Essays on Nature and Culture Hamilton Wright Mabie, 1896 Essays on Nature and Culture Hamilton Wright Mabie, 1911 Essays On Nature and Culture Mabie Hamilton Wright, 1901 The Bone Pile Maximilian Werner, 2018-05-08 In The Bone Pile Essays on Nature and Culture author Maximilian Werner uses the vehicles of fly fishing every day experience and some of our most sacred rituals to explore the origins and limitations of our behavior and ideas These essays range from the quasi mystical to the polemical and from the polemical to the ecological However different each of these essays may be together they represent an incisive study of human and nonhuman life and of the environment that unites us Nature and Identity Kirsti Pedersen, Arvid Viken, 2003 Essayene i denne samlinga utforsker den betydninga naturen har i dannelsen av det moderne selvet Analysene legger vekt p b de tradisjonelle og n tidlige diskurser om natur innen forskjellige omr der Fokus ligger p den nordlige halvkule Har referanser Engelsk tekst Nature, Culture, Imperialism David Arnold, Ramachandra Guha, 1996 Environmental history is a fast developing field of critical enquiry In both ecological and cultural terms South Asia is characterized by an unparalleled diversity Ecological degradation and the social conflicts that have come in its wake have further underlined the need for historical research in this field Nature in Literary and Cultural Studies , 2006-01-01 Nature in Literary and Cultural Studies is a collection of essays written by European and North American scholars who argue that nature and culture can no longer be thought of in oppositional mutually exclusive terms They are united in an effort to push the theoretical limits of ecocriticism towards a more rigorous investigation of nature s critical potential as a concept that challenges modern culture s philosophical assumptions epistemological convictions aesthetic principles and ethical imperatives This volume offers scholars and students of literature culture history philosophy and linguistics new insights into the ongoing transformation of ecocriticism into an innovative force in international and interdisciplinary literary and cultural studies Nature Across Cultures Helaine Selin, 2013-04-17 Nature Across Cultures Views of Nature and the Environment in Non Western Cultures consists of about 25 essays dealing with the environmental knowledge and beliefs of cultures outside of the United States and Europe In addition to articles surveying Islamic Chinese Native American Aboriginal Australian Indian Thai and Andean views of nature and the environment among others the book includes essays on Environmentalism and Images of the Other Traditional Ecological Knowledge Worldviews and Ecology Rethinking the Western non Western Divide and Landscape Nature and Culture The essays address the connections between nature and culture and relate the environmental practices to the cultures which produced them Each essay contains an extensive bibliography Because the geographic range is global the book fills a gap in both environmental history and in cultural studies It should find a place on the bookshelves of advanced undergraduate students graduate students and scholars as well as in libraries serving those groups The Nature Essay Simone Schröder, 2019-01-04 The Nature Essay Ecocritical Explorations is the first extended study of a powerful literary form born out of the traditions of Enlightenment and Romanticism It traces the varied stylistic paradigms of the nature essay down to the present day Reading essays as platforms for ecological discourse the book analyses canonical and marginalised texts mainly from German English and American literature Simone Schröder argues that the essay's environmental impact is rooted in its negotiation of scientific poetic spiritual and ethical modes of perceiving nature Together the chapters on these four aspects form a historical panorama of the nature essay as a genre that continues to flourish in our time of ecological crisis Authors discussed include Alexander von Humboldt Henry David Thoreau Virginia Woolf Robert Musil Ernst Jünger W G Sebald Kathleen Jamie and David Foster Wallace

Genetic Nature/Culture Prof. Alan H. Goodman, Prof. Deborah Heath, M. Susan Lindee, 2003-11-06 The so called science wars pit science against culture and nowhere is the struggle more contentious or more fraught with paradox than in the burgeoning realm of genetics A constructive response and a welcome intervention this volume brings together biological and cultural anthropologists to conduct an interdisciplinary dialogue that provokes and instructs even as it bridges the science culture divide Individual essays address issues raised by the science politics and history of race evolution and identity genetically modified organisms and genetic diseases gene work and ethics and the boundary between humans and animals The result is an entree to the complicated nexus of questions prompted by the power and importance of genetics and genetic thinking and the dynamic connections linking culture biology nature and technoscience The volume offers critical perspectives on science and culture with contributions that span disciplinary divisions and arguments grounded in both biological perspectives and cultural analysis An invaluable resource and a provocative introduction to new research and thinking on the uses and study of genetics Genetic Nature Culture is a model of fruitful dialogue presenting the quandaries faced by scholars on both sides of the two cultures debate

The Culture of Nature in the History of Design Kjetil Fallan, 2019-03-26 The Culture of Nature in the History of Design confronts the dilemma caused by design's pertinent yet precarious position in environmental discourse through interdisciplinary conversations about the design of nature and the nature of design Demonstrating that the deep entanglements of design and nature have a deeper and broader history than contemporary discourse on sustainable design and ecological design might imply this book presents case studies ranging from the eighteenth to the twenty first century and from Singapore to Mexico It gathers scholarship on a broad range of fields practices from urban planning landscape architecture and architecture to engineering design industrial design furniture design and graphic design From adobe architecture to the atomic bomb from the bonsai tree to Biosphere 2 from pesticides to photovoltaics from rust to recycling the culture of nature permeates the history of design As an activity and a profession always operating in the borderlands between human and non human environments design has always been part of the environmental problem whilst also being an indispensable part of the solution The book ventures into domains as diverse as design theory research pedagogy politics activism organizations exhibitions and fiction and trade literature to explore how design is constantly making and unmaking the environment and conversely how the environment is both making and unmaking design This book will be of great interest to a range of scholarly fields from design education and design history to environmental policy and environmental history Essays in Critical, Contemporary, and Philosophical Rhetoric Raymie E. McKerrow, 2024-10-24 This text is a representative sample of my research focus in contemporary rhetoric since the mid 1970s It highlights work that explores themes expressed in the text s title While not an exhaustive account of the themes the text provides easy access to theoretical issues in rhetorical studies These include topics such as the role of culture citizenship how space and time interact to affect the words we use and the impulse to use language in critiquing the expressions of others The collection is designed to be used by faculty teaching upper level undergraduate to doctoral level courses in rhetoric at colleges and universities in the USA It also will be a resource at universities across the globe The goal is to stimulate thought and provoke critical responses to the ideas and arguments contained in the essays Thus this is a text to be used to assist scholars and students as they engage in their own work The Nature Study Movement Kevin C. Armitage, 2009 The first comprehensive history of the nature study movement and its significance to American environmental thought and politics Argues that nature study advocates through their systematic program or educating children about nature formed a critical foundation for the launching of the conservation movement Illustrated Catalogue of Books, Standard and Holiday McClurg, Firm, Booksellers, Chicago, 1897 Beyond Nature Writing Karla Armbruster, Kathleen R. Wallace, 2001 Ecocriticism a field of study that has expanded dramatically over the past decade has nevertheless remained until recently closely focused on critical analyses of nature writing and literature of wilderness The authors push well beyond that established framework with this collection of essays by respected ecocritics and scholars from the literary and environmental arenas The Essential Edmund Leach: Culture and human nature Edmund Ronald Leach, 2000-01-01 Brings together a representative selection of the writings of Edmund Leach Writing the Environment in Nineteenth-Century American Literature Steven Petersheim, Madison Jones IV, 2015-09-17 The nineteenth century roots of environmental writing in American literature are often mentioned in passing and sometimes studied piece by piece Writing the Environment in Nineteenth Century American Literature The Ecological Awareness of Early Scribes of Nature brings together numerous explorations of environmentally aware writing across the genres of nineteenth century literature Like Lawrence Buell the authors of this collection find Thoreau s writing a touchstone of nineteenth century environmental writing particularly focusing on Thoreau s claim that humans may function as scribes of nature However these studies of Thoreau s antecedents contemporaries and successors also reveal a range of other writers in the nineteenth century whose literary treatments of nature are often more environmentally attuned than most readers have noticed The writers whose works are studied in this collection include canonical and forgotten writers men and women early nineteenth century and late nineteenth century authors pioneers and conservationists They drew attention to the conflicted relationships between humans and the American continent as experienced by Native Americans and European

Americans Taken together these essays offer a fresh perspective on the roots of environmental literature in nineteenth century American nonfiction fiction and poetry as well as in multi genre compositions such as the travel writings of Margaret Fuller Bringing largely forgotten voices such as John Godman alongside canonical voices such as Nathaniel Hawthorne Herman Melville Walt Whitman and Emily Dickinson the authors whose writings are studied in this collection produced a diverse tapestry of nascent American environmental writing in the nineteenth century From early nineteenth century writers such as poet Philip Freneau and novelist Charles Brockden Brown to later nineteenth century conservationists such as John James Audubon and John Muir Scribes of Nature shows the development of an environmental consciousness and a growing conservationist ethos in American literature Given their often surprisingly healthy respect for the natural environment these nineteenth century writers offer us much to consider in an age of environmental crisis The complexities of the supposed nature culture divide still work into our lives today as economic and environmental issues are often seen at loggerheads when they ought to be seen as part of the same conversation of what it means to live healthy lives and to pass on a healthy world to those who follow us in a world where human activity is becoming increasingly threatening to the health of our planet

A Child of Nature Hamilton Wright Mabie,1901 Art and Culture in the Eighteenth Century Elise Goodman,2001

This study joins the resurgent scholarship presently redressing the neglect of eighteenth century visual culture since the beginning of the twentieth century This volume offers nine contextual and cross disciplinary essays that engage with a rich panoply of discourses ranging from art criticism to biography to collecting and the art market to art theory and practice and the institutions that shaped them to beauty and fashion sociopolitical and philosophical issues gender studies patronage iconography and print culture Colors Of Nature Alison Hawthorne Deming,2002-09-01 Seeking to pinpoint the relationship between African Americans and the earth a collection of essays explores historical events to identify the role of race in how decisions affecting the natural world are made
