BAILEY SAUNDERS, 1910 Arthur Schopenhauer 22 February 1788 21 September 1860 was a German philosopher He is best known for his 1818 work The World as Will and Representation in which he argues that the phenomenal world is driven by a metaphysical will that perpetually and malignantly seeks satiation He also wrote influentially on aesthetics ethics and religion Transcendental idealism formed the basis for much of his thought and his atheistic philosophy has been described as an exemplary manifestation of philosophical pessimism Finding his philosophical conclusions to be compatible with those of much Eastern philosophy his solutions to the

Essays and Aphorisms on the Higher Man Emile Benoit, 2010 The writings of Emile Benoit are primarily works of moral cultural and religious criticism which attempt to find meaning in a world that seems completely devoid of it and in a manner which relies on revelatory aphorisms rather than narrative deduction to make its argument We all have been searching for meaning in our lives for as long as we have been alive Yet philosophy religion art and politics have failed to provide us with answers to our many questions about our own personal existence They've become instead institutions for profit dogmatism entertainment or petty equivocation Benoit addresses the issues that used to be of utmost importance to scholars and laymen alike The answer to the question of how we should best live our lives Essays and Aphorisms, 1892 The Wisdom of Life - The Essays of Arthur Schopenhauer Arthur Schopenhauer, T. Bailey Saunders, 2012-03-19 In these pages I shall speak of The Wisdom of Life in the common meaning of the term as the art namely of ordering our lives so as to obtain the greatest possible amount of pleasure and success an art the theory of which may be called Eudaemonology for it teaches us how to lead a happy existence Such an existence might perhaps be defined as one which looked at from a purely objective point of view or rather after cool and mature reflection for the question necessarily involves subjective considerations would be decidedly preferable to non existence implying that we should cling to it for its own sake and not merely from the fear of death and further that we should never like it to come to an end Now whether human life corresponds or could possibly correspond to this conception of existence is a question to which as is well known my philosophical system returns a negative answer On the eudaemonistic hypothesis however the question must be answered in the affirmative and I have shown in the second volume of my chief work ch 49 that this hypothesis is based upon a fundamental mistake Accordingly in elaborating the scheme of a happy existence I have had to make a complete surrender of the higher metaphysical and ethical standpoint to which my own theories lead and everything I shall say here will to some extent rest upon a compromise in so far that is as I take the common standpoint of every day and embrace the error which is at the bottom of it My remarks therefore will possess only a qualified value for the very word eudaemonology is a euphemism Further I make no claims to completeness partly because the subject is inexhaustible and partly because I should otherwise have to say over again what has been already said by others Brevia. Short essays and aphorisms. By the author of "Friends in Council" [i.e. Sir Arthur Helps].
