Essays On Politics And Culture:

Essays on Politics and Culture John Stuart Mill, 1962 The Politics of Culture and Other Essays Roger Scruton, 1981 Brings together Scruton's best essays from many sources arranging them thematically The book has four sections Language and Art Writers in Context Architecture and Culture and Anarchy Though the essays are diverse certain themes are developed in particular and then in general ways and there are several important essays on writers and critics that contribute to the reappraisal of their work among them Dante Andre Breton Graham Greene James Joyce Sylvia Plath Jacques Lacan and Yukio Mishima Children and the Politics of Culture Sharon Stephens, 2021-02-09 The bodies and minds of children and the very space of children are under assault This is the message we receive from daily news headlines about violence sexual abuse exploitation and neglect of children and from a proliferation of books in recent years representing the domain of contemporary childhood as threatened invaded polluted and stolen by adults Through a series of essays that explore the global dimensions of children at risk an international group of researchers and policymakers discuss the notion of children's rights and in particular the claim that every child has a right to a cultural identity Explorations of children's situations in Japan Korea Singapore South Africa England Norway the United States Brazil and Germany reveal how children's everyday lives and futures are often the stakes in contemporary battles that adults wage over definitions of cultural identity and state cultural policies Throughout this volume the authors address the complex and often ambiguous implications of the concept of rights For example it may be used to defend indigenous children from radically assimilationist or even genocidal state policies but it may also be used to legitimate racist institutions A substantive introduction by the editor examines global political economic frameworks for the cultural debates affecting children and traces intriguing sometimes surprising threads throughout the papers In addition to the editor the contributors are Norma Field Marilyn Ivy Mary John Hae joang Cho Saya Shiraishi Vivienne Wee Pamela Reynolds Kathleen Hall Ruth Mandel Manuela Carneiro da Cunha and Njabulo Ndebele The Politics of Culture in the Shadow of Capital Lisa Lowe, David Lloyd, 1997-11-17 Coming from a broad cross section of academic disciplines and theoretical positions this collection of essays questions and reworks Marxist critiques of capitalism that center on the West and which posit a uniform model of development More specifically Politics of Culture in Iran Nematollah Fazeli, 2006-08-21 This first full length study of the history of Iranian anthropology charts the formation and development of anthropology in Iran in the twentieth century The text examines how and why anthropology and culture became part of wider socio political discourses in Iran and how they were appropriated and rejected by the pre and post revolutionary regimes The author highlights the three main phases of Iranian anthropology corresponding broadly to three periods in the social and political development of Iran the period of nationalism lasting approximately from the constitutional revolution 1906-11 and the end of the Qajar dynasty until the end of Reza Shah's reign 1941 the period of Nativism from the 1950s until the Islamic revolution 1979 the post revolutionary period In addition the book places Iranian anthropology in an international context by demonstrating how Western anthropological concepts theories and methodologies affected epistemological and political discourses on Iranian anthropology Poetry, Politics, and Culture Harold Kaplan, A salient feature of modern poetics is its direct connection with cultural history and politics Among the great American poets of the twentieth century Wallace Stevens and William Carlos Williams offer a significant contrast with T S Eliot and Ezra Pound Where the latter advocated a theocentric or reactionary response to the cultural crises of modernity the former affirmed an essentially humanist and democratic social and aesthetic ethos While each believed in poetry as a source of cultural values and beliefs they nevertheless experienced loss of confidence in their own vocation in a world characterized by scientific rationalist thinking and the mundane struggle for survival Politics and Cultures of Liberation ,2018-05-29 Politics and Cultures of Liberation Media Memory and Projections of Democracy focuses on mapping analyzing and evaluating memories rituals and artistic responses to the theme of liberation How is the national framed within a dynamic system of intercultural contact zones highlighting often competing agendas of remembrance How does the production re mediation and framing of narratives within different social territorial and political environments determine the cultural memory of liberation The articles compiled in this volume seek to provide new interdisciplinary and intercultural perspectives on the politics and cultures of liberation by examining commemorative practices artistic responses and audio visual media that lend themselves for transnational exploration They offer a wide range of diverse intercultural perspectives on media memory liberation self Americanization and conceptualizations of democracy from the war years through the Cold War era to the 21st century Socialist Joy in the Writing of Langston Hughes Jonathan Scott,2006 Explores Hughes s intellectual method and its relation to social activism Examines his involvement with socialist movements of the 1920s and 1930s and contends that the goal of overthrowing white oppression produced a socialist joy expressed repeatedly in his later work in spite of the anticommunist crusades of the cold war Provided by publisher Cultural Politics and Political Culture in Postmodern Europe J. Peter Burgess,1997 The present volume assembles essays from a broad cultural and professional spectrum around the question of European cultural identity The heterogeneity of the contributors their differing points of departure and methods attests to a tension in intellectual communities which today is more intense than ever Europe s identity crisis is not merely an empirical matter It reflects a far deeper and far older discursive crisis The mandate of Europe s traditional intellectual institutions to preserve and police their own cultural heritage has proved incapable of evolving in a manner sufficient to account for the mutation in its object European culture It is not merely that Europe s identity like any identity in the flux of history has changed Rather the notion of identity the very basis of any questions of who we are where we are going and the appropriate political forms and social institutions for further existence all rely on a logic of identity which has at best become extremely problematic It is this problematization which provides the common thread unifying the following essays Each contributor in his her own way and with respect to his her own research object confronts the adequacy of the concept of cultural identity The hidden presuppositions of this concept are indeed remarkable and the logic of cultural identity prescribes that they remain undisclosed Classes, Cultures, and Politics Clare V. J. Griffiths, James J. Nott, William Whyte, 2011-04-07 This volume investigates the fields in British history that have been illustrated by the works of Ross McKibbin Written by a distinguished team of scholars it examines McKibbin's life and thought and explores the implications of his arguments Chicano Culture, Ecology, Politics Devon G.
