

Another example of the letter's stronger argument is the author's explanation of the 2001 study. She concedes that the representative is correct in citing that bypasses are proven to reduce noise and traffic in town, but she argues that the study shows a negative effect on local businesses. This piece of the study was not mentioned by Representative Walls or the press release, and it is a proven fact. This draws more credibility to the argument in the letter.

Also, although it is a speculation, it is more reasonable that traveler's will stick to the main highway and not venture miles off their path into small town when chain gas stations, restaurants, and motels are conveniently located directly at the highway exits. It is less likely that old roads in the towns will become historical locations, attracting tourists and boosting small business sales.

Despite the argument and evidence given by the press release, it appears that the letter to the editor offers a stronger case. The author's ideas are backed up by logical explanations and facts with a few speculations. Though the press release offers some fact, it is mainly specked with anticipations and hopes, driven to overshadow any doubts and quell any concerns. The letter is penned by a resident of the town and owner of a business, subject to firsthand opinions of the citizens of the district. The press release is pushed by an elected representative who, upon visiting the town a number of times and consulting a small percentage of the constituents, is convinced she understands the majority. Although both parties may very well have the best interests of the district in mind, and either position could be correct, it is clear that the letter provides a better-supported argument.

Global Networks, Local Actions Marcella Milana, 2016-12-01 Global Networks Local Actions Rethinking adult education policy in the 21st century examines public policy developments in adult education exploring the policy framing of adult education practice in a range of socio cultural contexts and contributing to the development of policy research from global and comparative perspectives Drawing from multidisciplinary fields such as adult education comparative and international education and sociology chapters analyse empirically grounded studies from the US Italy Argentina and Brazil Each study helps to identify how political agents interact at international regional national and local scales and what the implications are for publically funded interventions in adult education While this book recognises the complexity of adult education policy it argues for the need to deconstruct the false belief that what is global in adult education may be intrinsically distinct from the characteristics of geographical or social territories in which adult education occurs Instead it points to localised norms and ideas on Adult Basic and Secondary Education as ultimately contained in and constituting what is at times perceived as global or abstracted from definite geographical or social territories This book calls for a global sociology of adult education in response to global challenges and makes an important contribution to our understanding of developments in public adult education policy As such it will be of key interest to researchers academics and postgraduate students in the fields of adult education comparative and international education education policy and politics sociology of education and global studies

Think Outside the Gate Melisa Mel, 2017-10-12 Think Outside the Gate is a book dedicated to all those who work or live in any type of incarceration environment It contains a compilation of lesson plans and presentation outlines which can be used as an example of how one can turn any type of lesson into a think outside the gate experience The think outside the gate mind set is a philosophy that Melisa Mel created as the focal point of her lessons and presentations This approach makes it a priority to keep the students focus on everything and anything outside of their limited incarcerating walls This not only instills hope in them but it also better prepares them for when they cross the prison gates to go live back in society Melisa Mel feels that better preparing for reentry into society is the most efficient way to ensure a persons success outside of prison so that they do not return to prison Her hope is that while working or living behind bars a think outside the gate mind set is present at all times as that will tackle recidivism at its very core

The Complete Theory-to-practice Handbook of Adult Literacy, 1990 This work offers guidelines for curriculum design and teaching approaches for adult education programmes that are broader and more interactive than many existing programmes for undereducated adults The authors describe ways in which classes can be organized and lessons developed around the specific needs and interests of adult learners rather than around pre packaged materials
