This volume completes a program of publishing distinguished essays on a wide range of Slavic topics      California Slavic Studies Henrik Birnbaum,1992 This volume completes a program of publishing distinguished essays on a wide range of Slavic topics      The Columbia Guide to the Literatures of Eastern Europe Since 1945 Harold B. Segel,2003 The Iron Curtain concealed from western eyes a vital group of national and regional writers Marked by not only geographical proximity but also by the shared experience of communism and its collapse the countries of Eastern Europe Poland Hungary Albania Romania Bulgaria and the former states of Yugoslavia Czechoslovakia and East Germany share literatures that reveal many common themes when examined together Compiled by a leading scholar the guide includes an overview of literary trends in historical context a listing of some 700 authors by country and an A to Z section of articles on the most influential writers

History of the Literary Cultures of East-Central Europe Marcel Cornis-Pope,John Neubauer,2006-09-13 Continuing the work undertaken in Vol 1 of the History of the Literary Cultures of East Central Europe Vol 2 considers various topographic sites multicultural cities border areas cross cultural corridors multiethnic regions that cut across national boundaries rendering them permeable to the flow of hybrid cultural messages By focusing on the literary cultures of specific geographical locations this volume intends to put into practice a new type of comparative study Traditional comparative literary studies establish transnational comparisons and contrasts but thereby reconfirm however inadvertently the very national borders they play down This volume inverts the expansive momentum of comparative studies towards ever broader regional European and world literary histories While the theater of this volume is still the literary culture of East Central Europe the contributors focus on pinpointed local traditions and geographic nodal points Their histories of Riga Plovdiv Timișoara or Budapest of Transylvania or the Danube corridor to take a few examples reveal how each of these sites was during the last two hundred years a home for a variety of foreign or ethnic literary traditions next to the one now dominant within the national borders By foregrounding such non national or hybrid traditions this volume pleads for a diversification and pluralization of local and national histories A genuine comparatist revival of literary history should involve the recognition that treading on native grounds means actually treading on grounds cultivated by diverse people      The Political Novel in the South Slavic Intercultural Context Ethem Mandic,2023-09-18 The Political Novel in the South Slavic Intercultural Context investigates the problem of the genre of the most elusive literary genre the political novel and the presence of political in novels of South Slavic literature primarily in the intercultural South Slavic social context as well as in the context of contemporary history of Southeast and Central Europe This genre in the South Slavic inter literary context has not yet been scientifically and systematically studied and presented although there are critical and scientific reviews that indicate its presence in literary production The best novels from the canonical South Slavic authors Miroslav Krleža, Mihailo Lalić, Oskar Davico, Miodrag Bulatović, Ivo Andrić, Meša Selimović, Borislav Pekić, Mirko Kovač, Danilo Kiš and others included in this book thematize the political concepts of the twentieth century so in the broadest sense they can be considered within the genre of political novel including its subgenre variants The political novel in South Slavic literatures in the intercultural context in general is a specific genre of the novel in relation to the political novel written in the West an inter literary phenomenon that was a critique of the Titoist regime and a literary response to the poetics and politics of social realism It is conditioned by specific historical political and social movements during the twentieth century The narrative of the political novel is a poetic resistance to ideological consciousness and a dogmatic view of reality

Russian Literature, Modernism and the Visual Arts Catriona Kelly, Stephen Lovell, 2000-03-09 In the Russian modernist era literature threw itself open to influences from other art forms most particularly the visual arts Collaborations between writers artists designers and theatre and cinema directors took place more intensively and productively than ever before or since Equally striking was the incursion of spatial and visual motifs and structures into verbal texts Verbal and visual principles of creation joined forces in an attempt to transform and surpass life through art Yet willed transcendence of the boundaries between art forms gave rise to confrontation and creative tension as well as to harmonious co operation This collection of essays by leading British American and Russian scholars first published in 2000 draws on a rich variety of material from Dostoevskii to Siniavskii from writers doodles to cabarets from well known modernists such as Akhmatova Malevich Platonov and Olesha to less well known figures to demonstrate the creative power and dynamism of Russian culture on the boundaries

Expressionism As an International Literary Phenomenon Ulrich Weisstein, 1973-01-01 Ulrich Weisstein's collection of 21 essays offers a comparative study of Expressionism as a Modernist movement whose dynamic core lay in Germany and Austria Hungary but which transformed artistic practices in other European countries The focus Weisstein argues must be strictly and sharply aimed at a specific body of works and opinions a relatively dense core surrounded by a less clearly defined fringe zone indigenous to the German speaking countries The volume spans an Expressionist period extending from roughly 1910 to 1925 Weisstein himself contributes two introductory chapters on problems of definition and a thoughtful analysis of English Vorticism An ample context is set by comparative essays concerned with international movements such as Futurism that had an impact on German Expressionist drama prose and poetry together with essays on the adaptation of Expressionist forms in countries such as Poland Russia Hungary South Slavic nations and the United States These essays call attention to representative authors and artists as well as to periodicals and artistic circles Reviewers have praised not only the presentation of literary links and interaction among national cultures but especially the most rewarding interdisciplinary essays on Dada and on Expressionist painting music and film

Dubrovnik: A Mediterranean Urban Society, 1300-1600 Barisa Krekic, 2023-06-09 This second volume of the author's studies opens with a new survey of the recent historiography of Dubrovnik and also contains four items specially translated from Serbo-Croat The first part deals with aspects of daily life in this Mediterranean city including analyses of the differing attitudes of the patricians and lower classes and the position of the authorities with regard to homosexuals and Jews The following articles consider Dubrovnik's international role on the one hand as a maritime state and in relation to Venice and on the other in terms of its participation in the interaction of Latin and Slav cultures in Renaissance Dalmatia California Slavic Studies, 1960
