Eso Workshop On The Sn 1987 A:

ESO Workshop on the SN 1987 A, ESO, Garching Bei München, 6-8 July 1987 European Southern Observatory, 1987

Supernova 1987A in the Large Magellanic Cloud Minas C. Kafatos, Minas Kafatos, Andrew G.

Michalitsianos, 2006-11-23 Supernova 1987A was the brightest supernova explosion since the invention of the telescope and consequently the observations are of great interest in astronomy This book collects seventy papers which were presented at the Fourth George Mason Workshop on Astrophysics in late 1987 providing a fascinating summary of the status of observations six months after the outburst

Reviews in Modern Astronomy Gerhard Klare, 2012-12-06 The yearbook series Reviews in Modern Astronomy of the Astronomische Gesellschaft three years ago in order to bring the scientific events to the attention of the worldwide astronomical community Reviews in Modern Astronomy is devoted exclusively to the invited reviews the Karl Schwarzschild lectures and the highlight contributions from leading scientists reporting on recent progress and scientific achievements at their research institutes Volume 4 comprises all eighteen contributions which were presented during the fall meeting of the AG at Preiburg Breisgau in September 1990 They cover problems in solar research and the solar system as well as the first results of the ROSAT and Hipparcos space missions stellar and extragalactic studies and Supernova 1987A in the Large Magellanic Cloud The Karl Schwarzschild Medal was awarded to Professor Eugene Parker¹ His lecture entitled Convection Spontaneous Discontinuities and Stellar Winds and X Ray Emission begins this volume

Things That Go Bump in the Universe C. Renée James, 2023-11-14 This new book explores the pioneering field of transient or time domain astronomy the incredible discoveries being made the tools that we use to detect these cosmic events and the aspects that continue to puzzle observers and theorists In an engaging style accessible to the layperson the astronomer and popular science author gives us an up to date overview of the transient universe and explains how astronomers came to see the cosmos as a dynamic place rather than a static one

Supernovae and Stellar Wind in the Interstellar Medium Tatjana A. Lozinskaya, 1991-11-01 A leading stellar astronomer summarizes our understanding of supernovae and their interaction with interstellar gas including the ambient interstellar medium the gas ejected in the explosion itself and the gas emitted as stellar wind She examines the evolution of supernova remnants as they interact with the gas and considers the role of supernovae and stellar wind in the physical state of the interstellar medium Essential reading for specialists in supernovae and stellar evolution

Supernovae Albert G. Petschek, 2012-12-06 For millennia mankind has watched as the heavens move in their stately progression from night to night and from year to year presaging with their changes the changing seasons The sun the moon and the planets move in what appears to be an unchanging firmament except occasionally when a new star appears Among the new stars there are comets novae and finally supernovae the subject of this book Superstitious mankind regarded these events as significant portents and recorded them carefully so that we have records of supernovae that may reach back as far as 1300 B C Clark and Stephenson 1977 Murdin and Murdin 1985 The Cygnus Loop believed to be a 15 000 year old supernova remnant at a distance of only 800 pc Chevalier and Seward 1988 must have awed our ancestors Tycho's supernova of 1572 at a distance of 2500 pc had a magnitude of 4.0 comparable to Venus at its brightest and Kepler's supernova of 1604 had a magnitude of 3 or so Thus the Cygnus Loop supernova might have had a magnitude of 6 or so and should have been readily visible in daytime A supernova in Vela about 8000 B C was comparably close as was SN 1006 whose magnitude may have been 9 While most of the supernova records come from the Old World the supernova of 1054 is recorded in at least one petroglyph in the American West

Cosmic Chemistry Gerhard Klare, 2012-12-06 The annual meeting of the Astronomische Gesellschaft in Cologne June 1988 featured extensive reviews of the chemical processes relevant to astrophysics The twelve contributions to this book written by experts from the US UK France Belgium Switzerland and Germany deal in depth with the chemistry of comets and meteorites of stars and their shells of the interstellar medium and galaxies A comprehensive review of nucleosynthesis and two reports on observations round off an up to date presentation of cosmic chemistry

Cataclysmic Variables and Related Objects Margherita Hack, Constanze La Dous, 1993 This volume begins with an introductory chapter on general properties of cataclysmic variables Chapters 2 through 5 of Part 1 are devoted to observations and interpretation of dwarf novae and nova like stars Chapters 6 through 10 Part 2 discuss the general observational properties of classical and recurrent novae the theoretical models and the characteristics and models for some well observed classical novae and recurrent novae Chapters 11 through 14 of Part 3 are devoted to an overview of the observations of symbiotic stars to a description of the various models proposed for explaining the symbiotic phenomenon and to a discussion of a few selected objects respectively Chapter 15 briefly examines the many unsolved problems posed by the observations of the different classes of cataclysmic variables and symbiotic stars

Stellar Photometry: Current Techniques and Future Developments C. J. Butler, I. Elliott, 1993-08-12 Stellar photometry from space automatic photometric telescopes and CCD photometers these are just some of the exciting areas of current interest and future developments in stellar photometry covered in this timely review Articles from international experts drawn together at the IAU Colloquium 136 in Dublin 1992 are gathered here to cover all aspects of this fundamental technique In this survey professionals discuss state of the art and future technology including photometry with millimagnitude accuracy multichannel arrays used in the optical and IR a global network of automatic photometric telescopes time series photometry of faint sources using CCDs and photometry from space These articles provide an up to date account of all aspects of photometry and a guide to future developments an essential survey for professionals involved in the design and use of such instruments

Dark Matter Jean Audouze, J. Thanh Van Tran, 1988

The World of Galaxies Harold G. Corwin, Lucette

Bottinelli,2012-12-06 From 12 April to 14 April 1988 120 of Gerard and Antoinette de Vaucouleurs's friends and colleagues gathered at the Institut d'Astrophysique in Paris to celebrate Gerard's 70th birthday and his remarkable career in Astronomy. The gathering also honored the memory of Antoinette who died 29 August 1987 after a long illness and her own no less remarkable career. This volume collects the 24 invited review papers and the 60 contributed poster papers presented at the meeting. Gerard de Vaucouleurs was born on 25 April 1918 in Paris where he spent his boyhood. He became an active amateur astronomer in the early 1930s making extensive observations of Mars, Jupiter and variable stars including the bright supernova of 1937 in IC 4182. He also began life-long interests in astronomical photography and galaxy cataloguing during this period. In 1939 he met the director of the Paris transport system and an equally avid amateur astronomer Julien Peridier. De Vaucouleurs worked at Peridier's private observatory at Le Houga in southwestern France on and off throughout the next decade. His undergraduate work was in mathematics, astronomy and experimental physics; this combined with his interest in observational astronomy formed his life-long empirical approach to science. After spending 18 months in the French army early in 1939-41, Gerard returned to the Peridier observatory and then in 1943 to his studies at the Sorbonne where he met Antoinette. Physics of Luminous Blue Variables Kris Davidson, Anthony F.J. Moffat, Henny J.G.L.M. Lamers,2012-12-06 A strange field of speculation is opened by this phenomenon: here we have a star fitfully variable to an astonishing extent and whose fluctuations are spread over centuries, apparently in no settled period and with no regularity of progression. What origin can we ascribe to these sudden flashes and relapses? What conclusions are we to draw as to the comfort or habitability of a system depending for its supply of light and heat on so uncertain a source? J.F.W. Herschel. We can imagine at least that the study of Luminous Blue Variable stars began as the official court astrophysicists of Eridu speculated about a new 5000 years ago first magnitude star which persisted in their southern sky for several years. 2. After that the topic languished for a while but now it has been renewed following recent observations by Blaeu (P Cygni c. 1600) and Herschel (1 Argus c. 1840). More soberly it is only within the past few years that we have begun to understand LBVs and to recognize their coherence as a class. Thus only a minority of astronomers are familiar yet with this relatively new topic whose potential implications are of great interest. See below. One purpose of this book we hope will be to provide an accessible overview of the subject for interested astronomers and astrophysicists in general. Origin, Structure And Evolution Of Galaxies - Proceedings Of The Yellow Mountain Summer School Lizhi Fang,1988-10-01 Contents The Great Astronomer Guo Shoujing and Gou Shoujing Summer School on Astrophysics Wang Shouguan Star Formation C.F. Supernovae - Proceedings Of The 6th Jerusalem Winter School For Theoretical Physics Tsvi Piran, Steven Weinberg, J Craig Wheeler, 1990-07-23 Supernovae are highly energetic phenomena for which it is necessary to use simultaneously particle physics nuclear physics and hydrodynamics to study the creation of the strong explosions involved Supernovae synthesize heavy elements and in some cases lead to the formation of neutron stars or black holes Recent progress has revealed new classes of explosions and new insights into the evolution and explosion mechanisms including that of the dramatic event SN 1987A in the Large Magellanic Cloud Major questions still remain concerning the evolution of massive stars in binary systems the nature of gravitational collapse and the physical processes involved in the thermonuclear explosion of degenerate stars This School explores our current understanding of supernovae and areas of active study
