B Shea writes on colonial America Lawrence Buell on the American Renaissance Susanna Egan on the years after the Civil War and Albert E Stone on the twentieth century The second part of American Autobiography shows the diversity of voices forms audiences and modes of identity in the literature of American autobiography Provocative essays by William Boelhower and Sau Ling Cynthia Wong on immigrant autobiography discuss the changes in the sense of self that occur when strangers come to a strange land Arnold Krupat writes about how American Indians conceptualize the self and about the relationship between oral and written discourse William L Andrews evaluates the strong body of critical theory that has grown up around African American autobiography showing how both the genre and its criticism have responded to contemporary historical pressures Carol Holly explores the model of personal identity that underlies nineteenth century women's autobiographies and Blanche Gelfant examines the narrative and political strategies of Emma Goldman's autobiography especially her use of popular romance and melodrama The last essay offers a more personal perspective on contemporary autobiography a dialogue between Robert and Jane Coles about how they developed their method of eliciting first person oral narratives for their famous Children of Crisis and Women of Crisis series These essays raise theoretical issues that are examined in Paul John Eakin s incisive introduction How do we define a literary genre of protean shape and perplexing cultural multiplicity How do we approach the special problems created by documents that are both historical and literary texts ones that pose difficult questions about truth and representation Most important how is the canon of American autobiography to be constructed and how is its history to be written Tracing that critical history Eakin explains how changing ideas about the mainstream and the marginal have revitalized our retrospective view of American autobiography and opened up new and exciting prospects for today s reader University Library of Autobiography ,1918 Reading

Autobiography Sidonie Smith,Julia Watson,2010-07-02 With the memoir boom life storytelling has become ubiquitous and emerged as a distinct field of study Reading Autobiography originally published in 2001 was the first comprehensive critical introduction to life writing in all its forms Widely adopted for undergraduate and graduate level courses it is an essential guide for students and scholars reading and interpreting autobiographical texts and methods across the humanities social sciences and visual and performing arts Thoroughly updated the second edition of Reading Autobiography is the most complete assessment of life narrative in its myriad forms It lays out a sophisticated theoretical approach to life writing and the components of autobiographical acts including memory experience identity embodiment space and agency Sidonie Smith and Julia Watson explore these components review the history of life writing and the foundations of autobiographical subjectivity and provide a toolkit for working with twenty three key concepts Their survey of innovative forms of life writing such as autographics and installation self portraiture charts recent shifts in autobiographical practice Especially useful for courses are the appendices a glossary covering dozens of distinct genres of life writing proposals for group and classroom projects and an extensive bibliography Autobiographical Incriptions Barbara Ruth Rodriguez,1999 As life writing began to attract critical attention in the 1950s and 60s theorists critics and practitioners of autobiography concerned themselves with inscribing that is establishing or asserting a set of conventions that would define constructions of identity and acts of self representation More recently however scholars have identified the ways in which autobiographical works recognize and resist those conventions Moving beyond the narrow prescriptive definition of autobiography as the factual chronological first person narrative of the life story critics have theorized the genre from postmodern and feminist perspectives Autobiographical Incriptions contributes a theory of autobiography by women writers of color to this lively repositioning of identity studies Barbara Rodr guez breaks new ground in the field with a discussion of the ways in which innovations of form and structure bolster the arguments for personhood articulated by Harriet Jacobs Zora Neale Hurston Hisaye Yamamoto Maxine Hong Kingston Leslie Marmon Silko Adrienne Kennedy and Cecile Pineda Rodr guez maps the intersections of form and structure with issues of race and gender in these women s works Central to the autobiographical act and to the representation of the self in language these intersections mark the ways in which the American woman writer of color comments on the process of subject construction as she produces original forms for the life story In each chapter Rodriguez pairs canonized texts with less well known works reading autobiographical works across cultural contexts and historical periods and even across artistic media By raising crucial questions about structure Autobiographical Inscriptions analyzes the ways in which these texts also destabilize notions of race and gender The result is a remarkable analysis of the seemingly endless range of formal strategies available to adopted and adapted by the American woman writer of color

University Library of Autobiography, Including All the Great Autobiographies and the Autobiographical Data Left by the World's Famous Men and Women, 1919      Irish Writing in the Twentieth Century David Pierce, 2000
With five Nobel Prize winners seven Pulitzer Prize winners and two Booker Prize winning novelists modern Irish writing has contributed something special and permanent to our understanding of the twentieth century Irish Writing in the Twentieth Century provides a useful comprehensive and pleasurable introduction to modern Irish literature in a single volume Organized chronologically by decade this anthology provides the reader with a unique sense of the development and richness of Irish writing and of the society it reflected It embraces all forms of writing not only the major forms of drama fiction and verse but such material as travel writing personal memoirs journalism interviews and radio plays to offer the reader a complete and wonderfully varied sense of Ireland's contribution our literary heritage David Pierce has selected major literary figures as well as neglected ones and includes many writers from the Irish diaspora The range of material is enormous and ensures that work that is inaccessible or out of print is now easily available The book is a delightful compilation including many well known pieces and captivating discoveries which anyone interested in literature will long enjoy browsing and dipping into      Autobiographical Poetry in England and Spain, 1950-1980 Menotti Lerro, 2017-03-07 The volume traces the founding critical theories of the autobiographical genre from the Enlightenment period to the most recent developments which since the Sixties and the essays of Roy Pascal and Jean Starobinski have had a greater and greater influence It offers in contrast to the essential and by now classic definition of Philippe Lejeune an increased effectiveness of the poem to express the narrative purposes of autobiography recognizing poetic writing that has the extraordinary ability to say what the mortal language does not say to quote Leopardi The works of Seamus Heaney Thom Gunn Carlos Barral and Jaime Gil de Biedma are analyzed here and show an unveiling of the self through memories places and objects that often characterize them and that allow to whomever recalls one's own experience through writing the recovery and restoration of essential meanings to the reconstruction not only of subjective identity but also of one's own community      Teaching Anglophone Caribbean Literature Supriya M. Nair, 2012-10-01 This volume in the Options for Teaching series recognizes that the most challenging aspect of introducing students to anglophone Caribbean literature the sheer variety of intellectual and artistic traditions in Western and non Western cultures that relate to it also offers the greatest opportunities to teachers Courses on anglophone literature in the Caribbean can consider the region's specific histories and contexts even as they explore common issues: the legacies of slavery, colonialism and colonial education, nationalism, exile and migration, identity and hybridity, class and racial conflict, gender and sexuality, religion and ritual. While considering how the availability of materials shapes syllabi, this volume recommends print, digital and visual resources for teaching. The essays examine a host of topics including the following: the development of multiethnic populations in the Caribbean and the role of various creole languages in the literature; oral art forms such as dub poetry and reggae music; the influence of anglophone literature in the Caribbean on literary movements outside it such as the Harlem Renaissance and black British writing; Carnival, religious rituals and beliefs; specific genres such as slave narratives and autobiography, film and drama; the economics of rum. Many essays list resources for further reading and the volume concludes with a section of additional teaching resources.
