Our company

Our company is called Globex corporation its an multinational company. Our company hires only experts in IT security, information system and IT business. Thus, the companys main goal is to help secure networks for banks, big successful companies, police departments, and the state security. The companys goal is to provide strong and secure, and hard-to-decode networks.StaffThe company has over 100 experts with different degrees in information system, management, information technology, security, computer science, and ethical hacking.

Who we worked with

Our company worked with several clients, such as bank of Abu Dhabi, Dubai and Abu Dhabi Police, hospitals around the UAE, ADNOC, hotels, and ADIA. Globex has also worked with small companies.

How the company works

Our headquarter is based in Dubai, but we also have a branch in every other Emirates. Our IT team is sent to the location and is given the permission to access the system. After our crew is in the companys system, they will analyze the problem that the company is experiencing and will help resolve it within 1-5 hours. After addressing the cause of the problem our team would start acting by setting up firewalls and remove any issue that needs to be removed, they will make sure your network is secure and cannot be accessed by hackers at all time. Our company seeks to be productive and professional.

Goal

Our main goal is to bring in the best IT experts in order to provide the maximum security our company could give to our clients. we also avoid lack of transparency, honesty, and privacy of systems and information.

Executive summary

Low productivity has been a major issue in companies for years since social media has been around. The purpose of the recommendation report is to differentiate between 2 apps and provide a solution in developing workplace productivity. A Comparison has been made and I chose to stick with BeFocused. It seemed to me that BeFocused had a better impact on users, it also achieves my companys goal. BeFocused guarantees that it can help users accomplish their work on time by providing them with a timer for 25 minutes on tasks and a short 5 minutes break between each task or a long 15 minutes break, this allows users to be productive and complete as many tasks as possible and not be under a lot of pressure. This is an app that aims to help employees increase their concentration at the w

Essay Workplace:

Work and Technological Change Stephen R. Barley, 2020-10-27 In recent years a growing number of commentators have declared that we are at the beginning of a technical revolution that will see profound changes in the way we live and work Yet what constitutes a technological revolution and what logic supports how successive technological revolutions have unfolded in Western societies How do technologies change organizations and what are the implications of intelligent technologies for work and employment Here Stephen R Barley reflects on over three decades of research to explore both the history of technological change and the approaches used to investigate how technologies are shaping our work and organizations He begins by placing current developments in artificial intelligence into the historical context of previous technological revolutions drawing on William Faunce s argument that the history of technology is one of progressive automation of the four components of any production system energy transformation transfer and control technologies He then considers how technologies change work and when those changes will and will not result in organizational change In doing so he lays out a role based theory of how technologies produce changes in organizations He then tackles the issue alongside Matt Beane of how to conceptualize a more thorough approach to assessing how intelligent technologies such as artificial intelligence can shape work and employment They identify the main reasons why the current state of research on intelligent technologies in the workplace is inadequate and provide pointers on how empirical studies in this area may and must be improved He concludes with a discussion with his long time colleague Diane Bailey about the fears that arise when one sets out to study technical work and technical workers and the methods that they and future ethnographers can use for controlling those fears

Writing Workplace Cultures Jim Henry, 2000 In Writing Workplace Cultures An Archaeology of Professional Writing Jim Henry analyzes eighty three workplace writing ethnographies composed over seven years in a variety of organizations He views the findings as so many shards in an archaeology on professional writing at the beginning of the twenty first century These ethnographies were composed by either practicing or aspiring writers participating in a Master s program in professional writing and editing Henry solicited the writers participation in informed intersubjective research focused on issues and questions of their own determination Most writers studied their own workplace composing auto ethnographies that problematize these workplaces local cultures even as they depict writing practices within them Henry establishes links between current professional writing practices and composition instruction as both were shaped by national economic development and local postsecondary reorganization throughout the twentieth century He insists that if we accept basic principles of social constructionism the text demonstrates ways in which writers write workplace cultures to produce goods and services whose effects go far beyond the immediate needs of its clients
