5 pages | 1091 words

Going to school can offer many experiences. We are taught that we must do well in school so we can finish, advance to college, and from there work. However what if we went to college where the scholastic dream indicated more than simply attending your normal classes? What if you not only discovered yourself, but you discovered your spiritual course also? Taking a look at colleges and finding the right one that provides what you require to succeed after graduation can be a lengthy task. There are numerous colleges now, and they all offer something various. Times have altered a lot that we can now attend college online. When reading Arthur F. Holmes book, The concept of a Christian College the 4 primary themes I discovered were; understanding the trainee life, how liberal arts applies to life, how a Christian college can inspire other parts of your education and the outcomes of education with Christian liberal arts. College Life as a Student According to Arthur F. Holmes' book The Idea of a Christian College, many youths go to college or university, and their moms and dads encourage them, without any gripping sense of what college is everything about, beyond tentative professional goals or questionable social goals. (Holmes pg 3). Numerous trainees are going to college due to the fact that they have actually been programmed that way. They appear for class day in and day out, not really sure of the function or indicating behind all of it. University student in this economy need to have a college education to get a task. A lot of trainees become misdirected by outdoors impacts of college life and wind up partying away their tuition cash. The social scene ends up being more crucial when the focus is lost. There is a great deal of stress placed on a brand-new college student from the start of the registration procedure all the way to the class. So how do you select the school and remain on track for success? Looking into a Christian college, you might think, "Why select a Christian college over a secular college?" Its unique atmosphere should support an education that cultivates the imaginative and active integration of faith and knowing, of faith and culture. (Holmes pg 6). With the idea of a Christian college, we have God-given, God-preserved, God-restorable potential, a possible to be established, disciplined, and invested in action to God. In a Christian college gaining our education, we are more than just becoming the future job; we are already molded and placed here for a reason, a reason that God knows and one we journey for self discovery. If we do not work on the entire being while we are expanding our minds and stretching the muscle, then how do we expect to become that person that God has placed us here for. We need to not only focus on our education but on the entire being from the spirit within. Why doesn't this all come easily since we are all made in God's image? It's because we are all human and given free will. The foundation of...

Theology and

Narrative the late Hans W. Frei, 1993-09-23 Hans W Frei 1922 1988 was one of the most influential American theologians of his generation Early in his career he drew attention to the importance of biblical narratives he helped make Karl Barth once again a creative voice in contemporary theology and he served as a model of what his colleague George Lindbeck has called postliberal theology This volume collects ten of Frei's lectures and essays many of them never before published Addressing audiences of theologians biblical scholars and literary critics Frei explores the implications of his work for hermeneutics and Christology and discusses Barth Schleiermacher and his own teacher H Richard Niebuhr William Placher has provided an introduction to Frei's life and work and the volume ends with an essay by George Hunsinger on Frei's significance for theology today This collection provides an unrivaled introduction to Frei's work

Explorations in Christian Theology and Ethics Michelle J. Bartel, 2016-04-22 Engaging variously with the legacy of Paul L Lehmann these essays argue for a reorientation in Christian theology that better honours the formative power of the gospel to animate and shape doctrine and witness as well as ethical and political life The authors explore key themes in Christian theology and ethics forgiveness discernment responsibility spirituality the present day tasks of theology and the role of faith in public life making plain the unabated importance of Lehmann's work at this juncture in contemporary theology The internationally recognized contributors draw crucial connections between the gospel of reconciliation the form of Christian theology and witness and the challenges of contemporary ethical and political reflection This book demonstrates why this close friend of Dietrich Bonhoeffer and author of Ethics in a Christian Context and The Transfiguration of Politics continues to influence generations of theologians in both the English speaking world and beyond

Confessing God John Webster, 2005-11-01 Continuing the project of Word and Church this new collection gathers studies in three areas Webster firstly produces studies on the nature of Christian theology and its relation to Scripture and the confessions of the church He also produces an account of the theological style of the French Dominican theologian Yves Congar In the second part we find studies on dogmatic topics one on the theology of the person of Christ and three on the attributes of God omnipresence holiness and love and veracity

Thirdly and finally Webster studies issues in the doctrine of the church and of Christian practice an account of the nature of the church in terms of visibility and invisibility a study of the meaning of Christian hope and a reflection on gospel freedom Taken together the essays are worked examples of theological theology that is Christian theology which takes its rise in the Christian confession of the gospel which it seeks to hear celebrate and commend Scribe of the Kingdom Aidan Nichols,1994 Essays Towards a New Theology Robert Mackintosh,1889 Modern Christian Thought: The twentieth century James C. Livingston,Francis Schüssler Fiorenza, This widely acclaimed introduction to modern Christian thought formerly published by Prentice Hall provides full scholarly accounts of the major movements and thinkers theologians and philosophers in the Christian tradition since the eighteenth century Enlightenment together with solid historical background and critical assessments This second edition deals with the entire modern period in both Europe and America and is the first to include extensive treatment of modern Catholic thinkers Evangelical thought and Black and Womanist theology Social Theory and Christian Thought (RLE Social Theory) Werner Stark,2014-08-07 Almost all the great religious thinkers of the past have developed a social as well as theological doctrine but their sociology was as a rule merely implicit in their work or at best half formulated so that careful study and analysis is needed to bring it out This is the task which Dr Stark has set himself in the present essays He has searched the writings of St Augustine Paschal Newman and Kierkegaard for the sociological ideas they contain and shows that their social philosophies were varied profound fascinating and surprisingly definite Dr Stark seeks the theological conceptions present in and basic to the teachings of some outstanding secular sociologists economists and philosophers such as Adam Smith Kant Hegel Marx the Darwinians Bergson Scheler and Meinecke and proves that their systems were built around a religious centre even though they themselves were at times unaware of it Modern Christian Thought, Second Edition James C. Livingston,Francis Schüssler Fiorenza, This widely acclaimed introduction to modern Christian thought formerly published by Prentice Hall provides full scholarly accounts of the major movements and thinkers theologians and philosophers in the Christian tradition since the eighteenth century Enlightenment together with solid historical background and critical assessments The Routledge Companion to Modern Christian Thought Chad Meister,James Beilby,2013-10-28 This Companion provides an unrivalled view of the field of modern Christian thought from the Enlightenment to the twentieth century and beyond Written by an outstanding team of theologians and philosophers of religion it covers the following topics within Christian thought Key figures and influencers Central events and movements Major theological issues and key approaches to Christian Theology Recent topics and trends in Christian thought Each entry is clear and accessible making the book the ideal resource for students of Christian thought and history and philosophy of religion and a valuable reference for professional theologians and philosophers Essays in Public Theology Dirkie Smit,2007-04-01 What is the role of the church in society What role did the church play in South Africa during apartheid in the struggle against apartheid and during the period of transformation The essays collected and published in this volume deal with questions such as these They are all occasional pieces They were written over two decades and reflect the times in which they originated always intended for specific audiences always addressing issues of the particular moment

Evil and Creation David Luy,Matthew Levering,George Kalantzis,2020-12-02 My help comes from the Lord maker of heaven and earth Evil is an intruder upon a world created by God and declared good Scripture emphasizes this laments are regularly juxtaposed with declarations of God as creator But evil is not merely a problem for the doctrine of creation Rather the doctrine of creation provides a hopeful response to evil In Evil and Creation David J Luy Matthew Levering and George Kalantzis collect essays investigating how the doctrine of creation relates to moral and physical evil Essayists pursue philosophical and theological analyses of evil rather than neatly solving the problem of evil itself Including contributions from Constantine Campbell Paul Blowers and Paul Gavrilyuk this volume draws upon biblical and patristic voices to produce constructive theology considering topics ranging from vanity in Ecclesiastes and its patristic interpreters to animal suffering Readers will gain a broader appreciation of evil and how to faithfully respond to it as well as a renewed hope in God as creator and judge

Theology in the Present Age Christopher Ben Simpson,Steven D. Cone,2013-08-23 This volume of essays centers on the theme of doing Christian theology in the present postmodern context a consistent theme of the teaching of John D Castelein The work will celebrate and honor John s years of service by representing reflections of his teaching in the thought of his students and colleagues The essays range over such topics as theological reflections on the postmodern philosophical themes the relations between Christian theology and culture the contributions of philosophical hermeneutics for Christian theology and the challenges of engaging in ministry in a postmodern context The seventeen contributors to the volume are former students and both present and former colleagues involved in various ministries be they in a college setting or in a local church
