John Buchan, 2020-03-06 Excerpt The first two decades of the twentieth century will rank as a most distinguished era in the history of exploration for during them many of the great geographical riddles of the world have been solved This book contains a record of some of the main achievements What Nansen said of Polar exploration is true of all exploration its story is a mighty manifestation of the power of the Unknown over the mind of man The Unknown happily will be always with us for there are infinite secrets in a blade of grass and an eddy of wind and a grain of dust and human knowledge will never attain that finality when the sense of wonder shall cease But to the ordinary man there is an appeal in large bold and obvious conundrums which is lacking in the minuti of research Thousands of square miles of the globe still await surveying and mapping but most of the exploration of the future will be the elucidation of details The main lines of the earth's architecture have been determined and the task is now one of amplifying our knowledge of the groining and buttresses and stone work There are no more unvisited forbidden cities or unapproached high mountains or unrecorded great rivers The Secret Lives of Men Chris Blazina, 2008-09 Licensed psychologist and university professor Christopher Blazina Ph D offers an exploration explanation and clarification into the hidden realm of the male psyche Atoms, Bombs and Eskimo Kisses: A Memoir of Father and Son Claudio G. Segrè, 2019-08-09 There are few books that explore the complex relations between famous parents and their children I knew Claudio and his Nobel laureate father Emilio Segr in this honest angry loving memoir I hear their voices again speaking across the gulf that all families struggle to bridge Richard Rhodes author of Dark Sun The Making of the Hydrogen Bomb This is a warm and openhearted book Claudio Segr shows that all the traditional tensions between fathers and sons can still exist even in the extraordinary milieu he grew up in He evokes that experience with grace and a fine eye for the telling details Adam Hochschild author of Half the Way Home It's a wonderful book a coming of age story in the atomic era the struggle of a son for the love and respect of a famous father It is also a perceptive insight into the pursuit of science the price of fame and how families bridge differences between generations and cultures to find age old connections and ultimately love and understanding James Kunetka author of City of Fire Los Alamos and the Atomic Age and Oppenheimer The Years of Risk The Nobel Prize winning physicist Emilio Segr gave an account of his own life in the posthumously published A Mind Always in Motion In the present book Segr's only son now himself deceased gives an account of his growing up with such a father The experience as he describes it was not an easy one Transported in infancy from Italy to the United States Claudio was required to negotiate his way between his family's persistent conviction of European cultural superiority and the danger of being perceived as not one of us by his new compatriots Admiring his father he was conscious of himself as Son of Superman alternatively feeling eclipsed by and relishing the position Academically he was beset by a joyless desire to achieve and only seldom gained the praise or sympathy he longed for from his exacting and often sarcastic father But he discovered the delights of hot dogs comic books and baseball and forged ahead on his own by choosing the reputedly Red Reed College over his family's preferred Berkeley After graduation in search of work to which he could be as devoted as my father was to physics he spent some years as a journalist before ultimately making a creditable academic career as a historian along the way establishing an apparently satisfactory family life of his own The book ends with an account of his relations with his father as an adult including a disappointing attempt at a therapeutic confrontation

Katherine Livingston Science How does a son emerge from his father's shadow when it is the size of a mushroom cloud Such was the plight of Claudio G Segr whose father Emilio won the Nobel Prize in Physics in 1959 and helped to create the atomic bomb He recounts his lifelong quest to establish an independent identity He also tells of his hope that his own success would earn him the respect and acceptance of his difficult father Segr alternately describes his father as Superman a mighty king and a basilisk a mythical reptile whose very look is fatal Nevertheless his father emerges as a good caring man unsure how to handle the fame that separates him from his son It is tragic therefore that no true reconciliation occurs and that Segr's only moment of catharsis takes place when it is already too late in 1989 when he delivers his father's eulogy Douglas A Sylva The New York Times In this heartfelt counterpart to his father's autobiography A Mind Always in Motion journalist and professor Claudio Segr attempts to shed some thawing light on the cold peace between father and son that lasted until Emilio Segr's death in 1989 despite the affectionate nose rubbings of the title Publishers Weekly The son of a Nobel laureate and Manhattan Project collaborator meditates on the inspirations and disappointments of a difficult relationship In 1959 the author's father shared the Nobel Prize for his work on antimatter But fatherhood isn't as precise a science as physics and young Claudio mixed pride in his father's superman achievements with frustration and rage at the impossible standards and criticisms that so outweighed the occasional moment of affection between them Segr's memoir of an immigrant childhood is often poignant at bottom a thoughtful account of life with a father who found the behavior of atomic particles far easier to comprehend than the emotional life of his son Kirkus Reviews The New Human Interest Library Silas Edgar Farquhar, 1928 Fossil Energy Update, 1982
