My belief about myself as a learner when I entered the class was a positive one. I attended a college prep school for high school and went to Oregon State University last year. I had plenty of practice with different learning techniques and found what works well for me. I believe I'm more of a visual learner than an auditory learner. It is easier to see a powerpoint and retain the knowledge then listen to a lecture and have the same retention. Entering the class I thought I liked working in groups more than working individually on projects, but that has since changed. I think it is more beneficial to me to work alone because I can get more done. When I entered the class I believed that reading the material closer to the due date was a better idea because I may not remember what I had read if I didn't.

What I have discovered about myself, as a learner over the term is vast. I learned that I can read the material way in advance and just briefly skim over the text and remember just about everything, were as I thought reading closer was more beneficial. I also learned that working in groups really isn't my specialty. I prefer working by myself because I'm able to get a lot more done and not have to worry about other people forgetting their part of the project. I don't like having to worry about other people not following through. I also learned that looking at the daily record in advanced helped me

The Essays of Chitta Ranjan Das on Literature, Culture, and Society Ananta Kumar Giri, Ivan Marquez, 2020-03-02. This volume brings together the essays of Chitta Ranjan Das (1923-2011), a creative experimenter and writer on literature, culture, life, and the human condition. It presents a different vision and version of the post-colonial imagination and social and literary criticism which is rooted in soil, soul, and cosmos. While a majority of post-colonial discourse is still predominantly metropolitan, giving us very little discussion on creative endeavours in different language spaces of India and the world, this book presents radical new pathways and creative collaborations which break conventional boundaries between the periphery and the centre, literature and life, mother languages and metropolitan languages, and East and West. It offers a new archaeology of knowledge as a regenerative archaeology of life where knowledge, action, and devotion come together for new explorations and transformations. It broadens and deepens our universe of discourse on literature, philosophy, and world transformations and is a monumental contribution to alternative imagination and cosmopolitan experimentation.

The Works of the Right Honorable Edmund Burke ...: Political miscellanies. Reflections on the revolution in France. Letter to a member of the National assembly Edmund Burke, 1892.

Tradition and Reflection Wilhelm Halbfass, 1991-01-01. This book examines above all the relationship between reason and Vedic revelation and the philosophical responses to the idea of the Veda. It deals with such topics as dharma, karma, and rebirth; the role of man in the universe; the motivation and justification of human actions; the relationship between ritual norms and universal ethics; and reflections on the goals and sources of human knowledge. Halbfass presents previously unknown materials concerning the history of sectarian movements, including the notorious Thugs, thakurs, and relations between Indian and Iranian thought. The approach is partly philosophical and partly historical and philological. To a certain extent, it is also comparative. The author explores indigenous Indian reflections on the sources, the structure, and the meaning of the Hindu tradition and traditional philosophical responses to social and historical realities. He does not deal with social and historical realities per se, rather basing his work on the premise that to understand these realities, the reflections and constructions of traditional Indian theorists are no less significant than the observations and paradigms of modern Western historians and social scientists. He explores the self-understanding of such leading thinkers as Sankara, Kumarila, Bhartrhari, and Udayana.

Encountering Disgrace William E. McDonald, 2009. Ever since it was first published in 1999, Nobel laureate J. M. Coetzee's novel Disgrace has provoked controversy Set in post apartheid South Africa it follows Prof David Lurie as he encounters disgrace through his sexual exploitation of a student and then through the shocking gang rape of his only daughter The novel's uncompromising portrayal of the new South Africa outraged many who found the book regressive even racist It also challenged readers worldwide to confront its hard questions This first book of essays devoted to the novel ambitiously brings together criticism and pedagogy The ten critical essays and eight essays on teaching Disgrace grapple with the ethical issues the novel so provocatively raises rape gender race animal rights Disgrace is widely taught in colleges and universities and read in book clubs the debates it has given rise to will take on fresh life with the release of the upcoming film starring John Malkovich Unusually the eighteen contributors to the collection are all faculty members or graduates of the same institution the Johnston Center for Integrative Studies at the University of Redlands and have worked together closely in crafting their essays over the past two years The volume will be exceptionally useful to teachers of literature philosophy and South African culture to book club leaders and to all readers of Coetzee Contributors Nancy Best James Boobar Bradley Butterfield Jane Creighton Matthew Gray Pat Harrigan Gary Hawkins Rabbi Patricia Karlin Neumann Daniel Kiefer Bill McDonald Michael G McDunnah Kim Middleton Kevin O'Neill Raymond Obstfeld Kathy Ogren Kenneth Reinhard Sandra D Shattuck Patricia Casey Sutcliffe Julie Townsend Bill McDonald is Emeritus Professor of English at the University of Redlands Redlands California

Happiness at the Speed of Life Jim Smith, 2009-05 Spectrums and Spaces of Writing, 2019-01-04 This volume was first published by Inter Disciplinary Press in 2013 The chapters in this book provide an overview of both global and interdisciplinary perspectives on Writing In an era when technology in general and social media in particular has appeared to overtake academic discussion in regard to how we communicate the thoughts research and praxes in this volume reveal that while the concept of writing has changed dramatically in the past decades the flow of words on a page or computer screen as a large flow of text still remains one of the key forms in which humans are able to crystallize thoughts Each chapter reveals a particular facet of this process revealing that it is only through the crafting process of producing words through the conduit of head to heart to hand that we can create and understand the external composite of internal creativity and reveal the power of human reflection The clearly demonstrates that writing is encapsulated humanity The Courage to Teach Guide for Reflection and Renewal Parker J. Palmer, 2017-08-04 20th ANNIVERSARY EDITION The Courage to Teach Guide for Reflection Renewal is a helpful companion to Parker J Palmer's classic work on restoring identity and integrity to professional life A superb resource for those who wish to extend their exploration of the ideas in The Courage to Teach as individuals or part of a study group the Guide provides practical ways to create safe space for honest reflection and probing conversations and offers chapter by chapter questions and exercises to further explore the many insights in The Courage to Teach The bonus online content includes a 70 minute interview with Parker Palmer in which Palmer reflects on a wide range of subjects including the heart of the teacher the crisis in education diverse ways of knowing relationships in teaching and learning approaches to institutional transformation and teachers as culture heroes Discussion questions related to the topics explored in the interview have been integrated into the Guide giving individuals and study groups a chance to have a conversation with the author as well as an engagement with the text

The Novel: An Alternative History, 1600-1800 Steven Moore, 2013-08-29 Winner of the Christian Gauss Award for excellence in literary scholarship from the Phi Beta Kappa Society Having excavated the world's earliest novels in his previous book literary historian Steven Moore explores in this sequel the remarkable flowering of the novel between the years 1600 and 1800 from Don Quixote to America's first big novel an homage to Cervantes entitled Modern Chivalry This is the period of such classic novels as Tom Jones Candide and Dangerous Liaisons but beyond the dozen or so recognized classics there are hundreds of other interesting novels that appeared then known only to specialists Spanish picaresques French heroic romances massive Chinese novels Japanese graphic novels eccentric English novels and the earliest American novels These minor novels are not only interesting in their own right but also provide the context needed to appreciate why the major novels were major breakthroughs The novel experienced an explosive growth spurt during these centuries as novelists experimented with different forms and genres epistolary novels romances Gothic thrillers novels in verse parodies science fiction episodic road trips and family sagas along with quirky unclassifiable experiments in fiction that resemble contemporary avant garde works As in his previous volume Moore privileges the innovators and outriders those who kept the novel novel In the most comprehensive history of this period ever written Moore examines over 400 novels from around the world in a lively style that is as entertaining as it is informative Though written for a general audience The Novel An Alternative History also provides the scholarly apparatus required by the serious student of the period This sequel like its predecessor is a zestfully encyclopedic avidly opinionated and dazzlingly fresh history of the most elastic of literary forms
