McEaney, 2002 Crusades A Bibliography With Indexes Music for Others Nathan Myrick, 2021 Musical activity is one of the most ubiquitous and highly valued forms of social interaction in North America to say nothing of world over being engaged from sporting events to political rallies concerts to churches Moreover music's use as an affective agent for political and religious programs suggests that it has ethical significance Indeed many have said as much It is surprising then that music's ethical significance remains one of the most undertheorized aspects of both moral philosophy and music scholarship Music for Others Care Justice and Relational Ethics in Christian Music fills part of this scholarly gap by focusing on the religious aspects of musical activity particularly on the practices of Christian communities Based on ethnomusicological fieldwork at three Protestant churches and a group of seminary students studying in an immersion course at South by Southwest SXSW and synthesizing theories of discourse formation and care ethics oriented towards restorative justice it first argues that relationships are ontological for both human beings and musical activity It further argues that musical meaning and emotion converge in human bodies such that music participates in personal and communal identity construction in affective ways yet these constructions are not always just Thus considering these aspects of music's ways of being in the world Music for Others finally argues that music is ethical when it preserves people in and restores people to just relationships with each other and thereby with God The Diaries of Giacomo Meyerbeer: The last years, 1857-1864 Giacomo Meyerbeer, 1999 Volume 4 is devoted to the last years 1857-64 while age and declining health saw a waning of the composer's personal optimism It contains a series of glossaries listing his compositions and the musical and theatrical works he attended throughout his life as well as a bibliography Catholic Women's Colleges in America Tracy Schier, Cynthia Russett, 2003-05-22 More than 150 colleges in the United States were founded by nuns and over time they have served many constituencies setting some educational trends while reflecting others In Catholic Women's Colleges in America Tracy Schier Cynthia Russett and their coauthors provide a comprehensive history of these institutions and how they met the challenges of broader educational change The authors explore how and for whom

Going Coed Leslie Miller-Bernal, Susan L. Poulson, 2004 More than a quarter century ago the last great wave of coeducation in the United States resulted in the admission of women to almost all of the remaining men's colleges and universities In thirteen original essays Going Coed investigates the reasons behind this important phenomenon describes how institutions have dealt with the changes and captures the experiences of women who attended these schools Yes, But Not Quite Dwayne A. Tunstall, 2009-08-25 This book contends that Josiah Royce bequeathed to philosophy a novel idealism based on an ethico religious insight This insight became the basis for an idealistic personalism wherein the Real is the personal and a metaphysics of community is the most appropriate approach to metaphysics for personal beings especially in an often impersonal and technological intellectual climate The first part of the book traces how Royce constructed his idealistic personalism in response to criticisms made by George Holmes Howison That personalism is interpreted as an ethical and panentheistic one somewhat akin to Charles Hartshorne's process philosophy The second part investigates Royce's idealistic metaphysics in general and his ethico religious insight in particular In the course of these investigations the author examines how Royce's ethico religious insight could be strengthened by incorporating the philosophical theology of Dr Reverend Martin Luther King Jr and Emmanuel Levinas's ethical metaphysics The author concludes by briefly exploring the possibility that Royce's progressive racial anti essentialism is in fact a form of cultural antiblack racism and asks whether his cultural antiblack racism taints his ethico religious insight To Our Bodies Turn We Then Felecia Wright McDuffie, 2005-05-06 From his early love poetry to his late religious writing John Donne speaks of the human body as a book to be read and interpreted Unlike modern thinkers who understand the body as a purely material phenomenon or post modern critics who see in it a text produced by culture Donne understands the body as a scriptural text written by God In this study McDuffie offers a comprehensive interpretation of Donne's reading of the body In Donne's imaginative universe the human person lies at the center of the great interconnected web of God's signs and acts As such he makes it the touchstone of his own theology While his anthropology is basically orthodox the emphasis Donne places on the body and the role it plays in his religious poetics are distinctive Refusing to restrict God's revelation to the written words of Scripture Donne turns habitually to the book of the human body as a collection of signs that indicate God's nature his intent and the human condition He also at times represents the human body not as a mere sign but as sacrament a seal of the promises of God that conveys his presence and grace In his reading of the book of the body Donne discerns the narrative of salvation history the trajectory proceeding from creation through fall to redemption and resurrection He sets the body and salvation history into a dialogical relationship always reading one in terms of the other Donne reads in the body God's great love for the material the ravages of the Fall God's redemptive action in Christ and in the lives of the saints and the literal and figurative deaths that serve as gateways to resurrection and eschatological fulfillment Giacomo Meyerbeer Marco Clemente Pellegrini, 2008-10-01 This Guide has resulted from years of research on the papers and music of Giacomo Meyerbeer and aims to provide a bibliographical aid and point of reference for further research The first part presents the private papers connected to the composer and his principal librettist Eugène Scribe both archival and printed with working papers and correspondence as found in Berlin Paris and some of the famous libraries of the world The body of Part 2 draws together all the known resources on Meyerbeer's life and historical reputation from full scale biographies and entries in reference books through critical discussions to website resources to records of symposia The third part provides material about his background with its unique mixture of Jewish and Prussian elements the powerful role of the city of Berlin in his life and work The fourth part lists bibliographic material for Meyerbeer's music looking at his operas grouped as German Italian and French with each individual entry providing a record of the scores available both modern and historical the various arrangements made from the operas during the heyday of their popularity reviews of modern performances discography and bibliography of studies and publications pertinent to the wider cultural and historical contexts of the works The next two sections constitute an extended record of material pertinent to the contemporaries of Meyerbeer In the fifth section are select bibliographies of composers authors artists performers politicians those who played some part in the composer's life or anyone of significance in his wider contemporary circumstances This is continued in the sixth part where the cultural and aesthetic elements of the composer's milieu or life in the theatre during seventy years of the nineteenth century are listed The seventh part adds a bibliography of social and historical background where the incidental issues of Judaism in nineteenth century Europe and the wider political historical and geographical circumstances of Meyerbeer's life his relentless travelling and closely recorded experiences in Germany France Italy Belgium England and Austria The eighth section provides a thematic key to this extensive material Part 9 provides an extended tripartite series of lists of the published scores arrangements and some special studies of Meyerbeer over the period 1820 to 2005 in alphabetical chronological and thematic ordering The last two sections furnish the modern equivalent of this record of Meyerbeer and his compositions

G. Saur Editorial Staff,2006-01-10 Women and War Jean Bethke Elshtain,1995-07-15 Jean Elshtain examines how the myths of Man as Just Warrior and Woman as Beautiful Soul serve to recreate and secure women's social position as noncombatants and men's identity as warriors Elshtain demonstrates how these myths are undermined by the reality of female bellicosity and sacrificial male love as well as the moral imperatives of just wars The Justice of War Richard Hall,2019-11-06 The Justice of War Its Foundations in Ethics and Natural Law puts normative ethical theory at the forefront in its discussion of the justice of war Situating the modern theory of just war in its historical context Richard A S Hall gives full attention to natural law a mainstay of just war theory Hall considers the American philosopher Josiah Royce's implicit theory of just war with its suggestion of a fourth component of just war theory in addition to jus ad bellum jus in bello and jus post bellum namely jus ad pacem justice law for or about peace concerning the prevention of war and the maintenance of peace This book addresses and answers affirmatively the following questions raised by just war theory Can just war theory be rationally defended against its realpolitik critics Can there be such a thing as a just or moral war The book aims at showing the doubters and critics that just war theory is a viable alternative to both the political realism of realpolitik and pacifism In brief war can be morally justified though under very restrictive conditions John Dryden David J. Latt,Samuel Holt Monk,1976 Landscape and Englishness ,2006-01-01 In the papers collected in this the first volume of the Spatial Practices series Englishness is reflected in the spaces it occupies or dwells in Broadly influenced by a renewed and growing interest in questions of cultural identity its emergence in Victorian theories and fictions of nationality and the new cultural geography the papers cover a rich variety of spaces and places which have been appropriated for cultural meanings the rural countryside and farmland of the Home Counties in the early nineteenth century as Arcadian idyll in Cobbett as the land to die for in war propaganda and as nostalgia for a unified organic English culture in Lawrence Morton and Priestley's travel writing but also in the Shell Tourist Guides to motoring in rural England English moorland the sacred geographies of monuments in Hardy and others the traditional seaside deconstructed in Martin Parr's photography and the sea as English Victorian imperial territory and its symbolic breezes in Froude's travel writing The English landscape is also a paradigm for the description of other places in D H Lawrence's travel writing or for the colonial territory itself in Rushdie's writing India a displacement of other landscapes This collection of papers examines the assumption that constructions of Goethe in English Derek Glass, Martin H.

Jones, 2005 This bibliography was commissioned by the English Goethe Society as a contribution to the celebration in 1999 of the 250th anniversary of Goethe's birth. It sets out to record translations of his works into English that have been published in the twentieth century up to and including material published in that anniversary year. It aims to serve as wide a constituency as possible: be it as a simple reference tool for tracing a translation of a given work or as a documentary source for specialized studies of Goethe reception in the English speaking world. The work records publications during the century not merely translations that originated during this period. It includes numerous reprintings of older material as well as some belated first publications of translations from the nineteenth century. It shows how frequent and how long enduring was the recourse of publishers and anthologists to a Goethe Victorian in diction, a signal factor in perceptions and misperceptions. Derek Glass was putting the finishing touches to the bibliography at the time of his sudden death in March 2004. Colleagues at Kings College London have edited the final manuscript which is now published jointly by the English Goethe Society and the Modern Humanities Research Association both as a worthy commemoration of Goethe's anniversary and as a tribute to Derek himself.
