Escape From China:

Escape From China Zhang Boli, 2008-06-30 Who can forget the images telecast worldwide of brave Chinese students facing down tanks in Tiananmen Square as they took on their Communist government After a two week standoff in 1989 military forces suppressed the revolt killing many students and issuing arrest warrants for top student leaders including Zhang Boli After two years as a fugitive Zhang the only leader to elude capture knew that he must bid his beloved country as well as his wife and baby daughter farewell Traveling across the frozen terrain of the former Soviet Union where peasants rescued him and through the deserted lands of China's precarious borders Zhang had only his extraordinary will to propel him toward freedom As told in Escape from China a work of great historical resonance his story will renew your faith in the human spirit Escape from China Boli Zhang, 2003 Escape from Red China John Romaniello, 1956 Escape from China, Escape from China R. A. Montgomery, 1990 Escape from Red China, 1968 Swimming to Freedom Kent Wong (Anesthesiologist), 2021 A Chinese expatriate tells his story of escaping the hardship and repression of Mao's Cultural Revolution by joining the dissident underground swimming miles across open water to Hong Kong and eventually moving to the United States as a refugee Swimming to Freedom Kent Wong, 2021-04-27 When Kent Wong was a young boy his father a patriotic Chinese official in the customs office in Hong Kong joined an insurrection at work and returned with the family to the newly established People's Republic of China Hailed as heroes they settled in the southern city of Canton But Mao's China was dangerous and unstable with landlords executed en masse and millions dying of starvation during the Great Leap Forward A Boy from China Richard T. of these relationships Congress and China Policy Robert G. Sutter, 2023-11-20 Congress and China Policy Past Episodic Recent Enduring Influence supports findings that bipartisan majorities in Congress have been instrumental in driving the fundamental shift in American policy toward China carried out during the past six years Filling major gaps in the inadequate treatment of Congress in assessments of US policy toward China this book compares recent Congressional influence with the episodes of Congressional activism in China policy over the past 200 years showing Congress recently has been more important than ever The findings also show that partisan politics Congressional executive competition for policy control swings in public and media opinion and influences by special interests longstanding drivers of past Congressional involvement in China policy have been of secondary or lesser importance as the Congressional members have grappled with the acute dangers posed by Chinese economic security and governance challenges Steady and determined efforts by this cohort of bipartisan Congressional majorities to defend America from Chinese challenges have proven more resolute than the erratic practices of President Trump and previously dismissive Joseph Biden who came late to a tougher policy This volume forecasts that US policy will remain heavily influenced by these members as they serve out their terms in the years ahead essential reading China and the Allies Arnold Henry Savage Landor, 1901 China 1945 Richard Bernstein, 2015-10-27

At the beginning of 1945 relations between America and the Chinese Communists couldn't have been closer. Chinese leaders talked of America helping to lift China out of poverty. Mao Zedong himself held friendly meetings with U.S. emissaries. By year's end Chinese Communist soldiers were setting ambushes for American marines; official cordiality had been replaced by chilly hostility and distrust, a pattern which would continue for a quarter century with the devastating wars in Korea and Vietnam among the consequences. In China 1945 Richard Bernstein tells the incredible story of the sea change that took place during that year, brilliantly analyzing its far-reaching components and colorful characters: from diplomats John Paton Davies and John Stewart Service to Time journalist Henry Luce; in addition to Mao and his intractable counterpart Chiang Kai-shek and the indispensable Zhou Enlai. A tour de force of narrative history, China 1945 examines American power coming face to face with a formidable Asian revolutionary movement and challenges familiar assumptions about the origins of modern Sino-American relations.
