Drawing on the scholarship and expertise of 288 contributors, the Encyclopedia presents a long-needed overview of rhetoric and its role in contemporary education and communications, discusses rhetoric's contributions to various fields, surveys the applications of this versatile discipline to the teaching of English and language arts, and illustrates its usefulness in all kinds of discourse, argument, and exchange of ideas. Landmark Essays on American Public Address Martin J.

Medhurst, 2020-08-26 This volume traces the historical evolution of American academic thought concerning public address: what it is, how it ought to be studied, and what can be learned by engaging rhetorical texts in an analytical fashion. To begin, one must distinguish among three separate but interrelated uses of the term public address: as practice, theory, and criticism. The essays in this volume represent landmarks in the literal sense of that term: they are marks on the intellectual landscape that indicate where scholars and ideas have passed and in that passing left a mark for future generations. It is appropriate to revisit the landmarks that have set public address off as a field of study, and it allows readers to remember the struggles that have led to the current situation. Most of the authors of the following chapters are deceased, but their ideas live on, transformed, adapted, modified, rejected, and reborn. The scholarly dialectic continues. What constitutes a study in public address? how best to approach rhetorical texts, which analytical tools are required for the job, how best to balance text with context, and what role ought theory to play in the conduct or outcome of critical inquiry? these questions live on. To answer them at all is to engender debate, and that is how it should be if the intellectual vitality of public address is to be maintained. The papers are a prolegomenon to such studies for they mark where scholars have been and point the way to where they still must go. Twentieth-Century Roots of Rhetorical Studies Jim A. Kuypers, Andrew King, 2001-03-30 Kuypers, King, and their contributors explore the conception of rhetoric of eleven key American rhetoricians through analyses of their life's work. Each chapter provides a sense of that scholar's conception of rhetoric, be it through criticism, theory, or teaching. The communication discipline often highlights the work of others outside the discipline; however, it rarely acclaims the work of its own critics, teachers, and theorists. In this collection, the essays explore the innate mode of perception that guided the rhetorical understanding of the early critics. In so doing, this work dispels the myth that the discipline of Speech Communication was spawned from a monolithic and rigid center that came to be called neo-Aristotelianism. Scholars and researchers involved with the history of rhetoric, rhetorical criticism, and theory, and American public address will find this title to be a necessary addition to their collection. Achebe the Orator Chinwe Okechukwu, 2001-03-30 Taken together

Chinua Achebe's five novels Things Fall Apart 1958 No Longer at Ease 1960 A Man of the People 1966 Arrow of God 1967 and Anthills of the Savannah 1988 encompass the entire social historical and political experiences of Nigeria from precolonial times to the close of the 20th century. Central to these experiences is the clash of Igbo culture with the ways of the West. The novels show a society that has been fragmented and a people who are striving to reconstruct a world that they lost during their encounter with colonialism. Achebe has stated that his main purpose for writing is to reveal the truth about his people and their culture. This book examines his use of rhetoric to accomplish that objective. Achebe's writings are fraught with rhetorical devices and he has harnessed the power of oratory to show how his society has responded to the African colonial encounter and its aftermath. He uses oratory and rhetoric to both educate and persuade his readers and to delineate his characters. Because of the central role of language in his novels, his writings illustrate the nature of discourse among the Igbo as well as the larger Nigerian community. This volume presents a broad overview of rhetoric throughout Achebe's works and demonstrates how he uses the novel genre for persuasive purposes.

Rhetoric and Hermeneutics in Our Time Walter Jost, Michael J. Hyde, 1997-01-01. This thought-provoking book initiates a dialogue among scholars in rhetoric and hermeneutics in many areas of the humanities. Twenty leading thinkers explore the ways these two powerful disciplines inform each other and influence a wide variety of intellectual fields. Walter Jost and Michael J. Hyde organize pivotal topics in rhetoric and hermeneutics with originality and coherence, dividing their book into four sections: Locating the Disciplines, Inventions and Applications, Arguments and Narratives, and Civic Discourse and Critical Theory. Contributors to this volume include Hans Georg Gadamer, one of whose pieces is here translated into English for the first time; Paul Ricoeur; Gerald L. Bruns; Charles Altieri; Richard E. Palmer; Calvin O. Schrag; Victoria Kahn; Eugene Garver; Michael Leff; Nancy S. Streuver; Wendy Olmsted; David Tracy; Donald G. Marshall; Allen Scult; Rita Copeland; William Rehg; and Steven Mailloux. For readers across the humanities, the book demonstrates the usefulness of rhetorical and hermeneutic approaches in literary, philosophical, legal, religious, and political thinking. With its stimulating new perspectives on the revival and interrelation of both rhetoric and hermeneutics, this collection is sure to serve as a benchmark for years to come.

The Rhetoric of Western Thought James L. Golden, 2003. Essays in Critical, Contemporary, and Philosophical Rhetoric Raymie E. McKerrow, 2024-10-24. This text is a representative sample of my research focus in contemporary rhetoric since the mid 1970s. It highlights work that explores themes expressed in the text's title. While not an exhaustive account of the themes, the text provides easy access to theoretical issues in rhetorical studies. These include topics such as the role of culture, citizenship, how space and time interact to affect the words we use, and the impulse to use language in critiquing the expressions of others. The collection is designed to be used by faculty teaching upper-level undergraduate to doctoral-level courses in rhetoric at colleges and universities in the USA. It also will be a resource at universities across the globe. The goal is to stimulate thought and provoke critical responses to the ideas and arguments contained in the essays. Thus, this is a text to be used to assist scholars and students as they engage in their own work      Fictional and Historical Worlds J. Barney, 2003-07-30 Examining the applied media ethics question of professional persuasion this special double issue resulted from a colloquium and conference on allowable ethical limits of deception in professional persuasion Participants were invited to reason their way toward a threshold that would define acceptable deception for a professional persuader in pursuit of favorable market and public opinion conditions for a client As a whole this issue covers a broad range of views and expressions of opinion that often come close to defining the threshold between morally acceptable and morally outrageous persuasion

A Rhetoric of Doing Stephen Paul Witte, Neil Nakadate, Roger Dennis Cherry, 1992 Concerned with both the nature and the practice of discourse the eighteen essays collected here treat rhetoric as a dynamic enterprise of inquiry exploration and application and in doing so reflect James L Kinneavy's firm belief in the vital relationship between theory and practice his commitment to a spirit of accommodation and assimilation that promotes the development of ever more powerful theories and ever more useful practices A thorough introduction provides the reader with clear summaries of the essays by leading edge theorists researchers and teachers of writing and rhetoric A field context for the ideas presented in this book is provided through the division of the various chapters into four major sections that focus on classical rhetoric and rhetorical theory in historical contexts on dimensions of discourse theory aspects of discourse communities and the sorts of knowledge people access and use in producing written texts on writing in school related contexts and on several dimensions of nonacademic writing A fifth section contains a bibliographic survey and an appreciation of James Kinneavy's work The exceptional range of these essays makes A Rhetoric of Doing an ecumenical examination of the current state of mind in rhetoric and written communication a survey and description of what discourse and those in the field of discourse are in fact doing

Modern Rhetoric in Culture, Arts, and Media Joachim Knape, 2012-12-19 The goal of this book is to formulate a modern theoretical approach for rhetorical studies in a variety of disciplines in the humanities media research and other cultural studies The discipline of rhetoric originally concerned itself with linguistic forms of communication and its basic theory was developed with such cases in mind With respect to this ancient tradition there are numerous books that provide a historical overview of the field There is also a wide array of introductory works and research contributions that deal with the practice of political rhetoric On the other hand only a few 20th century academics have attempted to theoretically rehabilitate rhetoric after its decline as an academic discipline in Europe in the 18th and 19th centuries and to give rhetorical theory a modern new and further reaching perspective Two notable examples have been Kenneth Burke and Brian Vickers The book begins with the assumption that rhetoric is not merely limited to linguistic action but rather is present everywhere in the communicative world Against this background this work develops a modern theory of rhetoric and demonstrates in twelve chapters how methodical rhetorical analysis can be done in selected practical fields of application Literature Music Images and Film     Reconnecting Reading and Writing Alice S. Horning, Elizabeth W. Kraemer, 2013-09-06 Reconnecting Reading and Writing explores the ways in which reading can and should have a strong role in the teaching of writing in college Reconnecting Reading and Writing draws on broad perspectives from history and international work to show how and why reading should be reunited with writing in college and high school classrooms It presents an overview of relevant research on reading and how it can best be used to support and enhance writing instruction     Rereading Aristotle's Rhetoric Alan G. Gross, Arthur E. Walzer, 2008-02-20 In this collection edited by Alan G Gross and Arthur E Walzer scholars in communication rhetoric and composition and philosophy seek to reread Aristotle's Rhetoric from a purely rhetorical perspective So important do these contributors find the Rhetoric in fact that a core tenet in this book is that all subsequent rhetorical theory is but a series of responses to issues raised by the central work The essays reflect on questions basic to rhetoric as a humanistic discipline Some explore the ways in which the Rhetoric explicates the nature of the art of rhetoric noting that on this issue the tensions within the Rhetoric often provide a direct passageway into our own conflicts     Rhetorics and Hermeneutics Stephen Byars Carroll, 1996
