Esclava Una Historia Real:

Esclava Mende Nazer, Damien Lewis, 2002 Mende Nazer fue raptada cuando tenía doce años para ser vendida como esclava. Su inquebrantable espíritu, los entrañables recuerdos de su infancia y la fuerza de la fe le permitieron sobrevivir a siete terribles años en los que fue sojuzgada y maltratada en los que trabajó para una familia de Jartum que la obligaba a comer sus sobras y a dormir en un cuartucho que su ama cerraba cada noche con llave. Me acostumbré a llorar sola. Era mi único consuelo confiesa Mende. Como afirma Rosa Regal en el prólogo este libro es un ejemplo de lo que es la vida bajo la esclavitud: bajo el miedo, bajo la convicción de que nada se puede hacer para cambiar la situación en que uno se encuentra cuando acaba por reconocer que está en la peor situación imaginable. El conmovedor testimonio de Esclava parece tomado de las páginas más oscuras de la Historia, sin embargo lo que aquí se cuenta es hoy una realidad en muchos rincones de nuestro planeta.

Lucero, 2022-11-01 Women's reproduction including conception, pregnancy, childbirth, breastfeeding and other physical acts of motherhood as well as the rejection of those roles played a critical role in the evolution and management of Cuba's population. While existing scholarship has approached Cuba's demographic history through the lens of migration, both forced and voluntary, Race and Reproduction in Cuba challenges this male normative perspective by centering women in the first book-length history of reproduction in Cuba. Bonnie A. Lucero traces women's reproductive lives as well as key medical, legal and institutional interventions influencing them over four centuries. Her study begins in the early colonial period with the emergence of the island's first charitable institutions dedicated to relieving poor women and abandoned white infants. The book's centerpiece is the long nineteenth century when elite interventions in women's reproduction hinged not only on race but also legal status. It ends in 1965 when Cuba's nascent revolutionary government shifted away from enforcing antiabortion laws that had historically targeted impoverished women of color. Questioning how elite demographic desires, specifically white population growth and nonwhite population management, shaped women's reproduction, Lucero argues that elite men, including judges, physicians, philanthropists and public officials, intervened in women's reproductive lives in racially specific ways. Lucero examines how white supremacy shaped tangible differences in the treatment of women and their infants across racial lines and outlines how those reproductive outcomes were crucial in sustaining racial hierarchies through moments of tremendous political, economic and social change. La antigüedad a través del cine Alberto Prieto Arciniega, 2010
