Bockstoce, 2005 Makes a significant contribution to our knowledge of the early maritime trade in the northern Pacific in general nevertheless its origins are not well understood But two important documents shed considerable light on the genesis of this trade These manuscripts describe the voyages of the Amer trading brigs Gen San Martin Pedler in 1819 20 They provide info on the relationships that existed between the Amer maritime traders the Russian officials in Kamchatka Alaska as well as with the inhab of the Bering Strait region in the first qtr of the 19th cent Illustrations Furs and Frontiers In the Far North John R. Bockstoce, 2009-09-15 This comprehensive history of the native and maritime fur trade in Alaska during the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries is without precedent The Bering Strait formed the nexus of the circumpolar fur trade in which Russians British Americans and members of fifty native nations competed and cooperated The desire to dominate the fur trade fed the European expansion into the most remote regions of Asia and America and was an agent of massive change in these regions Award winning author John R Bockstoce fills a major gap in the historiography of the area in covering the scientific commercial and foreign relations implications of the northern fur trade In addition the book provides rare insight into the relationship between the Western powers and the Native Americans who provided them with fur ivory and whalebone in exchange for manufactured goods tobacco tea alcohol and hundreds of other things But this is also the story of the enterprising individuals who energized the Alaskan fur trade and in doing so forever altered the region s history Beach Ridge Archeology of Cape Krusenstern James Louis Giddings, Douglas D. Burch, 2005-01-01 Alliance and Conflict combines a richly descriptive study of intersocietal relations in early nineteenth century Northwest Alaska with a bold theoretical treatise on the structure of the world system as it might have been in ancient times Ernest S Burch Jr illuminates one aspect of the traditional lives of the Iñupiaq Eskimos in unparalleled detail and depth Basing his account on observations made by early Western explorers interviews with Native historians and archeological research Burch describes the social boundaries and geographic borders formerly existing in Northwest Alaska and the various kinds of transactions that took place across them These ranged from violence of the most brutal sort at one extreme to relations of peace and friendship at the other Burch argues that the international system he describes approximated in many respects the type of system existing all over the world before the development of agriculture Based on that assumption he presents a series of hypotheses about what the world system may have been like when it consisted entirely of hunter gatherer societies and about how it became more centralized with the evolution of chiefdoms Accounts of specific people places and events add an immediate experiential dimension to the work complementing its theoretical apparatus and sweeping narrative scope Provocative and comprehensive Alliance and Conflict is a definitive look at the greater world of Native peoples of Northwest Alaska Reimagining Human-Animal Relations in the Circumpolar North Peter Whitridge, Erica Hill, 2023-12-21 This volume provides fresh insight into northern human animal relations and illustrates the breadth and practical utility of archaeological human animal studies. It surveys recent archaeological research in northern North America and Eurasia that frames human animal relations as not merely economically exploitative but often socially complex and deeply meaningful and attuned to the intelligence and agency of nonhuman prey and domesticates. The case studies sample a wide swath of the circumpolar region from Alaska, Nunavut and Greenland to northern Fennoscandia and western Siberia and span sites, finds and scenarios ranging in age from the Mesolithic to the twenty-first century. Many taxa on which northern lives hinged figure in these analyses, including large marine mammals, polar bear, reindeer, marine fish and birds, and are variously approached from relational, multispecies, semiotic, osteobiographical and political-economic perspectives. Animals themselves are represented by osteological remains, harvesting gear and depictions of animal bodies that include zoomorphic figurines, petroglyphs, ornamentation and intricate portrayals of human-animal harvesting encounters. Far from settling the problem of how archaeologists should approach northern human-animal relations, these chapters reveal the irreducible complexity of northern worlds and highlight the diversity of human and nonhuman animal lives. This book will be of particular interest to northern archaeologists and zooarchaeologists and all those interested in the possibilities of a multispecies approach to the archaeological record.
